While in Chicago the past week, the Editor was pleased to have come in contact with Lieutenant Edward Pladger, nephew of our own Dr. Middleton H. Lambright of 1508 E. 15th street. Edward is studying medicine at Chicago University and his ambition is to become as efficient and successful as his uncle whose reputation is known at home and throughout the country as being one of the many physicians who have really 'made good'.

Betty & Sam's Little Corner

THEY SAY

—That the fellow with a small mind usually has small ideas.

—That some people who make the most sound have the least amount of sense.

—That love which will survive a new bride's cooking will last forever.

—That a "Nigger hater" is not only an enemy to Democracy but a curse to himself.

—That freedom comes with opportunity and you can't get the first without the latter. No, indeed.

—That policy writers are so prevalent that everybody with a book and pencil is mistaken for one.

—That the Negro who will not pay an honest subscription bill is not worth while. Hush, Sam, don't be so rough.

—That if you haven't started putting in your coal, brother, you'd better commence getting busy. Don't let it be said: too late, too late.

—That some certain married women around town are going to lose some mighty good husbands all on account of having as they term it—a good time.

—That the lawyers are chuckling over the large number of June weddings because they hold the larger number of June brides, the larger number of divorce suits later. 'Tain't so is it girls?

ly in love with his sweetheart that he dressed her up and sent her off for a vacation. About ten days after her departure, he received a telegram: "Sorry to inform you, I have just married. Thanks for your kindness." He's a sorry looking fellow now.

—That a Negro who recently got married forgot to lay away enough to stock up his pantry so he and his bride are now taking their meals with friends until he gets to going again. Don't forget the eats boys; don't forget the eats.

—Call Fairfax 380 or Fairfax 4422.
