Paint.

In paint as well as in everything else, what you want is the best. Very often we pay for the best, but get far from it. When you have had the best, second best seems bad. Now that is the very reason we want you to use Colonial Paint. After using it once and watching the wear you are convinced it is best and will use no other.

Colonial Paint Works have a reason above others for using the best materials, because the company has been a success for that reason and has forged ahead on these lines at an extraordinary pace. The company feels that its paints will be on the top for this season as sure as oil will float on water. We want you for a user of our paint, for we know you will add ten others after you know its merits. Sold by C. A. Heath in Barre.
