BEVIER, MO.
 Rev. J. H. Smith, Pastor.

Rock Chapel has closed her meeting and had a wonderful success. It was the first one that had been carried on since the church was organized and it was carried on by Sister Susan Duncan of Kansas City. Twenty precious souls were added to the church, ten happily converted. Sister Duncan will leave here and go to Callao tomorrow and carry on meeting a week at the Baptist church. Sister Duncan is greatly loved in Bevier and her fame and magnetic power has gone out far and wide. Even the white people of the town love her and on the closing night there was as many on the outside as there were on the inside. Her power is so magnetic that it draws people from far away.

PROFESSOR LEE SPEAKS.

Tuskegee, Ala.—The Ninth Annual Session of the Tuskegee Institute Summer School for teachers opened Monday, June 10th, with a registration of 443 teachers, representing 14 states: Alabama, Kentucky, North Carolina, Kansas, South Carolina, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Texas, Illinois, Virginia and Tennessee. The regular schedule of classes was followed from the opening day.

Attendance.

This has been the banner year of the Summer School. The registration has reached 571. We have had the largest Negro Summer School in the country, and one of the largest Summer Schools in the entire South.

Addresses.

The opening address was delivered by the principal, Dr. Robert R. Moton. He welcomed all the visiting teachers to the institute founded by Dr. Washington.

Prof. J. R. E. Lee, principal of the Lincoln High School, Kansas City, delivered the address Friday. Mr. Lee founded the Tuskegee Summer School nine years ago, while he was director of the Academic Department. He spoke on "The Value of the Public School." He said the hope of the race was in the common schools. We have enough colleges, but we need better common schools. This means better teachers and better teaching. Mr. Lee advocated many changes in the present day curriculum and in present day methods of teaching.
