TUESDAY, AUGUST 25, 1903.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,795

A GAIN OF 400

In the daily circulation of the Times since Jan. 1st is something no other Washington county daily can show.

The circulation statements of the Times can always be verified by anyone who so wishes. Press room, circulation books, paper bills and all that pertains to the circulation of the Times are open to the inspection of all. Is there any other Washington county daily that will show up in like manner?

The two-minute trotter has arrived in Lou Dillon and a new world's record was made on the Readville track yesterday.

It is doubtful if Mr. Palfizer's $2,000,000 school for journalists will ever prove the success as the schooling a young man gets in the employ of his newspaper, the New York World.

The laying of a paving stone yesterday gave Mayor Jackson an opportunity to call attention to some facts in relation to the city's financial affairs that are too often overlooked, and a repetition of them will do no harm. Mayor Jackson compared the city with the village of 15 years ago, when we had a grand list of $20,000 against one of $40,000 now. While our grand list has only doubled our streets have increased in mileage from 18 to 45, we have 20 miles of sewer where we then had none, and 33 miles of water pipes where the village owned none then. Another matter of growth the mayor overlooked was the growth of our school system in the same period from one small building to eight large and small buildings. No city in Vermont can show anything like such a growth on so small a grand list, and no municipality in New England wastes so little money.

SIRENS AND SONS.

Raymond Robins of Chicago has become head resident of the Northwestern University settlement.

Attorney General Knox has purchased a farm which formed part of Washington's camp at Valley Forge.

Senator Arthur Pue Gorman of Maryland says his recent trip to Europe has added ten years to his life.

Frederick W. Vanderbilt has given up living at Newport for good and will devote most of his attention to his farm hereafter.

Samuel Spaulding of Lebanon, Ky., the oldest bank president in the United States, as well as the oldest graduate of a Catholic college in the United States, died recently.

Congressman Boutwell proposes as a means of promoting annexation the intermarriage of American and Canadians, adding that he has already taken his wife from Canada.

George J. Gould, the railway magnate and millionaire, is credited with a desire to go to congress from the New Jersey district in which his summer home, Lakewood, is situated.

Dr. Carl Peters, who is called the Cecil Rhodes of Germany, is now in London, preparing to set forth on another journey to East Africa, in the neighborhood of the Zambesi.

James B. Jenkins, who was engaged for more than forty years in prosecuting the claims of the Six Nations against the United States government, has just died at Oneida, N. Y.

General Thomas N. Waul is dead at Greenville, Tex. He opposed Sam Houston for governor in 1859 and was one of the electors at large on the Breckinridge and Lane ticket in 1860. In the civil war he raised 2,000 troops, which were organized as Waul's legion.

Professor Ludwig Mond, the chemist, has joined, with Mark Twain and several other prominent men, the list of distinguished persons who have read their own death notices. The death of Professor Mond was reported from Rome while he was enjoying the scenery about Montreux.

Carbon.

Today we affirm the necessity of carbon for the constitution of living organisms. But no one knows what carbon is. Doubtless the inhabitants of Rigel and Deneb—stars characterized by the rays of titanium and silicon—would understand nothing of the necessity for carbon.

Origin of the Frock Coat.

The frock coat is unquestionably an English invention, and its first recorded appearance is in 1540, in the reign of Henry VIII. It is described as "a coat of velvet somewhat shaped like a frock, embroidered all over with fatted gold of damasks."

You Name the Date and We'll Do the Rest.

If you have any particular fancy in regard to cut and pattern and fail to find your ideas in our ready-to-wear stock, then is the time to use our made-to-order department. We have these two methods—the ready-to-wear and the made-to-order—so as to suit every man or boy without argument. August is too warm for arguments.

"Here! Stop that!"
 "What for? Ain't you the man what said every boy should have some aim in life?"—Chicago American.

THRONE LIGHTS.

Princess Henry of Battenberg is an adept in the almost lost art of illuminating.

The king of Italy is an enthusiastic electrician and a successful experimenter with the X rays. He has outgrown the physical weakness of his younger days and is now full of energy.

The new king of Serbia, like the last ill fated holder of the title, is only royal by position, not by blood, and the same may be observed of his sons, of whom one will probably take the title of crown prince.

