Local Rustlings.

Another deer, shot near Galisteo, was sold in town yesterday.

The zoological gardens are gradually receiving valuable additions.

The Santa Fe Copper Company will, we understand, pay off Monday.

Everybody at San Pedro is in high spirits over the prosperous outlook.

W. E. Dame publishes a contest notice, homestead Bling No. 2,350, abandoned.

Twenty inches of snow is reported at San Pedro and thirty inches at the mine.

Every good man who comes with money or muscle to help Cerrillos, is welcomed.

Ross Griffin sold his interest in the saloon business this week to his partner, J. A. Ready.

It is getting to be quite a common sight, the witnessing of a full train of loaded coal cars made up at Cerrillos.

One mining company at Cerrillos pays out $150 a day. The San Pedro copper mine alone will soon pay out five times that amount.

Good parties are proposing to burn brick and put up substantial business blocks here in the spring. The noise of the boom can almost be heard in the distance.

It is necessary for every business to grow up with the town. There are some good openings at Cerrillos which business men who are wanting locations, will do well to look after.

Boys, the ladies gold watch, if you draw it, will make an excellent present for your best girl, making you solid with her for all future time. Don't neglect sending in your subscription another day.

We neglected to mention the starting of a new business enterprise last week. Mr. McCormac's new meat market in the old Jones store building. Mac has a good stand and the RUSTLER'S best wishes for success.

Reaser Bros., of Santa Fe, contemplate the establishing of a wholesale storage depot here from which to supply the dealers of Cerrillos, San Pedro, Golden, Dolores and other camps with flour, grain and hay.

The advertisement of J. L. Van Arsdell & Co., proprietors of the feed and sale stable east of the Wells Fargo office, Santa Fe, can be found in this paper. This firm is also agent for the Columbus Buggy Co. Give them a call.

Now that the outlook for New Mexico, and especially this part, is looking up, our people should try to encourage everything that will tend to build up Cerrillos. Every person has an influence and often greater than himself supposes. That influence should be exerted to the fullest and by all pulling together, we will have a city.

In the less than six months which the RUSTLER has been published, several thousand copies have been scattered to the four points of the compass, mailed where they would likely do the most good—at the expense of the paper. In addition to these, many more have been sent out by our people who have shown a desire to assist in advertising the town. It is all doing good.

It is seldom indeed that New Mexico witnesses so disagreeable a spell of weather as has been given us this week. The storm which began here on Sunday and which seems to have been general almost over the continent, has kept the sky murky and threatening, while the melting of the snow on the ground has made even short distance walking disagreeable in the extreme. The rare occurrence of bad weather in our admirable climate, makes anything but Italian skies and warm, emotional sunsets, hard to digest.

Sheriff Chaves visited Cerrillos on official business, Wednesday. Transferring the possession of a certain coal mine from the parties working it to Reger & Stoops, was, we understand, the nature of the business. This was known as the old Boyle mine, leased to Mrs. Williams and worked by Maddox, Arnold, and Brydon. These parties were willing to deliver possession of certain tools only, and as these were all that Mr. Chaves had papers covering, they were removed, those belonging to Mrs. Williams were returned and the present operators left in peaceable possession.

Quite a large party of our town people gave Rev. J. W. Jackson and family a surprise pound party Wednesday night. The surprise was complete, but could not equal the appreciation and pleasure with which both the visitors and their bundles of the nice and the useful were received. One of the larger of the bundles contained a fine turkey and bore the compliments of Messrs. Green, Kennedy, Kelley, Ames, Greenwood, Board, Hurt, Bonner and Anderson. Such little acts of attentive sociability are of the most appropriate character and will bear often repeating.

Cerrillos offers a good point for a solid banking house. There is a fair local business, besides the coal companies, the gold workings now starting up around Dolores, the amount of a half million dollars likely to be employed during the next year in working the San Pedro copper mines, besides the prospective building of smelters, organizing and equipping of the mining companies now materializing, will surely indicate to capitalists who are looking for a bank location, that Cerrillos is a good point. The banking business of this entire section is transacted under circumstances of great inconvenience, the nearest banks being at Santa Fe and Albuquerque, 40 to 50 miles away. The strong probability of Cerrillos becoming a large town—and many of the best posted men over the territory on town locations say it will, by virtue of its surroundings, make the largest city in the territory—should make it a good, objective, permanent business point.

Italian skies again to-day.

One hundred and five cars was the output of the Green coal mine, yesterday.

The snow has caused considerable annoyance and some delay to the San Pedro Smelters.

The succulent oyster has made its appearance. Oysters are said to be good, but we don't know. Chawing hay is about as far as our experience has reached.

