CONGRESSIONAL.

Second Session.

The bill to repeal all statutes relative to the government of elections and special deputies and the anti-bill were discussed in the United States senate on the 29th, and the house concurrent resolution for the holiday recess from Thursday, December 22 to Wednesday, January 4, was reported favorably. In the house Mr. Durbin, of Illinois, introduced a joint resolution to repeal the law that closes the world's fair on Sunday. No action was taken. Mr. Durbin also introduced a bill asking congress for an appropriation of $200,000 to pay for a national encampment of the army at the World's Columbian exposition.

In the senate the Nicaragua canal bill was favorably reported on the 21st, the option bill was further discussed, and the concurrent resolution for the holiday recess was agreed to. In the house no quorum was present and no business of importance was transacted.

In the senate on the 21st a bill was introduced to enable the people of California and of the territory to form a constitutional and state government and to be admitted into the union on an equal footing with the original states. Adjourning on January 4. In the house a bill was introduced as a substitute for the house bill relating to the restriction of immigration, which provides for the partial or total suspension of immigration from any port or place, whether by water or land, whenever and for so long as in the judgment of the president and secretary of the treasury such suspension may be necessary. Adjourning on January 4.

MISSOURI STATE NEWS.

THE negro Harrison Duncan, who murdered Officer Brady at St. Louis, is to be hanged February 3.

FIRE in the building of the Jaccard Jewelry Co. at Kansas City the other day did damage to the extent of $2,000.

W. G. SIMMONS was recently arrested at Joplin upon the charge of murdering Miss Louie Noel, the young woman who was recently found dead in a stream in McDonald county. He denied completely the crime.

WHILE coupling cars at St. Joseph the other morning James Manley, a switchman in the employ of the St. Joseph Terminal Railway Co., caught his foot in a frog. Before he could extricate himself he was run down and killed.

GRISWOLD MATROOK and his brother, boys, were hunting near St. Joseph the other day when the elder boy shot and broke the leg of a rabbit. The little fellow ran to catch the animal, when his brother fired again. The shot entered his brother's back, killing him instantly.

HENRY BOYDEN was waylaid and robbed by two masked men in Douglas county a few days ago. Covered by revolvers he was forced to give up all he had—$110. Despite their disguise he afterward recognized them in Alva and caused the arrest of John Johnson and Benjamin Trott.

IN the federal court at St. Joseph George W. Howard and Edward Tibbels, lumber dealers, were convicted of violating the interstate commerce law and sentenced by Judge Farver to eighteen months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $2,000 each. They appealed to the United States supreme court.

ANNIE TRUMP, a young woman of 18, who left her home in Philadelphia several weeks ago to travel with a company of variety performers and who has since returned, was helped to carry out her intention of returning home by the Kansas City Humane society and lodged at Elks.

SHE reached Kansas City from Denver without money or friends.

COL. A. C. DAWES, of St. Joseph, who for twenty-five years has been general passenger and ticket agent of the Burlington line in Missouri, has been relieved and D. O. Ives appointed in his place. This is owing to the illness of Col. Dawes, who has gone to Florida. He will continue with the road, however, in the capacity of general adviser.

THE Mexican court has denied the appeal of Montgomery H. Lewis from the decision suspending him from the United States, and the case now goes to the federal supreme court, which, if it sustains the decision of the court of appeal, will then turn him over to the United States authorities to be brought to Missouri. Lewis is wanted at Kansas City for embezzlement.

M. J. FORBES, deputy city treasurer of St. Louis, has made a general assignment for the benefit of his creditors. The property assigned amounts to $227,000. The liabilities are much less than one-half of the assets. The assignment was made because some small creditors were running attachments on the property. This is the result of the embezzlement of city funds and suicide of his son.

