

THE TIMES.

Local Department.

PENNSYLVANIA R. R.—MIDDLE DIVISION.

On and after June 11th, Trains run as follows:

Table with columns for WESTWARD and EASTWARD, listing train numbers, departure times, and arrival times for various stations like Harrisburg, York, and Lancaster.

Public Sales.—We call attention to a sale of Wagons, Wheelbarrows, and a Hunc to be had by P. F. Michener in DUNCANNON, on SATURDAY, the 23rd inst.

Also to the sale of Carpet, Furniture, &c., by the O. U. A. M., in this borough, on SATURDAY, the 23rd inst. For further particulars see bills that have been posted up.

Brief Items.

Mr. Israel Biting had his arm dislocated a short time since while working at Kendig's saw mill in Liberty Valley. Mr. David Moretz of Howe twp., received severe injuries on Wednesday last while raising a barn.

Quite a change has taken place in the running of the trains going east. The corrected time table will be found at the head of this column. On Friday a week, a little daughter of Samuel Diven, residing at Reed's Gap, fell into a tub of water, which was standing in the yard, and was drowned.

The Irvine farm in Saville twp., was not sold by the assignee last Tuesday as the amount bid was too low. The highest bid was $9,400 by Mr. John Rouse. Charles Stewart, of Duncannon, was lodged in jail in this borough on Saturday night on the charge of disorderly conduct and assault.

Mr. David Tressler, in Centre twp., is putting up a very fine barn on his place. The building is 60x86 feet and is built by Mr. Emanuel Foxers. There was 103 men at the raising. Mr. George Shull, of Howe twp., a short time since, while fishing for eels in the Juniata river, caught an alligator over three feet in length.

We are always pleased to receive communications containing items of interest; but wish that correspondents would remember that articles are worthless unless the writer will entrust us with his name. A meeting under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., of Duncannon will be held at Snyder's church on the Duncannon and Bloomfield road, Sunday, June 24th, at 2 1/2 o'clock P. M.

Church Notices. Praying in the M. E., Church next Sunday morning at 10 1/2 o'clock. Presbyterian Service next Sunday morning at 10 1/2 o'clock. Sabbath School at 9 1/2 a. m. Prayer meeting next Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Not Dead.—The Hartman boy who was reported dead from the effects of a pistol shot, a correspondent writes us, is still living, and in a fair way to recover. The ball has not been extracted yet as the doctor feared to probe for it among the arteries where it is imbedded.

Vacation for the Soldiers' Orphans.—Professor Wickersham, State Superintendent of the public schools, has issued an order to the soldiers' orphan schools granting the pupils a vacation, commencing Saturday, July 21st, and to continue till Saturday, September 1st—a period of six weeks.

How is It?—Two years ago Messrs. M. & T. Miller received samples of smooth and bearded wheat from the Agricultural Department, which they carefully sowed in separate places, keeping the seed in different bags. This season both lots were again sowed and both are bearded. They and many other farmers would like to have the matter explained.

Look Out for Them.—The traveling "patent frauds" are again in this county. They manage to get a note that you think is an agreement, or in some other manner to swindle you. They then sell the note and you have no redress. They recently swindled Mr. Dalton, of Sandy Hill out of nearly $300. That time they were selling washing machines. Now they are selling his note.

Detectives and Missionaries are sadly needed in Buffalo and Howe townships. Not a week passes that several cases of stealing are not reported. On Saturday night a week, John Potter's barn was entered and grain was stolen. On Monday night Barkey's grist mill was relieved of some grain and Siler's grocery of some small articles.

Wednesday night Jacob Buck received a visit from the scamps and lost a lot of meat, and several other persons had similar visits. As our correspondent says: "It seems as though the Devil was let loose and had located himself in this end of Perry county."

The Fire Cracker Nuisance.—In many places laws have been passed prohibiting the use of fire crackers. They are dangerous, as well as a nuisance and should be abated. The Germantown Telegraph states that "statistics show that during the past twelve years about $1,500,000 worth of fire crackers have been imported into this country, and the loss by only two conflagrations, known to have originated with these dangerous articles, amounted to over $15,000,000. It is believed that every dollar's worth of these explosives imported occasions $100 worth of damage.

War on Main Street.—The young man Harry Reynolds, seems bound to keep himself before the public. Last Thursday evening he stopped into Mr. Henry Bentzel's, and calling him back for a confidential interview began making some statements that aroused the ire of the old man. Mr. B., made a grab for his gun, and went for the young man, who "lighted out" and went up around the corner at a 2.40 speed, soon leaving Henry far in the rear. The war was lively for a few moments, but no blood was spilled, though they both no doubt shed considerable perspiration, as the evening was warm, and the excitement was great. At last accounts all was quiet along the line.

