Brief Items.

Mr. Parkinson Hensch, an old resident of Landisburg died very suddenly at his home in that place on Monday night of last week.

We think some of our exchanges are getting "fits" in one advertisement they are publishing. We preferred not to invest in any of that stock.

John L. Wingert, of Fayetteville, was found dead in his bed on Monday morning a week. A little son was sleeping soundly by his side.

A cow belonging to Mr. Martin Clay in Carroll twp., was found in the pasture with a broken leg on Saturday, but how it was broken is a mystery.

Mr. John Stambaugh, an old resident of Tyrone twp., died at his residence near Green Park on Saturday morning last from cancer in the stomach.

A Jackson twp., man is very absent minded. He recently went out to harrow, with the horses, and when he got to the field found he had only part of the gears on one horse.

We noticed on Wednesday last D. Kistler, Esq., passing through this place on his way to the west, on a visit to his son. We hope he will have a pleasant trip.

And now the citizens of the borough are requested by the burgess to clean up, remove obstructions from the street and to make things tidy generally. It is a request that should be promptly complied with.

One of the old land marks has been removed from Centre Square in the borough. The pebble-dash front of Potter's building, occupied by F. Mortimer as a store, has been weather-boarded and has had a neat and substantial awning erected. The improvement is so great that one can hardly recognize the premises.

Near Newport on Friday a week a valuable cow belonging to William Marshall, wandered on the railroad track and was struck by the fast line west, knocking her into the air a distance of about twenty feet. She was caught by the engine in her descent and carried in that position from one telegraph pole to another, a distance of forty-five feet. No harm was done the train, which did not slacken its speed.

Kicked by a Mule.—On Friday evening last, Mr. John Stone, residing in Carroll township was kicked by a mule, the blow cutting open his cheek in a terrible manner, and knocking his teeth out. He was at the time of the accident unhooking the double tree. Fortunately the mule was not shod, which probably saved Mr. Stone's life, though he may yet not recover from the injury received.

Charged with Stealing.—On Friday last information was made before Esquire Sutch, charging George Sweger, residing in Madison twp., with stealing a lap robe valued at $3. The robe was stolen from the stable of David Rinesmith in this borough. A warrant was issued for Sweger's arrest.

Improved.—We are pleased to notice the improvement made in the last issue of the Valley Sentinel. We always considered it a good paper, and very cheap, and we really do not see how brother Peffer could afford to enlarge without increasing the price. The only change now needed to make the Sentinel a perfect paper is to replace the small type used for the local briefs with a type more easily read.

The April Weather.—B. McIntire, Esq., hands us the following report of the weather for the month of April. Average of thermometer at 8 o'clock A. M., 45° and 4°; average of barometer 30 inches minus 6-tenths; average of greatest degree of heat 55° and 22°, and of the lowest of cold 38° and 52°.

Wednesday the 25th was the warmest day, the thermometer running up to 74° above zero, and the coldest was Wednesday the 4th, the mercury sinking 5° below the freezing point. There fell three inches and 9-tenths of rain.

Another New Swindle.—The following item is going the rounds of our exchanges: Another new swindle has been developed, the modus operandi of which is as follows: A pack peddler calls at a house with a fine lot of articles which he offers at a ruinous sacrifice. He makes a sale and goes on his way. The next day two men drive up to the house with a printed bill, giving an account of the robbery of a certain store. They claim the goods, and generally frighten the purchaser into giving them up. It would be well for newspapers throughout the State to give these swindlers the benefit of a gratuitous advertisement, so as to guard their readers against such imposters. People who do not read the papers would then be the only sufferers—and this class, it may be added, are generally the ones who are taken in by the plausible rascals.

Liverpool Items.—George Freid, and eldest son of H. M. Freid, merchant of this place, was found drowned in the canal near his father's store on the evening of the 7th inst. He was a bright little fellow, and a general favorite of the young and old. He was about eight years old.

There is considerable petty larceny committed around here, some few nights ago, some person or persons, entered the flour mill of Daniel McKenzie, and carried off nine sacks of flour. The price of flour rose immediately afterwards, but I cannot say that that was the cause.

Shipping on the canal is brisk this season; boats of all kinds are in demand but the boatmen complain that the freights are too low.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

The Board of Directors of the Carlisle Deposit Bank on the first instant declared a dividend of three per cent. upon the stock.

Mr. Samuel Bowman, an aged and respected citizen of Mifflin township, this county, committed suicide on Friday night last, by hanging himself. Ill-health and consequent mental depression were the causes which led to the fatal deed.

A special election was held at Kersville, West Pennsboro' township, on Saturday last, to decide for or against the division of that township. Very little more than half the vote of the township was out. Following is the result—for division, 89; against division, 152. Majority against, 63.

A little four-year old son of Mr. John Bobb, residing on Bedford street, Second ward, poisoned himself on Thursday morning last by drinking a small quantity of liquid during the temporary absence of his mother. Dr. J. S. Bender was hastily summoned, who administered the necessary restoratives, and soon the little fellow was on his feet again.—Volunteer.

The Carlisle Mirror says: On Sunday night, Samuel Holsner, aged about 9 years, residing on North Bedford street, had one of his fingers badly mangled by rats eating the flesh while he lay asleep. A number of the rats commenced eating at the lad's mother's arm, but she, being a light sleeper, was awakened and drove them away from herself and son. Our informant says the boy's hand presented a shocking appearance next day.

Something About Newspapers.

That the Americans are a reading people is manifest by the statistics of the Newspaper Press of the country, as given in the Newspaper Directory for 1877, just issued by S. M. FERRIS & Co., the well-known Advertising Agents of New York, Boston and Philadelphia. There are reported in it the names, character, (political, agricultural, religious, medical, etc.) and names of publishers of no less than 795 dailies, 123 semi-monthlies, 771 monthlies, 16 bi-monthlies, and 60 quarterlies, published in the United States and the British American Provinces. The Directory shows the number of each of these editions which are published in each State, Territory or Province. The book contains 370 pages, and embraces an immense amount of valuable information, showing great labor and care in its collection and preparation. It gives all necessary facts for an advertiser to know about 5,774 separate publications, while it is also interesting and valuable for the general reader, the student of American periodical literature, and the observer of American institutions. The book is sold at the low price of $1.00 per copy.

NEW MUSIC.

NATIONAL MEMORIAL SONG.

We have just received from the Publisher, a new song and chorus entitled, "No more the bugle's stirring blast." Words by Samuel N. Mitchell, Music by Chas. E. Prior. This piece is arranged to be sung either as solo and chorus, or as a quartette—and was written expressly for Memorial Day, May 30th, 1877, and will be sung in every State, where there is a soldier's grave to honor. The music has a graceful and flowing melody, expressive of the sentiment of the words.

Below we give the first stanza: No more the bugle's stirring blast, Will call our heroes to the fray; For they have found a rest at last, And at their graves we pause to-day; The beds brought forth by April show'rs, We've woven into garlands gay, And on each mound we strew the flow'rs Fresh with the breath of May.

CHORUS, Price 50cts. But the Publishers makes a special price for those ordering for memorial exercises, viz.—One single copy 25c, and five copies mailed post-paid for $1.00. Address, W. W. WHITNEY, Publisher, Toledo, Ohio.

Philadelphia Produce and Stock Report.

PHILADELPHIA, May 12.—The week has been one of dull trade. Prices of grain and flour have been unsettled, and there is an evident feeling that the advance has not been legitimate. We quote flour duty having found a rest at last, and at their graves we pause to-day; The beds brought forth by April show'rs, We've woven into garlands gay, And on each mound we strew the flow'rs Fresh with the breath of May.