At least five sovereigns will attend the marriage of Prince Andrew of Greece and Princess Alice of Battenberg. The czar, Emperor William, King Christian and King George have promised to attend the ceremony.

Book Production.
 The production of books of all kinds from the cheapest to the works of high art is rapidly expanding by reason of the growth of public libraries and the habit of most householders to accumulate a few books. The existence of large libraries instead of restricting the sale of books is increasing the sale.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

The Montreal flyer, crowded with passengers from New York and Boston narrowly escaped being wrecked near Brandon Saturday by the breaking of the tire on one of the driving wheels of the engine. There was a delay of an hour before another engine was procured.

In the seventh annual series of chess games recently closed in which several Montpelier men participated, through the National Correspondence Chess Association, H. A. Dubuc of Montpelier, won five out of six games played, and the sixth was a draw. For his skill at this game Mr. Dubuc will receive a bronze medal.

Owing to the rapid increase in excursion business the Champlain Transportation Co. will build another new steamer to replace the Maquam, that decision having been reached after an inspection of the line by David Wilcox, president, and D. A. Loomis, manager. Work on the new boat will be begun next winter and she will go into commission in 1905. It is expected the cost of construction will be about $90,000.

John Hughes, an employe of Sig. Sautelle's circus, was apprehended at Waterbury Sunday night, through the efforts of Sheriff B. F. Kelley who was asked for assistance by Harry Allen, chief-of-detectives and legal adviser of the Sautelle shows. Hughes is charged with stealing $250 from the manager of the circus lunch outfit. Mr. Allen said that Hughes had not been under suspicion until he began to give away sums of money ranging from $5 to $20 and that he had always been a trusted employe of the circus since his first joining it. The money was to have been turned into the treasurer of the combination and was taken by Hughes while three of his friends were standing by. Hughes left St. Albans upon the 6 o'clock train Sunday night and was taken from the train at Waterbury. Over $100 of the $250 stolen has not been recovered up to date.

THINGS THEATRICAL.

Grace George apparently has finally made up her mind to appear as Beatrice. She will try the experiment first in Brooklyn.

Among other plays which Mrs. Patrick Campbell hopes to bring out in the course of her autumn season is "Tristan and Isault," by Mr. Joseph Camyus Carr.

Cecil Raleigh will once again furnish Drury Lane theater, London, with its autumnal sensation. He describes his play as a melodrama. The title selected is "The Flood Tide."

"Little Mary" is the title which J. M. Barrie has selected for his new comedy to be produced in London. The principal characters will be played by John Hare and Nina Boucicault.

A new play by the late Bret Harte and T. Edgar Pemberton, called "Hold Up," is to have a trial in the British provinces. It is a version of Harte's story, "Snowbound at Eagle's."

Wilson Barrett will begin his next season in England with a revival of "Claudian" and hopes to appear in a London theater in the spring. Next year he will revisit the United States.

The Swordfish.
 A swordfish has been known to perforate the bottom of a ship and leave its sword to stop up the hole.

Deafness.
 Cases of deafness should not be allowed to go without treatment. Even the seemingly hopeless cases should be sent to the aurist for an opinion as to a likelihood of improvement under treatment.

GOWN GOSSIP.

It is prophesied that jeweled collars will be in before long.

Shaded effects appear in everything—hats, feathers, ribbons, velvets.

The prettiest simple gowns for autumn wear will be modifications of the shirt waist suit.

The entire costume for autumn wear will be much more tight fitting than that of a year ago.

Full dress demands a white glove or suede glove. For morning wear there are browns, tans and pongee tones.

The new hats are nearly all toque shaped, the predicted high crowned picture shapes not having appeared as yet.

Banded robes are promised considerable vogue next fall. Jet, iridescent and opalescent effects will alike be favored.

Wood silk laces are among the novelties of the hour. They are used for all kinds of trimming purposes and for neckwear, and their attractiveness cannot be doubted.

The Inquisition.
 The Inquisition was established by Pope Innocent III. in 1230, and it still exists in Rome, but its activity is limited to an examination of heretical books and to trial for ecclesiastical offenses.