Caught by a Peg.—A Lancaster county exchange says that a farmer of that county recently caught a thief in a novel manner. He had a crib full of corn, and he recently noticed the bulk was slowly but surely diminishing. Believing that he was the victim of thieves, his suspicion was aroused towards a certain colored individual but for want of positive proof he was unable "to put the thing" down on his sable neighbor until he hit upon the following plan for his detection. He went to his crib and selecting a number of ears of corn made an equal number of wooden pegs. On all these pegs he wrote his name and then drove them into the end of the cob. This prepared corn was thrown into the crib among the rest, and he waited patiently for the party who had visited him before. A few mornings thereafter, the farmer noticed that more of his corn was missing. Says the Examiner: "The farmer whose name is John Hart, then proceeded to the office of Jacob Reese, Justice of the Peace, and made complaint against Wm. Green. Constable David Creamer, armed with a warrant for Green's arrest and one to search his property, visited him and found him feeding his horse. He had just given him some corn, which he said was the last he had, but the constable asked him to walk to the house with him and they proceeded to look around there.

Up stairs behind a bed, was found a bag nearly filled with corn, which was turned out upon the floor. William said it was his own corn, and, feeling sure they could not find out where it belonged, was quite unconcerned. Mr. Hart examined a few ears and finally found one which he had fixed with the pegs.—

He pulled out the peg and showed it to the astonished William, and that settled it. William said he would have to go right to the stable, gear his horse and go to work. The constable said he was not through with him, and accordingly he was arrested. He had a hearing before Justice Reese, who committed the corn-dodger to prison in default of bail, to await a trial at court.

A Swindle Exposed.—For some weeks past, vague rumors have been circulated in this community regarding a nefarious swindle that was being perpetrated. These rumors have now assumed some positive shape and will no doubt as the details and facts become known make a decided sensation in this county. It appears that a number of persons have been quietly informed that an over issue of money had been made by persons connected with the Treasury department at Washington, and that the aid of discreet persons, was needed to get it into circulation. They were told that by investing $100, or any larger amount they would receive double the amount in this fraudulent issue. The money was paid to a confederate at Harrisburg, and the package purporting to be the stolen money was placed in the hands of the victim. This when opened was found to contain old paper cut in the shape of bills, or some other equally worthless stuff. We have a list of quite a number of persons, some resident in this county, and some in Juniata who were willing to share in the stolen money, but we withhold the names for the present, until the matter can be further investigated, and till the list is more complete. Among the names we notice many who have stood high in the estimation of the people, and from whom better things could have been expected.

Special and Orphan's Court.—At the Orphan's Court held here last week the following cases were tried. A jury had been drawn at last court, for the purpose of trying the cases. George Cary Tharpe, Administrator of George Snyder, dec'd, vs. Henry Snyder and Henry C. Snyder late partners trading as H. Snyder & Co. Some few years ago, George Snyder who was then living in the borough of Liverpool, owned a steam tannery, and the said tannery was rented and the business was carried on by Henry Snyder a brother, and Henry C. Snyder a son of the deceased. From the books of the deceased the administrator claimed a balance in favor of the estate to a considerable amount and this action was brought to recover the sum claimed. It was claimed on the other side that the said estate was indebted to the said firm. Verdict in favor of the defendant for $1,812.14. Barnett for Plaintiff. Sponser and Junkin for Defendant.

George Cary Tharpe Administrator of George Snyder, dec'd, vs. Henry Snyder. This action was brought to recover an individual account amounting to about $800 from defendant which plaintiff alleged, from the books was due to said George Snyder's estate,—for money advanced during the lifetime of said decedent and also for rent of farming property in the borough of Liverpool. The defendant claimed that the estate was indebted to him. Verdict in favor of the defendant for $800. Barnett for Plaintiff. Sponser and Junkin for Defendant.

A considerable amount of other miscellaneous business was disposed of. The court adjourned on Friday at noon, to meet again on the 12th day of July next.

Bleeding at the Nose.—The best remedy for bleeding at the nose, as given by Dr. Gleason, in one of his lectures, is a vigorous motion of the jaws as if in the act of mastication. In the case of a child a wad of paper should be placed in its mouth, and the child instructed to chew it hard. Of course an adult does not need the wad. It is the motion of the jaws that stops the flow of blood. This remedy is so very simple that many will feel inclined to laugh at it, but it has never been known to fail in a single instance, even in very severe cases.

Working up a Case.—The Lebanon correspondent of the Reading Eagle writes: Recently a man named George Meyers was arrested at the Central Hotel, charged with the larceny of a watch from a fellow traveler's valise. He was committed and after some days of confinement was released upon bail to answer the charge. It now transpires that he was a detective, and that the job was put up to gain an entrance into the prison and get an interview with Risser. It is known that he was friendly with Risser, and will evidently be heard from when the trial takes place.

Our Readers cannot fail to notice the advertisement of ISIDOR SCHWARTZ in another column, where they will find it to their advantage to purchase anything in his line.

