HOWARD UNIVERSITY NEWS.

By Emmett J. Scott, Secretary-Treasurer, Howard University, Washington, D. C.

Howard's New Football Coach.

Washington, D. C.—At Howard University this year the chief topic of the day is centered in the new coach, Dr. W. E. Morrison. It is true that he needs no lengthy essay introducing him to our host of friends, yet it seems but sportmanlike to give our friends a short resume of his athletic achievements in order that our minds may be refreshed as to his abilities and to give us a general idea of his general scheme for "Old Howard's Pass" into the realm of athletics. Prior to the war, all eyes and thoughts were turned in the direction of Bill Brown and Ed Morrison, the two Colored members of Tuft's College eleven when that varsity team defeated Harvard and played the Princeton University team to a standstill, only to be beaten in the last minute of play by a long drop kick. Much speculation was indulged in as to the outcome of that game, and more so because of the attitude of Princeton toward the two Colored boys on the Tufts team, and grave doubts were entertained by the Boston papers that the boys would escape serious injury. It was a grim and determined struggle which these lads can tell of. The same grit and determined struggle which these lads can tell of. The same grit and determination required to play in this historic game we feel assured Dr. Morrison will impart to our Howard eleven on when they go upon the field of football battles with any of our opponents.

Dr. Morrison has a long and enviable record in sports which most any follower of sports in New England will tell you of off hand. He began his career of prominence at Everett High School with those never to be forgotten baseball and football teams which won national prestige of not being defeated in four years, and only scored on in football once in three years and twice in four years. In football his kicking and general playing caused him to be chosen for the mythical All-Interscholastic Teams and as the best line man that ever donned a moleskin in High School. His record in baseball as a batter shows an average well over 300 for four years and in track and basketball with Y.

M. C. A. teams, the high schools not fostering these sports.

In 1915 he entered Tufts College and confined his efforts to football. He made the first varsity team his Freshman year, playing against such teams as Harvard, Dartmouth, Princeton and Syracuse, and such men as Spear of Dartmouth, Dadmon of Harvard, Hoog of Princeton and Schlaster and Trigg of Syracuse.

His coaching career began at his high school with the baseball team, bringing his team from last position in the school league. That fall he took charge of the football team, winning four and tying one game, resigning in the face of a long list of petitioned names on the return of the High School Faculty and immediately going to coach Boston College on October 13, 1917, with Charley Brickley as First Assistant to him, Boston College, recognizing his ability as a coach. He has worked with O'Donnell of Holy Cross, Brickley of Harvard, Bob Fowler, the noted Marathon runner; Whelan of Tufts, Cavanaugh of Dartmouth, Sweeney of the Boston Braves, of whom he is an admirer and student of his style of play. He was in charge of the 15th Battalion athletics at Camp Dix, where his boxing teams included such men as Eddie Dorsey, Bill Tate, and Jack Thompson.

In 1918, he decided to finish dentistry at Howard University and completed his work in 1920, confining all of his time to study. Howard's team will bear watching. Coach Morrison asks the support, encouragement and active co-operation of all Howard Alumni and friends. He will "deliver the goods." He hopes to have associated with him as assistant coaches such Howard men as Dr. Camper, Pinderhughes, Dr. Brown, Carter, Brice, and others.
