

Women who work, whether in the house, store, office or factory, very rarely have the ability to stand the strain. The case of Miss Frankie Orser, of Boston, Mass., is interesting to all women, and adds further proof that woman's great friend in need is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINERIAM: — I suffered misery for several years. My back sched and I had bearing down pains, and frequent headaches. I would often wake from a restful sleep in such pain and misery that it would be hours before I could close my eyes again. I dreaded the long nights and weary days. I could do no work. I consulted different physicians hoping to get relief, but, finding that their medicines did not cure me, I tried Lydin E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as it was highly recomended to me. I am glad that I did so, for I soon found that it was the medicine for my case. Very soon I was rid of every ache and pain and restored to perfect health. I feel splendid, have a fine appetite, and have gained in weight a lot. "—Miss Frankie Obser, 14 Warrenton St., Hoston, Mass.

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak, sick and discouraged, and exhausted with each day's work. Some derangement of the feminine organs is repensible for this exhaustion, following any kind of work or effort. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you just as it has thousands of other women.

The case of Ars. Lennox, which follows, proves this.

"Dram Mns. PINKHAM: — Last winter I broke down suddenly and had to seek the advice of a doctor. I felt sore all over, with a pounding in my head, and a dizziness which I had never experienced before. I had/a miserable appetite, nothing tasted good, and gradually my health broke down completely. The doctor said I had female weakness, but, although I took his medicine faithfully. atthough I took his medicine faithfully, I found no relief.

"After two months I decided to try what a change would do for me, and as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was strongly recommended to me I decided to try it. Within three days I felt better, my appetite returned, and I could sleep. In another week I was able to sit up part of the day, and in ten days more I was well. My strength had returned. I gained fourteen pounds, and felt better and stronger than I had for years. I gratefully acknowledge its merits. Very sincerely yours, Mns. Bent E. Lennox, 120 East 4th St., Digon, Ill."

Somehow the news of approaching nuptials always brings a glow to the heart. Marriage, we are told, is a but the continued practice of marriage leads to the conclusion that few have compunctions against their un holiness and all decide they will stand for the tickling if they "holler their heads off," as the uncouth slangist says. The Sidewalk.

Irascible old residents who think sidewalks were made for pedestrians should have their ideas anticepticized. Sidewalks, in the suburbs, if you please, are for the flying bicycle, the trundling velocipede and the infantile terror with a small red wheelbarrow and a sheet iron spade. In the down town districts sidewalks are mainly for the politician who saves the government from being punctured by pointing out where the tacks are at, and the street fakir who is busy doing everybody good at 40 cents a bot-

It makes one homesick to read the country papers in June. By this vehicle of news at this time we learn that "the excitement incidental to high school communeement is past" and that now "the Tribune expects to see our titizens take more interest in village improvements." Incidents illustrating narrow escapes of men that have tarried by the wayside to scoff, are legion, but one of exceptional interest comes from the west where a Colorado editor says: "A brick fell from a scaffolt on the Simpson building Suturday. Col. Hank Brown was in its line of descent. The brick landed on Col. Hank's head and he saw the entire starry firmament in all its splendor. The brick was broken and a severe cut on the topknot was left Hank as a souvenir."
