Subscriptions: One year, $3; one month, 35 cts; single copy, 1 cent.

Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 14, 1903.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,716

The American Newspaper Directory is an annual directory of newspapers and their circulations. To secure a statement therein the publisher must furnish a signed detailed statement of a year's issues.

"In the latest issue of the American Newspaper Directory the circulations of the two daily papers of Barre, Vermont, are rated as follows: Telegram, 3,777; Times, 2,704.

No one doubts the accuracy of the Times rating but it has recently been made apparent that the Telegram rating is fraudulent.

It appears that the Britishers can play golf as well as tennis, and that is a good deal. It remains to be seen if they can sail a yacht to beat the Americans.

In the first annual distribution among the counties and towns of New Hampshire of the money received in license fees, practically $500,000 was divided, and it is expected that the sum paid by the same number of licensees will be larger next year, because the licensees will be for a whole year instead of a part of a year as now.

According to the reports published in the Montpelier papers of the case of Edward Clark, charged with attempted rape on a little Montpelier girl the city sheriff, by his own testimony, followed the man and girl to an out building, and by peeping through a crack saw enough to convince him the man meant no good toward the girl.

Under ordinary circumstances an officer would have rescued the girl from harm, but this officer of the law was more circumspect. He wanted witnesses, and he left the child in the possession of the brute to do his worst while he hunted up other officers.

It would be a distinct loss to the Vermont National Guard if it were compelled to give up the state camp ground near Fort Ethan Allen, to the national government.

We thought the city very hot, Its pleasures very few, So we have sought this 'cozy' spot To 'rest' a month or two.

We rest amid the great 'delights' Of some old seashore cove; In fighting flies we spend our nights; In tiny rooms we dwell.

We came to seek a cool retreat, We feel that we must roam, And other years will find us here, While wishing we were home.

There is a humorous side to the Boston Herald, which has recently been made quite prominent in the Sunday Herald.

Joe Smith, the clever satirist, deals out advice to our statesmen and captains of industry. McClusky raps out a little philosophy and patriotism. John Kendrick Bangs talks of things in a way to amuse. Hank Spink brings up to view the life which the city folks remember and the country folks enjoy.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

The marriage of Miss Ethel S. Clements, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Clement of Rutland, and William H. Field of New York, will take place at Brookside, Tuesday, Sept. 8.

Returns made to the Northfield town clerk for six months, ending June 30, show that there were 29 deaths, 11 marriages and 31 births during that time. Of the births 17 were females and 14 males.

William Waldon, a machinist at the Cooper Needle shop, Bennington, sustained an injury yesterday morning, one thumb and two fingers being badly crushed by a piece of machinery falling upon them.

Mrs. Adnah Allen of Stowe, celebrated her 102nd birthday anniversary August 10, in a quiet way. Mrs. Allen has failed in strength since last year, but is able to make her own bed and to go out to her meals. She is deaf, but reads in her Bible every day, and can recite long passages of Scripture.

Several years ago G. W. Bradley discovered a vein of galena ore on the mountain road east of East Arlington. Recently several others have joined him in making an investigation of the mine, and some blasting has been done. The vein carrying the ore is about twelve feet wide between well defined rock walls, the ore being scattered through it in the form of crystals. There is thought to be little doubt that the vein extends a long distance and probably carries ore enough to pay for working.

DISMANTLING BIG SHOPS.

Strike Causes Boston and Albany to Abandon Rensselaer, N. Y.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 13.—A gang of workmen has begun to dismantle the machine shop of the Boston and Albany railroad at Rensselaer, where the machinists are out on strike. Division Master Mechanic A. O. Berry declared that the shop would be permanently closed, in accordance with the ultimatum delivered on Monday to the striking machinists.

The strikers claim to know that the threat is idle, that the only machinery to be removed will be certain old and useless machines long since condemned. Local merchants heard the news with consternation, as the removal of the shops would be a serious blow to them. There is no change in the attitude of the strikers.

Carried Off by Tramps.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—A nine-year-old boy, who gives his name as Percy Bigelow, and who says his father is a wealthy resident of Fort Wayne, Ind., was found by the police in a famished condition in a box car in the Wabash freight yards. He said he had been seized by two tramps while playing in front of his home, thrown into the car and kept a prisoner without food and under threats of death if he made an outcry. His captors had disappeared before the boy was found and no trace of them had been secured. The child is being cared for by the police while his father is communicated with.

Senator Heyburn Married.

West Chester, Pa., Aug. 13.—In strict accordance with the usages of the Society of Friends, United States Senator Weldon Brinton Heyburn of Idaho and Miss Gertrude Yeatman of this county were married in the parlor of the Yeatman homestead in Kennett township. After a wedding dinner the newly married couple were driven to Rosedale station, where they boarded their Pullman car and started upon their wedding tour, which will end next week at Wallace, Ida.

