The holidays are almost here, and holiday advertising is in order. We believe we can give the Versailles merchants full value for their money, and would like to have a few more columns. It is hardly necessary to tell the successful business man that advertising pays. That is now an acknowledged fact. The only question is, how much, and where will it pay the best? Try the REPUBLICAN.

To Our Correspondents.
We are certainly thankful to our few but faithful correspondents for their help in making the REPUBLICAN a better paper. Country correspondence is essential to the success of the country paper, and we would like to have a good live correspondent in every school district in the county. It is good schooling in many ways for the writer, and a good advertisement for the section in which the correspondent lives. Can't we have them?

We would respectfully ask our subscribers to notice the date after your name, and if it is below the 1907 mark, call, and bring with you your pocketbook or check book, whichever is most convenient, and let us fix it so it will read, Jan. 1st, 1908. See our big free offer in another column. This is not a dun—we don't believe dunning is good form—just a gentle hint that some cash is absolutely necessary to keep the REPUBLICAN machinery oiled and in good running order.

Our Magazine Section.
As you will notice, with this issue we again give you the Magazine Section. The publishing house that furnishes it wrote us some weeks ago that they were completely swamped with orders, and would be compelled to discontinue it for a few weeks until they could secure larger quarters and put in additional machinery, and they now write us that they are fully equipped for all demands, and will ship it regularly hereafter. While the Magazine costs us considerable, we furnish it free to all our subscribers.

To The Preachers Of Versailles.
We tender you the use of our columns each week for the following week's announcements, of services, Sunday school, prayer meeting, society meetings, etc. Also a synopsis of the Sunday sermon, not to exceed 500 words, and thus give you a second and larger congregation. Also your subject for the following Sunday. It pays to advertise—it pays the live business man, it will pay the live preacher. Our columns, for the above purpose, are like religion in one respect, they are offered without money and without price. In denominations we make no distinction, believing that all are traveling in the same direction by different routes, and all will be welcome.

The St. Louis Post Dispatch is cutting out the ads of its fake doctors, and other frauds of various sorts, an example that should be followed by numerous other papers. We have not had any fraudulent ads, but have sifted out all patent medicine and other objectionable ads from our home pages, at a cost to us of considerably more than $100 a year. We prefer to build up the Morgan County REPUBLICAN on the support of the good people of Morgan and adjoining counties, and of the business men of Versailles. If a good clean paper, standing always for Morgan county and Versailles, for what is right, for every laudable enterprise that will build up our town and country, and for the improvement of the people in

Let The Work Go On.

The campaign of the Republicans for control of Missouri has just begun. The party has no apologies to offer, no complaints to file. The people of the state are better acquainted now with the party of progress and prosperity. Long continued misrepresentation of Republican policies and Republican purposes has had a bad influence on thousands who vote the Democratic ticket and have become closely allied with the Democratic party and it is hard to win them from the leadership of men who have appealed to their prejudices and held them in check at the least indication of wavering; yet the constant agitation of Republican doctrines, purposes and achievements will open more eyes and make more and more converts to the party which has done and can do much for the material and political advancement of the state. The work of making a Republican state of Missouri is worthy of the best efforts and the most liberal support of every intelligent man who realizes the value of enlightened and progressive politics. The defeats of the past ought to inspire the efforts of the future. If mistakes have been made in party leadership or in the plans adopted for winning votes let the sincerely devoted members of the State Committee take cognizance of them at once and ordain something better. Missouri must be held in the Republican sisterhood of great and growing states.—Central Missouri Republican.
