

FOR PRESIDENT, HORACE GREELEY, OF NEW YORK.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, B. GRATZ BROWN, OF MISSOURI.

The Baltimore Convention.

It was generally conceded before the convening of this body that no nomination would be made in opposition to Greeley and Brown, but few expected to see the unanimity with which the convention nominated these gentlemen.

This is the first time in the history of the country that a life long opponent to the Democracy and a Republican ever received such honors from the Democratic party, and nothing but an honest desire for reform prompted it.

And the duty of Democrats is plain now. Who that knows Horace Greeley will not prefer him to Grant, the man who has in time of peace persecuted the South and made himself rich out of the spoils of his office?

LOUISIANA.—We had occasion to visit the queen city of our neighboring county last week, for the first time. It is one of the most picturesque places in the state, being built on hills and in valleys, with here and there high peaks almost overhanging the city.

A conference of Grant Republicans took place at Grant's cottage, Long Branch, on the 11th. A correspondent of the New York Herald says they remained closeted with the President for several hours discussing the political situation.

The Ralls County Record says that Col. W. H. Hatch, an aspirant for gubernatorial honors, will address the people of Ralls, Pike and Lincoln in a short time.

President Grant has a cool, shady farm to go to in the spring.

Stilson Hutchins has sold his interest in the St. Louis Times to Henry Ewing.

Pennsylvania Granite are crying for help. As in the other states it is a cry for money.

Grant's scheme to have the Baltimore convention nominate a straight out Democrat against Greeley didn't work very well.

The evidence in the Stokes murder trial has all been taken and the arguments finished. The jury stands eight for conviction and four for acquittal.

Morton of Indiana says that matters look dubious in his state, and they must have money to use at once to save Grant's defeat.

The Democratic party has been accused of selling its birthright. But this is a mistake. It has only sold its prejudice for the purpose of regaining its birthright, which will come back to it when the farmer of Chappaqua takes his seat in the Presidential chair next March.

The Chillicothe Constitution says that C. H. Mansur of that city has reconsidered his design of being a candidate for governor, and has become a candidate for congress.

The Masonic fraternity is warned against a dead beat named Alexander Craig, who claims to be a member of Ionic lodge, New York.

It is charged by the Indianapolis Sentinel, and substantiated by the official figures, that the Radical administration of the last ten years have resulted in a deficiency of $1,000,000 of the people's money.

It is Lazon, who says: "That the influence of talent will always be the greatest in that government which is most pure, while the influence of riches will always be greatest in that government which is most corrupt."

Brick Pomeroy says that now is the time for every Democratic voter to sell his vote to the highest bidder, and take his pay cash in hand.

The Meriden Recorder is under many obligations to the Hon. J. H. Platt, an ardent member of Congress from Virginia, for franking to its care several copies of "Circular No. 1, detailing the manner of getting up Grant clubs and some real and Grant campaign songs."

The Evening Express says it has the authority of Mr. Greeley to assert that the story to the effect that Horace Greeley and Horatio Seymour some time past made a bargain, whereby Gov. Seymour was to support Greeley for the presidency, and to use his influence to get Greeley nominated for the presidency by the Democrats, is a deliberately coined lie, made out of whole cloth, and that it is equally false that any Democrat in a high place, or low place, has ever hinted a word of expectation to Mr. Greeley as to public offices.

The Democracy of North Carolina are confident of carrying the state by at least twenty thousand majority, and will probably elect most of the eight members of Congress, though the re-appointment since the last election, when they carried five of the seven districts, places the result somewhat in doubt.

In answer to inquiries that are periodically made by many of the public in relation to our great bridge structure, we feel glad to say that greater success and progress were never known, since the laying of the piers, than are being accomplished at present.

The Ralls County Record says that Col. W. H. Hatch, an aspirant for gubernatorial honors, will address the people of Ralls, Pike and Lincoln in a short time.

A Historical Parallel.

[From the New York Sun, July, 8]

Early in the campaign of 1840 discerning politicians foresaw the inevitable result of the contest between Harrison and Van Buren. The nomination of Harrison was as great a surprise to the country as that of Greeley at Cincinnati, and the Democrats greeted the selection with a general and prolonged shout of derision.

Dean Richmond, to whom the popular indications were obvious, and who never permitted his wishes or hopes to cloud his judgment, came to the conclusion that Harrison was to be elected long before any apprehensions of such a result infected the Democratic party generally.

There is a man in Randolph county, Mo., who has a foot so large that his shoes are 17 1/2 inches long, and 17 inches around the instep. An ordinary pair of summer shoes for him weigh five pounds.

A remarkable insect, found in a whisky barrel, and with tusks like an elephant and eyes like a devil-fish, graces the shelves of the Louisville Public Library. It is supposed to be an original jim jam.

John Garner, a veteran horse thief of seventy two years experience, has just been sentenced to the Tennessee penitentiary for twenty one years. Owners of fancy stock will be on their guard in the summer of 1873.

Death with fleshless fingers having snatched all the centenarians of Washington's domestic family, is now commencing on that of the late President Madison, and one old colored lady of 107 summers has just gone.

