Mrs. Hattie Bradshaw left Tuesday night to attend the Dedicatory services of Poro College at St. Louis, Mo.

CARD OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Smith, 2420 Woodland avenue, wish to thank their many friends, clubs, and organizations for the kindness, words of sympathy and flowers during Mrs. Smith's recent illness.

Mr. N. S. Adkins, the bustling Deputy for the American Woodmen, who has just recovered from two weeks' illness, is seen each day on the streets shaking hands with his many friends. Mr. Adkins was instrumental in making Kansas City safe for Woodcraft and his many friends are glad to see him again at his post.

Prof. W. H. Harrison, Principal of the Attucks School, and his splendid corps of teachers again demonstrated that they are ever on the job when it comes to Philanthropic acts last Thursday when they gathered together money and provisions amounting to $32.00 and sent to the following institutions: Wheatley-Provident Hospital, Orphans' Home and Associated Charities. Would that more would follow their example.

KANSAS CITY, KAN.

By Mrs. Effie Grant Hardy.

Kansas City, Kansas, is certainly showing her loyalty to the boys "over there" by sending Christmas boxes. Our representative saw boxes being sent to Messrs. Banks, Stanley and Hutt L. Robinson.

The First Baptist Church held Thanksgiving service at 11:00 a. m. Rev. Boren officiated. In the evening a Musicales was given at the Church, 625 Nebraska avenue, and a large audience was present.

Mr. and Mrs. William Jackson spent Thanksgiving in Leavenworth, Kan.

Rev. and Mrs. A. T. Parker of Port Scott, Kan., after spending several days with their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Bouldin went to Lawrence, Kan., to visit another daughter.

Mrs. Marguerite Brown was the happy recipient of a letter from her brother, John Banks, who is serving his country "over there." Mr. Banks writes that he is well and would be delighted with the country if he could move all of his friends over there.

"New York City could do no more." That was the sentiment expressed by Mrs. Ruth Bradley Sanford at the luncheon given by the L'Allegro Club. Six tables spread with hand embroidered luncheon sets were laden with a menu consisting of roast turkey, mashed potatoes, and peas, hot rolls, celery stalks filled with cream cheese, lemon ice cake and cafe noir. Mrs. Sanford as guest of honor was seated at the table in front of which was a beautiful bouquet of white bridal roses. To say that she is happy is expressing it mildly. She is still the same Ruth Bradley and, although she will reside in the East, the West will always claim and love her.

Mrs. Maco Faulkner of 1908 N. 6th street, is happy because of a letter received from her brother, Wayman Stanley. Wayman was one of Western University's best halfbacks and we can judge the kind of work he is doing "over there."

Thanksgiving services at the Metropolitan Temple. A wonderful sermon was preached by Rev. D. A. Holmes and many members and friends were in attendance.

Mrs. Maud Beck is planning a return to Topeka, Kan., next week. Mrs. Beck was Miss Glover of 531 Nebraska avenue, before her marriage to Mr. Earl Beck, Principal Director at the "Y" at Camp Funston.

Mrs. Luella Scott, 510 Nebraska avenue, heard from her son, Sergt. Hutt L. Robinson, and he writes that he expects to return home soon.

Mrs. W. B. Holmes entertained the Merry Matrons at the residence of Mrs. Thos. H. Dickson, 1960 N. 6th street, November 23.

Mrs. Tillie Johnson and daughter, Mrs. Storey, returned this week from the Conference held in Mexico, Mo.

NEGRO DEMOCRACY CELEBRATES

ing—Democracy, and commend to his aid—Him who knoweth all understanding.

The prolonged oration tendered Dr. Wm. J. Thompkins was a fitting evidence of their appreciation of his merits as an organizer in successfully bringing together these workers and men and so placing Negro Democracy on a higher plane than it has ever been before in Kansas City. He has a wide range of vision and is quite in harmony with the spirit of the times; for he is a great student of the new and modern Democracy as it effects the Negro.

Felix H. Payne took for his subject "The Negro in the World War," and in very forcible and elegant language expressed in the most philosophic strain, with a magnificent splendor of diction convinced his audience that he was a student of Modern History and that he is not only found in the procession with modern historians, but is keeping step with the march. His discourse was all that could be expected and was filled with gems of oratory which called forth from the audience a series of rousing applause which lasted several minutes. Other very fine remarks were made.

Prof. J. L. F. Talton, old line Democrat, delivered a masterly address on Our Organization. His address covered the scope and work of the things accomplished. He is regarded as a strong factor in both city and state.

O. J. Brooks presented a forceful argument on the Adherence to Democracy, his argument was magic and he deserves to be termed the little electric wire of the organization.

Dr. A. D. Bradbury sang a baritone solo which brought forth tremendous applause and called for an encore.

Dr. L. M. Tillman's address on the "Significance of Recent Election" was a beautiful analysis and displayed the fact that he had a most excellent comprehension of the future.

Ike Mitchell's discourse on Old Bourbon Democracy was a revelation to many of the converts and older members. His characteristics and manner of discourse was enjoyed and he displayed that "brevity is the soul of wit."

John Bailey in "reviewing the past" pictured the heights obtained but laid much stress upon the depth from which we have come. It was indeed a grand old story which will not be forgotten.

Tom Bibbs' discourse on the Future of the Eleventh Ward" was timely. He showed that under the present arrangement of things that the bad showing the Fourth, Fifth, Sixth and Eleventh precincts had made, was due in both the last city, and recent county elections to the fact that the white men who still dictate the policy of the wards are not working in harmony with the men who can deliver the votes.

Wm. Maupin's address on "Our Friends" was true to the letter, and appreciated. One was thoroughly convinced who they were when he had finished.

Walter Pritchett's discourse on the "Future of the Fifth Ward" was a new revelation. When he shall have regulated the Fifth Ward he will have accomplished a wonderful work.

Prof. C. H. X. Stewart gave a fine analysis on "What the Party Should Do by 1920." His philosophy was exceptional. His theory exceedingly plausible. The results are yet to be realized.

Madison Weaver, the old Missouri War Horse, delivered a discourse on the all popular subject, "Should Missouri Go Dry?" When he had finished, the audience was convinced that Missouri should be everything but dry.

The sumptuous repast was prepared by Mr. McKnight, proprietor of the Cafe De Luxe who spared no pains in making this banquet a success in every particular. The room was beautifully decorated with flags, bunting and ferns which added very much to the splendor of the occasion.

Our favorite and popular physician, Dr. E. B. Ramsey, is due much credit for his activity in bringing about the success of the banquet. Mr. C. F. Jackson and Mr. Lemuel Shephard rendered elegant service in the selection of the good things that were served.

The following menu was served:
Celery Olives Green Onions
Tomato Salad Cocktails
Roast Young Turkey

Cranberry Sauce
Mashed Potatoes
Lettuce Bits Green Peas
Country Boiled Ham
Budweiser
Wine Punch
Black Coffee Cigars
The audience closed by singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee" which ended an occasion long to be remembered in the hearts of the people of Kansas City.
