Elgin, Ill., August 30, 1903.

E. Sudendorf, Secretary the National Creamery Buttermakers' Association, says: "My daughter was troubled every spring with weakness and insomnia accompanied with the most painful and irritating eczema. The doctors diagnosed it as impure blood. A friend who had been cured of impure blood by Paine's Celery Compound recommended it and she has taken three or four bottles of Paine's Celery Compound each spring and fall for the past five years and has ever since enjoyed the best of health."

SENTENCE OF SHERWOOD

Defaulting Connecticut Banker Gets Ten Years' Imprisonment.

IT WAS MAXIMUM PENALTY

The Prisoner, Who Pleaded Guilty, Had Misappropriated Funds to the Amount of $100,000—Was Caught in Panama.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 23.—Charged with the misappropriation of funds and securities of the Southport National bank to the amount of $100,000, Oliver T. Sherwood, the former cashier of that institution, who was brought back from Panama, was sentenced by Judge Platt in the United States district court to ten years' imprisonment, the maximum penalty. Sherwood appeared very nervous in the court room, his face and hands twitching convulsively, and he heard the sentence as if dazed.

When the case was called, the prisoner, through his counsel, A. L. Shipman of Hartford, entered a plea of guilty, retracting his former plea of not guilty. District Attorney Parker of Hartford, in addressing the court, said that the indictment against Sherwood embraced three counts, the first including general misappropriation of funds and securities to the amount of at least $100,000, the second false entries in the books of the bank and the third false entries in the report to the United States comptroller. The district attorney said that the bank's capital was $100,000 and that there was a surplus of $40,000. He considered that in view of all the circumstances connected with the case the prisoner should be given the full penalty on at least one of the counts, and he reminded the court that the law provided from five to ten years as the punishment in cases of this sort.

Counsel's Plea For Prisoner.
Attorney Shipman made a brief plea for the prisoner. He said there was no use denying the guilt of the respondent and that the latter had admitted it. In view, however, of the report of a physician who had examined Sherwood the attorney declared that the case presented a psychological problem which he himself was not able to solve. He did not know whether it could be called a case of dual personality or what, but he was certain that Sherwood showed mental peculiarities.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Platt expressed regret that an unpleasant duty had fallen to him and said he had tried hard to convince himself that it would be possible to meet the ends of justice by giving the prisoner a sentence of less than ten years, but he was unable to reach such a conclusion. He asked Sherwood and his counsel to remember that the court had it within his power to take into consideration all the three counts and that since he chose to take only one of them he was exercising forbearance as far as was consistent with the circumstances. He then sentenced the prisoner to ten years in prison.

Sherwood seemed stunned by the sentence. He will be taken to Wethersfield.

HEARING OF SENATOR GREEN.

Before United States Commission on Charge of Conspiracy.

Binghamton, N. Y., Sept. 23.—The hearing in the case of State Senator George A. Green, charged with conspiracy and bribery growing out of the postal investigation, was begun before United States Commissioner Hall.

United States District Attorney Curtis appeared for the people and Assemblyman James T. Rogers and T. H. Tutill for the defense. Mr. Tutill moved that the charges be dismissed on the grounds that the indictments upon which the charges are based do not recite sufficient facts to constitute a crime. Commissioner Hall denied the motion.

District Attorney Curtis offered in evidence copies of the indictment, also the complaint and two warrants.

Mr. Curtis asked that an adjournment be taken until Sept. 28, stating that an application will be made to Judge Ray to decide if a further examination here was necessary. The case was accordingly adjourned until Sept. 28.

FIGHTING ON BORDER.

Residents on Turco-Bulgarian Frontier Moving Out For Safety.

London, Sept. 23.—A dispatch from Gultchero, on the Turco-Bulgarian frontier, to the Daily Mail reports great excitement because of a skirmish between Turkish and Bulgarian troops last Saturday on the mountain range which forms the border line. The general impression is that war is only a question of a few days, and the people are removing their property from the frontier districts to places of safety.

Turkey is massing 40,000 troops in and around Palanka, ten miles from the Bulgarian frontier, against which force the Bulgarians have only 4,000 men at Kostendil.

The Turkish frontier officers, says a dispatch to the Times from Dubuitza, Bulgaria, report that the insurgents under General Zontcheff have been defeated with great slaughter near Melnik, and a great number of Bulgarians were massacred in the neighboring villages, several of which are burning.

Mountain Climbers Killed.

London, Sept. 23.—Four tourists who were climbing the Scalfell mountain in Cumberland fell down a precipice and were killed. Scalfell is a mountain near the borders of Westmorland, ten miles northeast of Ravenglass. It has two summits, respectively 3,116 and 3,062 feet high. The river Esk rises on its east side.

Four Section Men Killed.

Geneseo, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Four section men on the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad were killed near Mount Morris by being struck by a west bound train from New York to Buffalo. They were on a hand car and owing to a heavy fog were unable to see the approaching train.