A correspondent in Syracuse, Otsego county, Nebraska, writes that that precinct, which has always given a large Republican majority, will cast more than two thirds of its votes for Greeley and Brown.

A letter from Col. B. G. Boone, written at Clinton, Henry county, informs us that Colman stock in that section is above par and still rising. The indications are now that, if the people turn out and are truly represented in convention, Col. Colman will be nominated on the first ballot.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—James Nichols, aged 13 years, a son of William Nichols, formerly of Jonesburg, we learn, was killed by lightning, a few days ago, near Martinsburg, Audrain county. Young Nichols had stopped under a tree during a storm, when the accident occurred. The mule upon which he sat, was also killed.—Montgomery County Leader.

Among the prominent men at the Baltimore Convention, we notice the name of Genl. Fitzhugh Lee, nephew of Gen. R. E. Lee; Judge Robt. Ould Confederate exchange commissioner; Thos. Randolph, grandson of Thomas Jefferson; and John B. Baldwin, the leading organ of the conservative movement that emancipated Virginia in 1868.

The aggregate popular vote for President in 1868 was about 5,788,000. At the present time the population of voters of alien nationalities, including the colored voters, is as follows: Colored, 803,000, of whom 55,000 are in the North and 56 in the border states. The Irish have 303,450, being strongest in New York and Pennsylvania. The Germans have about 280,000; the Welsh 71,000; the Scandinavian, 34,426 the Swiss, 13,000.

A SINGULAR FACT.—The initials of seven of the most notorious administration Radicals spell the name of the deity which Grant worships. Thus: Brown, Alcorn, Chandler, Cameron, Hoar, Ulysses, the gift taker, and Scott, spell "Bachus," the god of wine. The initials of seven others indicate the god that endowed in its birth, and furnished in its ripper years, the peculiar gift which distinguishes the Radical party from every other political organization. Those are: Morton, Edmonds, Rice, Cameron, Ulysses, Revels an Yates. These initials spell "Mercury," the god of thieves.

The new Catholic cathedral at Newark, New Jersey, will cost a million dollars.

The good little Sunday school children of Peoria have sent the starving Persians fifty-seven dollars.

A Florida nurseryman has sent Mrs. Horace Greeley a crate of peaches weighing from nine to fourteen ounces each.

The peach crop in Southern Illinois this year is so heavy that it is likely to ruin all the trees by splitting them open to the roots.

"The Democratic dose is down," says the Cincinnati Times. Yes, and it will cause a terrible heaving at the Grant stomach.

Alexander Thompson of Correctionville, Iowa, endeavored to choke the Greeleyism out of W. H. Ross, one of his neighbors, but failed in the attempt, and there is one Grant vote the less.

Howard county claims the champion heavy weight of the State.—Mr. F. K. B. Teyman—who measures fifty eight inches around the waist, and weighs only ten pounds short of four hundred.

There is a man in Randolph county, Mo., who has a foot so large that his shoes are 17 1/2 inches long, and 17 inches around the instep. An ordinary pair of summer shoes for him weigh five pounds.

A remarkable insect, found in a whisky barrel, and with tusks like an elephant and eyes like a devil-fish, graces the shelves of the Louisville Public Library. It is supposed to be an original jim jam.

Like Cheggoggoggoggoggoggoggoggoggogg, Michigan, is a good place to go for the summer. This place is particularly recommended for people afflicted with summering; by the time they can tell where they are they're wholly cured.

A wealthy Philadelphian has imported from Italy a funeral urn designed to order for his own ashes, and threatens to commit spontaneous combustion unless his family promise to incinerate him.

Sombody remarking that a bushel of ripe tomatoes brought into a family will drive out a box of pills, a Texas editor knows of a box of certain pills that will drive a bushel of tomatoes out of the same family.

Death with fleshless fingers having snatched all the centenarians of Washington's domestic family, is now commencing on that of the late President Madison, and one old colored lady of 107 summers has just gone.

A negro woman aged 117 years died at the residence of Mrs. Mair, in Boonville, on the 17th of last month. She had lived in that vicinity from the early settlement of the country up to the day of her death. She was fifteen years old at the time of the declaration of independence, and distinctly remembered the struggles and trials of the revolutionary war. It was a source of great pleasure and pride to her to relate incidents and anecdotes of early history. She retained her faculties until the last, and died with the utmost composure.

COMFORTABLE.—Hon. James H. Lucas is estimated to be worth fifteen million dollars, and has an income of one thousand dollars a day. His sister, Mrs. Anne L. Hunt, is said to be worth five millions. Hon. Charles F. P. Chouteau, is reported to be worth at least twelve millions.—St. Louis Age.

Gen. D. W. Adams, who died recently at New Orleans, was wounded at the battle of Shiloh, and, supposed to be dead, was, with many others who were being conveyed to Corinth, thrown out into the mud to lighten the wagon. Some stragglers passing by shortly afterwards detected signs of life in the supposed dead man, recognized him, though covered with mud and blood, and carried him into Corinth, where good nursing brought him round.