Pallium For Archbishop Farley.

New York, Aug. 13.—His grace the Most Rev. John J. Farley, archbishop of New York, was invested with the pallium at the hands of the Very Rev. Mgr. Diomedes Falconio, apostolic delegate to the United States, in St. Patrick's cathedral. People were in attendance from all quarters of the archdiocese, and there were not a few from outside. The ceremony was elaborate.

Three Hundred Achinese Killed.

Amsterdam, Aug. 13.—Three hundred Achinese were killed in a recent battle with the Dutch troops at the village of Poeloeitumah, in the middle of the island of Sumatra. The Dutch lost an officer and six men killed and an officer and fifty men wounded. They captured the village.

Automobilist Jarrott Married.

London, Aug. 13.—Charles Jarrott, the motorist (who was one of the British team in the Irish race for the James Gordon Bennett cup, during which he was injured through an accident to his car), has been married in London to the Countess of Rosslyn, the divorced wife of the Earl of Rosslyn, the actor. The ceremony was performed quietly, only the couple and their intimate friends being present.

Curzon's Term of Office Extended.

London, Aug. 13.—Lord Curzon's term of office as viceroy of India has been extended from January to May, 1904. In making this announcement in the house of commons Lord George Hamilton, secretary of state for India, added that should Lord Curzon be able to continue his duties in India beyond that date the government would extend his period of office for another term, not exceeding two years.

THE HORROR AT KISHINEFF. Report of British Vice Consul at Odessa Made Public. ONLY FORTY-TWO KILLED. Three Hundred and Seventy-one Wounded—Few Cases of Mutilation Discovered—Complacency of Local Authorities Proved.

London, Aug. 13.—A dispatch from the British consul general at Odessa, forwarding the report made by the British vice consul at Odessa, V. Bosanquet, who was sent specially to Kishineff to obtain the facts regarding the recent anti-Jewish riots there, is published.

Mr. Bosanquet's report generally agrees with the stories of the occurrences previously cabled. It says: "The area of the disturbances comprised two-thirds of the town of Kishineff. The murders all occurred on Monday, the second day of the disturbances. They were perpetrated by bands of rioters in different parts of the town. Many believe they were the work of organized companies, which fact argues in favor of a prearranged conspiracy to exterminate the Jews. If this belief is not accepted, the riots must be attributed to the articles in the Bessarabets (the anti-Semitic organ in Kishineff), to the unfounded report of the Jewish murder of a Christian priest, to the wine drunk early on Monday and to the belief, which seems to have grown with the continued inaction of the authorities, that the latter wished the Jews to be massacred or had even ordered it. Apparently a feeling existed among the lower classes that the Jews ought not to be in a majority in Kishineff."

"The local authorities took no effective step to stop the riots. The soldiers were passive if not sympathetic spectators. The police contented themselves with the arrest of minor criminals until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, when the governor, who had remained at home telephoning orders which were disregarded, at length ventured to sign the necessary order for the troops to be employed. The only case heard of in which the latter used their weapons was when they bayoneted a Christian boy who was pursuing a Jew with stones; This boy was the only Christian killed during the disturbances. If resolute action had been taken by the authorities I believe the riots would have been checked at an early stage."

Mr. Bosanquet places the Jewish victims at forty-one killed and 363 wounded, while among the Christians one was killed and sixty-eight wounded. Official inquiries, he says, show that three women were violated, but this may well represent a small fraction of the actual number, since the Jewish women naturally remain silent for their own sakes, as under the Mosala law divorce must follow violation. The vice consul heard of the rape of a girl, twelve years old, and of others aged thirteen, but this was only hearsay. Mutilation and deliberate torture of the victims, he says, do not seem to have been practiced. Though there were undoubtedly great barbarities, he only knows of one case of mutilation, when a man's eye was put out with a nail. He heard stories of mutilation after death and of a child being torn limb from limb, but he considers the latter story to be improbable, considering that only two little children appear to have perished.

Mr. Bosanquet pays a tribute to Prince Urusoff, the new governor of Bessarabia, who, he says, helped him with every means in his power. "On the arrival of the new governor, who is doing all he can to gain the confidence of the Jewish population," adds the vice consul, "matters began to improve, and the commercial life of the town was resumed. A newcomer, visiting the Jewish quarter, can see no signs of a stoppage of business, and it is hoped that Jewish commercial affairs will improve."

"The Jews place their losses at 2,000,000 rubles, but this figure is probably an exaggeration. "About 880 rioters were arrested and 308 were punished on minor charges, while 216 were acquitted. Three hundred and sixty rioters will be tried at Tiraspol in October, of which number 100 are charged with murder in addition to other crimes. If they are found guilty they will be sentenced to penal servitude on the island of Sakhalin."
