Postoffice Department—Dead Letter Office.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 1, 1890.

Over six million pieces of mail matter are sent annually to the dead letter office by reason of incorrect, illegible, or deficient address, insufficient postage, insecure inclosing, whereby matter mailed become separated from the envelope or wrapper, or the failure to be called for or delivered to the person addressed. This is a daily average of over twenty thousand pieces.

Of these the greater portion either not called for at the postoffice to which they are directed, or in case of free delivery offices, the addresses cannot be found, notwithstanding every known means is resorted to on the part of the postal officials to effect delivery.

Matter sent to the dead letter office, which cannot be delivered to the person addressed, is required to be opened in its treatment for the purpose of return to the sender, and if the name and address of the sender be not shown or cannot be ascertained from the contents, and it contains no valuable inclosure, it must be destroyed.

Letters opened and found to contain any inclosure of obvious value are entered upon proper records, and, of such, those which do not disclose sufficient information to enable them to be returned are filed, subject to reclamation upon proper application and identification.

Letters which contain no inclosure of obvious value are not recorded.

Packages and parcels are recorded and where they do not disclose the name and address of the owner are filed; if not called for or claimed within two years they are disposed of at public auction and the proceeds covered into the United States treasury.

A large proportion of the packages and parcels sent to the dead letter office fail to be restored to the owners because of the absence on the wrappers or inclosures of anything to indicate ownership thereof.

Information as to the character and nature of the matter thus received at the dead letter office, and the conditions and influences which occasion its failure to reach the persons to whom the senders designed it to go may be of interest, and the mere statement of it carry with it suggestions which may serve the public in its exercise of postal privileges.

Of the unclaimed and undelivered mail matter received at the dead letter office during the past fiscal year, four hundred and fifty-one thousand were letters misdirected.

Ninety-eight thousand were letters to domestic addresses, "held for postage."

One hundred and sixty-five thousand were letters mainly addressed to persons in care of hotels.

Forty-two thousand were letters to fictitious addresses, and principally correspondence relating to what is known as "green goods" or "saw dust" swindles, etc., many of them containing money with orders for the purchase of these fraudulent goods.

A large proportion were those upon which the required amount of postage to entitle them to transmission through the mails had not been prepaid, insufficient payment being due to improper inclosing, whereby a higher rate of postage was required.

Twenty-eight thousand contained money amounting in all to $43,612.00.

Four thousand had inclosures of postal notes in small sums under $5, aggregating $5,300.

Twenty-seven thousand were found to contain drafts, checks, notes, commercial paper, etc., etc., in the sum of $1,471,871.00, while forty-eight thousand contained paid and concealed obligations, receipts evidencing payments of money, deed, mortgages, general miscellaneous papers, etc., etc.

Forty-two thousand contained photographs, one thousand contained articles forbidden to be transmitted through the mails; and eleven thousand upon being opened were found to contain lottery tickets, which, under the term of the law, are declared unmailable.

Five hundred and thirty-one thousand were letters, and forty-one thousand parcels of printed matter, samples, etc., which had been mailed in foreign countries.

Two hundred and fifty thousand were letters, and forty-seven thousand were parcels, books, samples of merchandise, etc.

The inspectors of the penitentiary appointed John N. Steinger, sr., and Mr. Eugene Wilkerson to appraise the property of the penitentiary. We are glad to see Capt. Steinger selected. He is a good man and citizen and thoroughly competent, and will faithfully discharge the duties required of him.

The case of Ike Williams in giving up his wife to husband No. 1 at Centretown last week, was a peculiar incident. After an absence of about five years husband No. 1 called and demanded his wife, and also the wife of Williams for the last two years, or another woman instead. Husband No. 2 and wife made several attempts to supply the demand, but failing, and very much against the will of Mr. Williams and wife, she took her departure for parts unknown with No. 1.

The board of directors of Missouri Central Building and Loan association met Monday evening in the Exchange Bank building and elected the following officers for the first year: John M. Oldham, president. Joseph Weiser, vice-president. Mary C. Faust, secretary. S. W. Cox, treasurer.

The president appointed Capt. H. T. Holmes, H. F. Sarman and Henry Wagner committee on by-laws to report next meeting, Thursday night at probate court room, county court house.

W. F. Scott of South Dakota, was in this city Friday last in search of his wife and little boy. The couple were married some 20 years ago. Mrs. Scott is a niece of Mr. S. P. Dresser of Pleasant Mount, Miller county. She left her husband on the 11th of August, taking with her the youngest child, leaving five or six others with her husband. If Mr. Scott's version is correct he and his children are in a sadly afflicted condition.

The Central Missouri Building and Loan Association has met with remarkable success, and on last Friday an organization was effected and the following gentlemen elected as directors: Henry Schmidt, Henry Wagner, Howard Davis, Joe Weiser, Adolph Artz, Wm. Carter, H. T. Holmes, Chas. Bell, J. M. Oldham, Henry Sarman and S. W. Cox. The board will hold a meeting at an early date to elect a president, secretary and treasurer. The shareholders in the new associations are largely borrowers, and thus its success will be assured from the very outset.

No "Big and Little You," but a clean, unbiased and succinct account of the many thrilling incidents of the civil war by the Boy Spy. Grandly embellished with full page illustrations, correct in every sense, and one of the most attractive books of the age. All "Sons of Veterans" and the "Old Boys" will follow with interest the fortunes of Geno.

Reduced Rates to New York.

Attention is called to the fact that rates to New York City via St. Louis and the Ohio & Mississippi railway are $2 less than via other routes running through cars, while at the same time the high character and efficiency of our train service is fully maintained.

We are therefore able to offer lower rates, combined with a first-class through car service from St. Louis to New York via Washington, Baltimore and Philadelphia; a combination of advantages possessed by no other line. These reductions apply on both first and second class tickets sold at all western points via this line and its principal connections to New York, and holders are entitled to all the privileges usually accorded on tickets of the class purchased; there being no extra charge whatever for passage on limited express trains except for Pullman car accommodations.

Daily lines of Pullman Vestibule sleepers are run by this company from St. Louis to Cincinnati, Louisville, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and New York without change.

Solid vestibule day express with Pullman Buffet Parlor cars to Cincinnati and Louisville.

No change of cars on any train for either passengers or baggage.

When purchasing ask for tickets via the Ohio and Mississippi railway, for sale by agents of connecting lines throughout the entire west, northwest and southwest. For further information inquire of agents as above, or address A. J. Lytle, General Western Passenger Agent, 105 N. Broadway, St. Louis, Mo.