H. C. Rasmussen has the RUSTLER'S best bow in acknowledgement of a large, fat and juicy thanksgiving turkey. Ras. knows how to touch a hungry newspaper man's heart.

Coroner Gonzalez y Borrego is working 25 men on the stone quarry just below town. One by one the enterprises to employ labor are starting up, and when they all get under way, Cerrillos will be a veritable bee hive.

That Cerrillos has a future is a fact which admits of no contradiction. Another year will see her way up and booming. Parties who want to get the advantages offered by early location in a future good town, should be looking this way.

Support everything else and let the newspaper go, if you want to stay in the old rut. If you want to grow and become a city, having your natural advantages known and realized, support a good local paper and help it boom your interests.

Miss Hayes, of Oakland California, has been employed by superintendent Victory to teach the Cerrillos school, and the term will begin Monday if the desks are in order. We are glad to give space to this item, for a school is what we need and should have.

Send in your subscription orders early and get a chance in the two gold watches to be drawn on Christmas day. No part of a year will be given a number. The subscriber must pay for a year or take a sufficient number of subscriptions to amount to $3.

"I regard it the duty of every good citizen and of every good attorney, to avoid so far as possible, all litigation which might arise from the present condition of titles around Cerrillos, for the present, allowing every enterprise to prosper as much as possible."—E. L. Bartlett.

The ball given at Green's hall last night was a very pleasant affair. The hall was well filled, about thirty couples being present. Music by the Agua Fria band was well received and the "light fantastic" was tipped till the "wee sma' hours." At midnight a splendid supper was served to the weary and hungry dancers by Mrs. May.

The Governor having honored the editor of this paper with an appointment as delegate to attend the Interstate Immigration Convention to be held at Montgomery, Alabama, Dec. 12th, and it being utterly impossible for him to go, he will be pleased to give his proxy to any good man in this part of the county who can or will make the trip. It will be necessary to know at once.

Personal Rustlings.

Jack Deboo has returned from San Pedro.

Valentine Shick was in from San Pedro this morning.

E. Huhn, of the Cash Entry, was in town Wednesday.

Judge Downs, one of Santa Fe's eminent attorneys, was in the city Wednesday.

Mr. C. L. Gould, of the Green Coal Co., made a business trip to Albuquerque Monday.

Mr. David Miller, of the Keystone Coal & Coke Co., was in Santa Fe on business, Tuesday.

L. D. Sugar objects to being called "Old Sweetness." Probably it would be as well to leave the "old" off.

Mr. Coors, of the firm of Coors Bros., Las Vegas, was down Wednesday looking after business interests.

H. S. Arnold will move to San Pedro, he having secured the ore hauling contract from the mine to the smelter.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. M. Chase, of Santa Fe, have moved to Cerrillos for the winter, and at the close of that season we have no doubt but they will be sufficiently well settled with the location and surroundings to make it their permanent home.

Among the business men of Santa Fe who have done so much to build up the trade interests of the county, none are more deserving of mention than Mr. C. M. Creamer, the wholesale and retail druggist. Mr. Creamer has not only done himself credit by permanently establishing a large business, but has by a system of legitimate enterprise in putting prices on a reasonable profit basis, been of advantage to every one of his many customers. All such men merit success, and progressive people will often go out of their way to patronize them.

Turkey Tussles.

The Cerrillos House had a big thanksgiving dinner, consuming 200 pounds of turkey.

Mr. and Mrs. Uptegrove gave a thanksgiving dinner which was handsomely complimented by the invited guests.

Mrs. Ed. Lampert, of Dolores, is being highly complimented on the excellence of her thanksgiving dinner. Quite a number of guests were present. Mr. Ed. E. Sluder did the honors.

Mrs. May's thanksgiving supper is commented on by the many guests present as a very delightful one, doing great credit to the culinary skill of the proprietress of the new restaurant.

Our Christmas Drawing.

Two solid gold watches, one gentleman's and one lady's—will be drawn by the cash subscribers to the RUSTLER who pay three dollars for the paper previous to Christmas day and secure a number. These watches are both very handsome and perfect time pieces, carrying the guarantee of Mr. J. R. Hudson, the Santa Fe Jeweler who sold them to this office. Each cash subscriber secures the paper for the year 1889, besides having a chance to draw one or the other of these watches. If you are already a subscriber, send an extra copy to your relative or friend at a distance and help us out. The watches can be seen at this office.

The manner of drawing the gold watches will be by placing each subscriber's number, as it appears opposite his name on the list, on tickets, the tickets to be placed in a box, shaken up and drawn by a child until the ones are called that correspond with those attached to a watch, which will then become the property of the subscriber whose name on the list corresponds with that number.
