We would like to see two or three good republicans announce themselves as candidates for the United States senate from Missouri, and then go to work and make a thorough canvass of the state. There is a great deal of work to be done if a victory is to be won this year, and the men who are posing as leaders of the party ought to get out and do some of it. We don't want to see any candidates for the senate coming to the front after the battle is over.

The census enumeration for 1890 was as follows:

|                         |        |
|-------------------------|--------|
| Clark township.....     | 1,646  |
| Jefferson township..... | 2,560  |
| Liberty township.....   | 1,200  |
| Marion township.....    | 1,846  |
| Moreau township.....    | 1,736  |
| Osage township.....     | 1,796  |
| Jefferson City.....     | 5,271  |
| Total.....              | 15,575 |

The returns for 1890 will show an increase of about 5,000 in county and city.

Disembodied opinions, however good, are as useless in this world as disembodied spirits, and must be clothed within some form to reach the evil as we face it in our political life. The vote of the church, therefore, as well as its teachings and opinions, must attack this mighty wrong in our political life.—Mary T. Lathrop.

A recent letter to the governor of the state from Frank H. Betton, Kansas state commissioner of the bureau of labor and industrial statistics shows an increase during the last five years of 52 per cent. in the number of men employed in the manufacturing industries, and a gain in the population of fifty-seven per cent, since the enactment of prohibition in 1880.

AN EX-RUN-SELLER'S TALK.

A man named Stacy, the owner of a splendid drinking saloon in New York, signed the pledge lately and closed his house. Hearing that a party of young men had formed themselves into a temperance society, he went to them and gave them his experience as a rumrunner. We repeat some of his recollections: "I sold liquor for 11 years—long enough for me to see the beginning and ending of its effects. I have seen a man take his first glass of liquor in my place, and afterwards fill the grave of a suicide. I have seen man after man, wealthy and educated, come into my saloon, who now cannot buy a dinner. I can recall twenty customers worth one hundred thousand dollars, to five hundred thousand dollars, who are now without money or friends."—Banner and Herald.

I can tell you how to stop pauperism in this country in four words. "Stop the drink traffic." Liquor is responsible for eight-ninths of the pauperism of America.—Rev. O. C. Brown.

A fine illustration of the growing popularity of women as public speakers is the fact that two of the most important courses of lectures at Chautauqua this season are to be given by women, while the address on the greatest of Chautauqua occasions, "Recognition Day," is to be delivered by Alice Freeman Palmer, former president of Wellesley college.—Balletin.

The Fourth of July at Aurora Springs.

The day before the Fourth the people began to come in by wagon, hack and buggy loads. The restaurant men and women were all busily engaged in fitting up their stand and preparing refreshments for the thousands of thirsty people expected the next day. There were 20 stands of refreshments with a number of other amusements. Harry Hill's great exhibition of Persian and Arabian flying pegasuses was one of the great attractions.

The Fourth opened out with a beautiful morn, a lovely northeast breeze refreshed the air and gave new life and energy to all on the ground and those on their way to the Springs, at dawn the cannon boomed thirteen times. By 12 o'clock there were at least 5,000 people on the ground. The park company had made all the regular regulations to carry out the program by appointing all needful committeemen and officers to make the Fourth a grand success at the Springs.

Mayor Hunter and Dr. D. H. Allen were grand marshals, with P. T. Bowman, assistant.

The different lodges of I. O. O. F. in Central Missouri were in attendance, and after their march, were addressed by the Rev. Ed. Hawkins and S. N. Musser. Capt. Holmes, with his drill corps of young ladies of Jefferson City was a new and grand feature in the program and much honor and credit is due Capt. Holmes and the 16 beautiful, accomplished young ladies of Jeff City. The Capt. gave two exhibitions during the day to the entire satisfaction of the large company assembled to witness it.

Uncle Abe Fulkerson being appointed master of ceremonies, first introduced Rey. Howard Jackson, a minister of the gospel for 54 years, who is 82 years old, to ask the blessings of the All Wise Providence, after which the Declaration of Independence was read by Master Ralph Harvey, a seven-year-old youth, son of Robert S. Harvey of Aurora Springs, who, after the reading, presented Master Ralph with a gold medal as a memento of the youngest boy in the United States who ever read the Declaration of Independence in public on the celebration of the 4th.