AT Green Ridge the other night a party of railroad graders held a drunken carousal in the house of Peter Bittsch, a shoemaker who occupied the dwelling alone. At 8 o'clock the house was discovered on fire. All the men had gone except Bittsch and a railroad contractor named James E. Ives, who were in a drunken stupor. Bittsch was rescued, badly burned, but Bittsch fought the rescuers and was burned to a crisp in the embers of his home.

A CASE of suspected murder has been developed near Noel, in McDonald county. The victim is Miss Louie Noel, 18 years old, daughter of W. G. Simmons, assessor of McDonald county. William Simmons, an employe at one of the Joplin smelters, is supposed to be the person who can throw light upon the case. Simmons and Miss Noel were seen together on the banks of a river and her body was subsequently found in the stream with her neck broken. Simmons is held pending investigation.

EDWARD FORBES, first assistant city treasurer and son of City Treasurer M. J. Forstet, of St. Louis, shot and killed himself in that city the other morning. An examination revealed the fact that he had embezzled over $63,000 of the city funds, which he squandered on horse racing and wild real estate speculation. He was 27 years of age and decidedly fast. When the embezzlement became known the acting mayor removed Treasurer Forstet from office, although there is no taint upon him personally. Before killing himself the young man attempted to destroy the evidence of his shams by burning the treasurer's office, but the fire was discovered and extinguished.

THE adjourned meeting of the Missouri Trotting and Pacing Horse Breeders' association was held at Moberly the other day. Hon. Norman J. Colman, of St. Louis, was in the chair and Secretary H. C. Tindall, of Fayette, made the financial report of the association, which showed it to be in good condition. The association at Mexico over whose track last year's meeting was held, failed to pay the stakes contracted and an order of suspension was sent to the American Trotting association. Bids were received from various associations for the meetings of 1893, but time was extended to March to consider further bids. A resolution was passed asking the legislature for an appropriation to a state fair fund.

REPRESENTATIVE D'ARMOND, of the Twelfth Missouri district, the other day introduced in congress a resolution providing for the election of the president and vice president by direct vote of the people, and a distribution of the electoral vote in proportion to the number of votes cast for each candidate.

GRIZZARD a sensation was created in Carondelet the other day by the appearance of two infuriated young damsels in a railway coach, each armed with a horsewhip, and who were in search of two young men whom they charged with insulting them at a dance the night before. The young men were conveniently absent.

THE DUBLIN EXPLOSION

Which Caused the Death of Detective Schynott—The Coroner's Inquest Finds to Throw Any New Light on the Mystery Surrounding the Perpetrator of the Outrage—London Thrown into a Ferment and the Scotland Yard Official Busy.

DUBLIN, Dec. 27.—At the inquest in the case of Detective Schynott, who lost his life by the explosion at the Dublin detective office, yesterday, Sergeant Dawson testified that he passed through the passageway where the explosion occurred, but that he saw no parcel lying on the wall. The court-way was well lighted and he thought he would have seen any object of that kind when he entered the place only a few minutes before the explosion occurred had it been there at that time.

Detective Green, who was seen passing a package lying on the wall of the building on being called again to the witness-stand stated that the parcel was loosely folded in paper. He saw nobody in the court though he noticed a few boys at the entrance bidding each other good night. There was nothing suspicious in their behavior.

Coroner Clancy, of the city hall, testified that the clock was striking eleven when he left a tavern opposite the entrance of the court in company with Schynott, whom he had good-night at a side-door of the city hall before the explosion took place. Clancy said that he had been about the court all of the evening but saw no strangers nor anything unusual.

An affidavit by James Macross was taken by Police Inspector Flower, who had observed nothing suspicious in the court, though his patrol took him through it every four minutes.

Police Inspector Flower stated that he noticed a bluish smoke arising from the spot where the explosion occurred, immediately afterward. He further stated that police inquiries since Saturday had elicited nothing thus far.

The expert on explosives, Mr. Thiellborne, expressed his opinion that the explosion was one of either dynamite or nitro-glycerine.

