Fifty Years of Masonry

By Joe E. Herriford, P. M.

CHAPTER 21.

Grand Master A. R. Chinn rounded out his fourth year of service at the thirty-eighth annual communication, which was held in the city of Carrollton, beginning August 16, 1904, and refused to be a candidate for re-election. During his service he had accomplished several things which had a real, tangible value. He had, above all other things, reduced the workings of the Relief Department to the most satisfactory and practical state in its history. He had directed the revision of the constitution and had collected three hundred dollars of the amount due from the shortage of Past Grand Treasurer Bruce, whose financial troubles had occurred several years previous and to which we have previously alluded. The World Masonic Congress held at St. Louis in 1904, was also an achievement in which he took no little pride and which reflected his ability to do things upon a big scale. In stepping down from the Grand East even before the rule limiting the tenure of office effected him, he showed a rare degree of unselfishness and a fine spirit toward his brethren. His last annual address was a brilliant resume of his efforts and was full of profound Masonic enthusiasm reflecting the ideals of the old Masonic fathers, Clark, Lawton and Dickson, at whose feet he had learned his first lessons of the craft. Carrollton proved to be a most happy place for the assembling of the members. The local craft was at this time harmoniously directed under the amiable and courageous leadership of Brother W. L. Elliott, now deceased, but at that time one of the brightest lights of the fraternity in points of young, Christian manhood. The mayor of the city delivered a most cordial address of welcome and was responded to by Brother R. T. Coles, Grand Treasurer, in a most delightful manner. The Grand Lodge was soon down to hard work upon plans which the Grand Master had carefully laid out in advance. There was not much of constructive operations, but a great deal of refining and finishing.

The brethren were delighted to learn that the Masons of Kansas City had purchased a commodious building to be used for a Temple and that the same had been consecrated during the year with imposing ceremonies in which visiting grand masters had participated. In his annual address the Grand Master had recommended that the Heronides of Jericho be asked to hold their annual meetings at the same time and place with the Grand Lodge. It was doubtless an oversight that he did not include the Order Eastern Star and when this omission was pointed out it brought up such dissension as finally resulted in the matter being passed over without action. Our Grand Lodge fortunately has at all times exercised great caution in all matters which might create a false impression of our idea of jurisdiction. It has never assumed any monitory rights toward either the female rites or those so-called higher degrees among the brethren. It has at all times encouraged both and upon a few occasions has been compelled to break up contentions among them, but it has never attempted to influence their actions so long as peace and quiet prevailed. This is wholly attributable to the solid balance and conservatism of the ruling spirits of the Grand Lodge who have never been able to be stampeded or moved by impulsiveness. Thus a great deal of trouble has been averted and the kindred rites have fared all the better. Many grand lodges of the country have made the mistake of assuming the right to control the affairs of associate and connected bodies and in no case has such meddling ever produced anything short of ludicrous confusion. So long as a dignified and reverential oversight is practiced toward the symbolic degrees it is very likely that the mere example will be sufficient to render all necessary control over the allied organizations, granting that these are recognized as such. In the election of grand officers Brother Charles G. Williams, who had distinguished himself as secretary of the Relief Department, was the unanimous choice of the brethren for Grand Master. He was one of the most aggressive young Masons of the jurisdiction, with fine constructive ability, excellent scholarship and business tact. He most capably carried out his own and the Grand Master's ideals in perfecting the work of the charity service of the Grand Lodge and established a system that made it very easy for his successor, Brother W. W. Fields, who had been his assistant during several years, and who still most acceptably fills the position. Brother M. S. Bryant became Deputy Grand Master; Brother Sonny Vaughn was advanced to the West, and after a spirited contest Brother Thomas A. Jordan, a high class man and Mason of the city of St. Louis, was elected to the South. Bloomville was the choice for the next meeting place.

MID-WEST Tailors, Cleaners and Dyers

Little do millions of people realize that the garments they wear may be laden with germs which carry and spread disease of every kind and nature. A moment of earnest reflection upon this subject will at once disclose the fact that one's outer clothing comes in almost continuous contact with germ elements that have their source of entry to the body through the clothes we wear.

Pressing clothes by hand with the half rotten sponge or dirty press cloth is adding fuel to the fire of contagion, but to have your clothes pressed the Hoffman sanitary way is positive assurance that they will be thoroughly sterilized. Every square inch of your garment will be treated with clean hot dry steam without scorching, burning or glossing it. This process of pressing also raises the nap, brings out the color, sets, cures and dries the fabric, producing a newness in appearance as well as lengthening the life of your wardrobe.

Boards of Health and Physicians have time and time again recommended and endorsed the Hoffman Sanitary Method of pressing wearing apparel. And the particle of information that Clothing Manufacturers have taken the precaution to Hoffman Press and Sterilize their product is more than ample justification to warrant you in patronizing us. Eventually you will realize the immense value of the service we offer, so why not begin now to enjoy it?