After the reading of the Declaration of Independence, Hous. James E. Hazel of California, and E. C. Swalen of Tusculum, entertained the audience an hour in their usual good style.

Capt. Harvey has a company of 16 boys who drill like young soldiers, and are all well skilled in music, with their drum, fife, harp, tambourine and bones. The little fellows make quite a racket and are stimulating other youths to exert themselves to compete for supremacy.

Thomas Cook, with his silver band gave the large concourse of people the best of music throughout the day.

The town board and park company deserve the greatest amount of praise for the many needed improvements made preparatory to the Fourth. Notwithstanding the drought and general scarcity of water in the country, the Aurora Springs afforded a bountiful supply of the best of water and could have supplied 100,000 people with the aqua pura.

With the energy and foresight of the present town board the probability is that many other picnic and public meetings will take place this summer and fall. The Springs, as now arranged, is one of the most pleasant points in Central Missouri for public meetings and picnics.

Yours truly,

SEANON.

WITH THE SPIRIT OF '76

Sons of Revolutionary Soldiers Have Banded Themselves Together.

Norwood Institute was thrown open last evening for the use of the Washington branch of the society of the Sons of the Revolution by Professor and Mrs. Cabell. Two preliminary meetings of the society had been held, but the session of last night was regarded as the first regular meeting, those coming in at that time being accepted as charter members. There are now 120 names on the roll, and thirty-five applications have yet to be considered. With those counted, the membership of this branch will rate as third in the list of societies throughout the country.

As the members and invited guests arrived they were shown into the large drawing-room, where they were received by Mrs. and Miss Cabell and the reception committee, composed of Gen. Breckenridge, Doctor Toner, and Gen. H. V. Boynton. It lacked a few minutes of 9 o'clock when Senator Sherman, standing on the platform at the south bay-window, as the presiding officer called the meeting to order, there being present upwards of sixty persons, of whom twenty were ladies. He said that he approved of any movement that would perpetuate the memory of heroes of the revolutionary war, and hailed with pleasure the organization composed of men and women of the descendants of revolutionary sires. The women might not have done any of the fighting, but they took an equally important part in looking after the homes that the men might absent themselves to in their country's cause.

Prof. G. Brown Goode, the secretary, explained the objects of the society. He outlined the purposes of the association in a short speech. He said that the society had existed fourteen years, and was started in California July 4, 1876, by fifty descendants, who took part in a demonstration at that time, meeting later and forming the society.

Among those present were: Senator Sherman, Gen. M. J. Wright and wife, Col. T. A. Reeve, Dr. J. N. Toner, Prof. J. W. Cabell, Mrs. and Miss Cabell, Gen. Geo. B. Hibbard, Prof. J. B. Goode, Gen. J. C. Breckenridge and daughter, J. P. Lathrop, J. T. Dubois, W. T. Robinson, John J. Hasted, Dr. McDonald, R. H. Spencer, Dr. Lee, wife and daughter, S. T. Albert, Col. Charles W. Combs, Gen. E. A. Corman, W. P. Wether, all of the Massachusetts society; Dr. Henry E. Robbins, F. H. Robinson, E. Douglas King, Capt. B. C. DuBois, A. Howard Clark and wife, Hon. J. J. Hemphill, Hon. Ben Butterworth and lady, Gen. H. C. Boynton, Miss James, Henry Wise Garnett, Hon. Charles H. Grosvenor and wife, Dr. Gordon, Major Davis, Marshall McDonald and Gen. Joseph Wheeler.

Miss Anna Heston visited friends in this vicinity last week.

ELSTON ITEMS.

Mr. Octavus Gouge and Maggie Thomas were married in Elston church on Sunday, the 30th inst., by the Rev. N. G. Thompson of Montrose, Mo.

The town of Elston produced a cutting scrape on last Friday night between Tolber Leach and John Edwards, in which each received several severe cuts and will be laid up for several days.

The town of Elston came very near being painted red on two occasions last week.

The blackberry crop will fall if it does not rain in a few days. The apple crop will be poor in this vicinity, and potatoes and vegetables will be short, owing to the dry weather.

The heaviest crop this year will be democratic candidates and politicians. The drought seems to have no effect on them.

Mr. Will Suitley will commence threshing this week.

James Stapleton, the census enumerator, was in Elston Friday finishing up his work in the township.

The oat crop in this neighborhood is an entire failure, owing to the ravages of the oat louse.

CENTRETOWN ITEMS.