That the explosion was of incendiary origin in this case, and not from any gas accumulation, was considered evident from the fact that small pieces of metal casing, which had evidently been part of an internal machine, were found near about.

The coroner's jury rendered a verdict that the explosion was caused by a high-class explosive substance placed in the court by a person whose identity was unknown to the jury. It was recommended that the authorities provide for the family of Detective Schynott. The London police recently received vague intimation of a possible war of dynamite, and extra precautions were taken to guard against injury being done to public buildings. It is supposed that the dynamites, thus thwarted, decided to make Dublin the scene of their outrage. Secretary Asquith was busy at the home office yesterday, and unusual activity was displayed at Scotland Yard.

The Effect of the News in London.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The suggestion has been made here that the Dublin explosion was the work of anarchists, and that it was part of the plot discovered by the police here a short time ago to carry on a dynamite propaganda in Great Britain in behalf of the anarchist cause. The officials of Scotland Yard, however, condemn the suggestion that the outrage was the work of anarchists, as they do also the rumors that it was directed at officers engaged in the recent arrests of anarchists. It must be said that the news of the explosion caused a feeling of uneasiness in London, and it was very evident that those in authority feared that attempts might be made to blow up public buildings here.

Early Sunday morning the scenes about the houses of parliament, the tower of London, the Victoria, Charing Cross and Paddington railroad stations and other public buildings, reminded one forcibly of the days of the dynamite outrages in this city. All the precautions taken in those troubled years were renewed. The government buildings were most closely watched. Owing to its being the holiday season comparatively few persons went to the offices. Those who did visit the buildings were compelled to run the gauntlet of a number of questioners. Every person unknown to the constables was compelled to explain his business before he was allowed to enter the offices, and even then his every action was regarded with suspicion by the officers on duty inside.

The members of the cabinet were officially notified of the explosion, as was also Mr. Gladstone, who is at present at Biarritz, France. What action they will take in the matter is of course unknown, but there is no doubt that orders have already been given to leave no stone unturned in the endeavor to discover the culprits. So far as known here the Dublin police have as yet found nothing to lead to the identification of the perpetrators of the outrage.

On December 31st last an explosion occurred at Dublin castle which caused considerable consternation among the officials there. Considerable damage was done, but fortunately nobody was hurt. It was never satisfactorily proven whether this explosion was of dynamite or of gas that had accumulated in the cellar of the castle, though there were many persons, officials included, who held that it was the work of the "physical force party."

A Valuable Holiday Present from Gov. Flower.

WATERLOO, N. Y., Dec. 27.—Gov. Flower, who is spending the Christmas holidays in this city, yesterday issued a pardon and restored to full citizenship Cumberland G. White, who was recently sentenced to two years' imprisonment on Blackwell's island.

Mr. White has been for many years a member of the New York stock exchange. He lost two bonds of the value of $2,000 belonging to a female customer, and failing to pay the balance due her he was adjudged guilty of constructive larceny.

WHILE coupling cars at St. Joseph the other morning James Manley, a switchman in the employ of the St. Joseph Terminal Railway Co., caught his foot in a frog. Before he could extricate himself he was run down and killed.

GRISWOLD MATROOK and his brother, boys, were hunting near St. Joseph the other day when the elder boy shot and broke the leg of a rabbit. The little fellow ran to catch the animal, when his brother fired again. The shot entered his brother's back, killing him instantly.

HENRY BOYDEN was waylaid and robbed by two masked men in Douglas county a few days ago. Covered by revolvers he was forced to give up all he had—$110. Despite their disguise he afterward recognized them in Alva and caused the arrest of John Johnson and Benjamin Trott.

IN the federal court at St. Joseph George W. Howard and Edward Tibbels, lumber dealers, were convicted of violating the interstate commerce law and sentenced by Judge Farver to eighteen months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $2,000 each. They appealed to the United States supreme court.