An Exciting Run Off.—On Wednesday morning William Kough, Jr., and B. M. Eby drove the former's high-spirited horse, "Doll," hitched to a light trotting buggy, up to the upper fishery, and shortly after starting on the return trip home a westward bound freight came along and at the same time Pacific express east shot by throwing off a powerful surplus of steam, which frightened the horse beyond control, and while Mr. Kough was holding to the reins with all his strength the bridle bit broke in two, when the horse, free from restraint, shot ahead like lightning. The public road, which is exceedingly narrow just here, lies right up against the railroad track, while on the lower side of the road a bank several feet in height forms the line. With telegraph poles to the right of them and this bank on their left, a wholesale smashup with results only to be conjectured was bound to follow. However they escaped being run up the bank and rolled out by the buggy turning over only to strike a telegraph pole at the other side, sending both occupants different directions with all sails spread out on to the hard ground where they stopped suddenly, with a heavy thud. The horse became disengaged from the vehicle and ran to town before he was caught. The gentlemen in the buggy received unimportant scratches, but their lives might have paid the forfeit just as readily.—News.

Juniata County.—We copy the following from the Juniata county papers of last week.

One day last week John Meminger, of Spruce Hill township, ploughed up thirty black snakes, all of which he succeeded in killing. On Sunday last, Mrs. Benjamin Weidman, aged about 74 years, whilst out about the stable, accidentally fell, fracturing her left thigh. The fracture was reduced by Dr. Fisher. She is suffering great pain and her recovery is doubtful.—Democrat and Register.

Maggie Hollobaugh, aged about 8 years, daughter of John Hollobaugh, in jumping off a porch in her father's yard in Patterson, broke her right leg, about three inches above the ankle joint, on Monday.

Last Friday morning Miss Clara Shillingsford was found dead in bed in her father's house near McAllisterville. A jury was summoned, and an inquest held, which resulted in pronouncing that death was caused by the use of Aconite—Wolf's bane—which the young lady had used to stop toothache. A phial of the poison was found in her room. A spot on the inside of her cheek opposite the aching tooth, was burned by the poison. The conjecture is that some of the poison found its way to her stomach and produced death.—Sentinel.

Cumberland County.—We copy the following from the Cumberland county papers of last week:

William Coffey and his whole family, from near Cleversburg, have been arrested and lodged in jail on the charge of chicken stealing. He acknowledges the deed, but pleads necessity.

Isaac Johnson, on Wednesday, was lodged in jail on the charge of having stolen a horse from Washington Kister, of Lower Allen township, on the night of June 5th. He was captured in York county.

A horse belonging to Mr. James Line of Dickinson township was struck by lightning and killed during one of the recent storms. The horse was found dead near a large locust tree which was shivered to pieces by the bolt.

A few nights since an attempt was made to set fire to the house of Mr. Michael Diller, of Middlesex township. The cellar door during the night was prized open. In the morning a crock of milk was found standing in the yard, an examination was made but nothing was missed. However, a number of shavings were found which had been burned but luckily the fire had gone out before doing any damage. A fierce watch dog probably saved the premises.

Minnie Killinger, aged seven years, and a soldier's orphan at the White Hall school, this county, was fatally scalded on Saturday morning last, by falling backward into a tub of hot water, which was being used for scrubbing purposes. She was playing at the time and ran backwards, not observing the tub which she fell into. She was taken out immediately, but was so badly scalded over a large portion of the body that she died from the effects in the afternoon of the same day.

A little daughter of Mr. David C. Sellers, of Monroe township, while returning from an errand to a Churchtown store was attacked by a tramp, who tore her bonnet from her head and cut off her hair, which she had hanging down her back. The little girl, not giving the alarm immediately, allowed the tramp to escape. Such barbarism as this should be ferreted out by all possible means, and the offenders made to suffer as far as the law will permit.

Just as we are ready to go to press news reaches us that the house of Mr. John Wolf, in North Middleton township, 3 miles north of Carlisle, with all its contents, was entirely destroyed by fire this morning between 6 and 7 o'clock. Mrs. Wolf, who is lying very ill, narrowly escaped with her life. The fire is supposed to have originated from kindling a fire in an unheated stove in Mrs. Wolf's sick room. Great sympathy is felt for Mr. Wolf in his unhappy loss.—Volunteer.

A cowardly, dastardly attempt was made by some wretch to wreck the Carlisle accommodation train west, on the C. V. R. R., on Friday evening, at a point near the Dillsburg Junction.—Heavy sticks of cord-wood had been piled up on the track, with no other evident intention than that of wrecking the train. Fortunately the obstruction was seen a moment before it was struck, and the speed of the train was lessened a little by the action of the air brakes before the shock came. The passengers were well shaken as the locomotive struck the obstruction, but, it gives us great pleasure to say, no one was hurt in the least. Two heavy pieces of wood passed under the pilot of the engine and, becoming jammed between it and one of the pony wheels, was slid along the track a considerable distance, raising the wheel off the track. The obstruction was soon removed and everybody felt much relieved.—Mirror.