ANNIE TRUMP, a young woman of 18, who left her home in Philadelphia several weeks ago to travel with a company of variety performers and who has since returned, was helped to carry out her intention of returning home by the Kansas City Humane society and lodged at Elks.

SHE reached Kansas City from Denver without money or friends.

COL. A. C. DAWES, of St. Joseph, who for twenty-five years has been general passenger and ticket agent of the Burlington line in Missouri, has been relieved and D. O. Ives appointed in his place. This is owing to the illness of Col. Dawes, who has gone to Florida. He will continue with the road, however, in the capacity of general adviser.

THE Mexican court has denied the appeal of Montgomery H. Lewis from the decision suspending him from the United States, and the case now goes to the federal supreme court, which, if it sustains the decision of the court of appeal, will then turn him over to the United States authorities to be brought to Missouri. Lewis is wanted at Kansas City for embezzlement.

M. J. FORBES, deputy city treasurer of St. Louis, has made a general assignment for the benefit of his creditors. The property assigned amounts to $227,000. The liabilities are much less than one-half of the assets. The assignment was made because some small creditors were running attachments on the property. This is the result of the embezzlement of city funds and suicide of his son.

AT Green Ridge the other night a party of railroad graders held a drunken carousal in the house of Peter Bittsch, a shoemaker who occupied the dwelling alone. At 8 o'clock the house was discovered on fire. All the men had gone except Bittsch and a railroad contractor named James E. Ives, who were in a drunken stupor. Bittsch was rescued, badly burned, but Bittsch fought the rescuers and was burned to a crisp in the embers of his home.

A CASE of suspected murder has been developed near Noel, in McDonald county. The victim is Miss Louie Noel, 18 years old, daughter of W. G. Simmons, assessor of McDonald county. William Simmons, an employe at one of the Joplin smelters, is supposed to be the person who can throw light upon the case. Simmons and Miss Noel were seen together on the banks of a river and her body was subsequently found in the stream with her neck broken. Simmons is held pending investigation.

EDWARD FORBES, first assistant city treasurer and son of City Treasurer M. J. Forstet, of St. Louis, shot and killed himself in that city the other morning. An examination revealed the fact that he had embezzled over $63,000 of the city funds, which he squandered on horse racing and wild real estate speculation. He was 27 years of age and decidedly fast. When the embezzlement became known the acting mayor removed Treasurer Forstet from office, although there is no taint upon him personally. Before killing himself the young man attempted to destroy the evidence of his shams by burning the treasurer's office, but the fire was discovered and extinguished.

THE adjourned meeting of the Missouri Trotting and Pacing Horse Breeders' association was held at Moberly the other day. Hon. Norman J. Colman, of St. Louis, was in the chair and Secretary H. C. Tindall, of Fayette, made the financial report of the association, which showed it to be in good condition. The association at Mexico over whose track last year's meeting was held, failed to pay the stakes contracted and an order of suspension was sent to the American Trotting association. Bids were received from various associations for the meetings of 1893, but time was extended to March to consider further bids. A resolution was passed asking the legislature for an appropriation to a state fair fund.

REPRESENTATIVE D'ARMOND, of the Twelfth Missouri district, the other day introduced in congress a resolution providing for the election of the president and vice president by direct vote of the people, and a distribution of the electoral vote in proportion to the number of votes cast for each candidate.

GRIZZARD a sensation was created in Carondelet the other day by the appearance of two infuriated young damsels in a railway coach, each armed with a horsewhip, and who were in search of two young men whom they charged with insulting them at a dance the night before. The young men were conveniently absent.

THE statement of the commissioner of the general land office, in his annual report, to the effect that the work of that office is up to date is regarded as a gratifying indication of the industry with which the business of the office is carried on.

JUDGE ROSS, of Hismarck, N. D., decided, on the 25th, the famous Selz precinct controversy case against the board of canvassers, who refused to canvass the returns. It is held that the board is not sufficient to occupy the force employed, and it is possible that a large number of clerks will be discharged or transferred to other work.