Posse Reported In Pursuit of Professed Enemy of Murdered Man.

SEARCH TO BE THOROUGH.

Unlimited Money to Be Spent to Run Down Assassin—Other Adirondack Landowners Interested. Hostility of Woodsmen.

Malone, N. Y., Sept. 23.—With the sum of $50,000 at his disposal, John P. Badger, attorney for the relatives of Orlando P. Dexter, who was shot and killed on his Adirondack estate by an assassin, has returned here to begin the hunt for the murderer. While he was in New York he arranged for the best detective talent in the country to come to the Adirondack region and participate in the search.

In spite of the apparent slightness of clues it is said that a squad of woodsmen has been sent out to arrest a man suspected of the crime. The man in question is supposed to be in St. Lawrence county, near the border of Mr. Dexter's 10,000 acre preserve. He is declared to have been openly at enmity with the owner of the land and has even, it is said, threatened Mr. Dexter's life.

Mr. Badger has practically unlimited financial resources to aid in tracking down the assassin. Mr. Henry Dexter, who inherits the million dollar estate of his son, told the lawyer to spare no expense. Back of Mr. Dexter and the attorney are the millionaire members of the Adirondack association, of which Henry E. Howland is president, who are greatly stirred by the deadly hostility against them revealed by Orlando Dexter's murder. The members will not participate publicly in the hunt for Dexter's assassin, but they will give all possible assistance as individuals, and as an association they intend petitioning the legislature for increased protection against lawlessness.

Owners of Great Estates.

The association has sixty members, whose preserves in Adirondack parks cover 780,933 acres of forest. Over 700,000 acres of this lie within the State park. William Rockefeller owns 52,000 acres, William C. Whitney 71,281 acres and the Adirondack League club, which has 285 members, maintains the Hamilton park preserve of 75,000 acres. Alfred G. Vanderbilt, J. Pierpont Morgan, W. Seward Webb and John and Timothy Woodruff are among the individual owners of immense tracts.

Against several of these men the Adirondack guides have a deadly hatred, since the establishment of the game preserves has curtailed their hunting and fishing privileges and their chance to make a living by piloting visitors through the forests has been cut off.

Residents of the region admit that if the murderer of Dexter went undetected and unpunished it would tend to breed crimes of a similar nature against others of his class and a reign of terror throughout a wide territory.

Feeling Against W. G. Rockefeller.

William G. Rockefeller, who has been regarded as a marked man throughout the region, has won admiration for his bravery in going to his estate in Franklin county on hearing of Mr. Dexter's murder. Villagers make no secret of the fact that his life is in imminent peril, but Mr. Rockefeller carries himself with utter disregard for the assassin's bullet. He has an estate of 50,000 acres or virgin forest, which he has rigorously closed against hunters, fishermen, game poachers and visitors. He has gone to court to maintain his exclusive right to the waterways on his estate, and the guides and other residents have raised money to defray the expenses of fighting his contention through the courts.

During the forest fires last spring dozens of incendiary fires were started on Mr. Rockefeller's estate. Mr. Whitney and some other big property owners allow hunting and fishing under certain restrictions on their preserves, and as a consequence no feeling exists against them.

Sheriff Frank Steenberge has returned from Dexter park, where he and his deputies have been searching for the murderer of Dexter. He declined to make any statement regarding developments other than to say that nothing further toward the identity of the murderer had been learned. There are many rumors afloat, but many of those, when followed up, proved worthless.

A woman employed at the Dexter cottage states that a few nights before Mr. Dexter was shot a noise was heard about the grounds near the cottage, and a lantern was seen moving in the timber by several of the employees. Mr. Dexter also was aware of the fact

MUNYON'S PAW-PAW

TRADE MARK

In presenting PAW PAW, a natural stomach, heart and nerve tonic, I feel that I have added to the science of medicine a force that is as revolutionary as was vaccination, as important to mankind as the discovery of antiseptics, and as beneficial in the preservation of human life and happiness as anything that man's ingenuity or providential wisdom has ever devised.

The Standard Dictionary says: "Paw Paw is the fruit of a small tropical tree of the passion flower family. The juice of the fruit or leaves has the remarkable property of rendering meat tender."

The Practical Druggist and Review of Reviews says: "The juice of the Paw Paw is more efficacious than peppin in dissolving albumen. It is also an excellent vermifuge. The natives of India use it constantly for children, a single dose often being sufficient for a cure. The fruit or juice seems to have the same effect as a good digestive and is most effective in cases of dyspepsia and habitual constipation."

Having combined this wonderful natural remedy with other medicaments, I positively assert that I am giving to the world the greatest stomach, blood, heart and nerve tonic known to mankind.

I know that Paw Paw will make wornout stomachs almost as good as new; will make good rich blood and build up the nervous system; will do away with both the necessity and desire for beer, whiskey, wine and other injurious stimulants.

A body that is overworked, a system that is run down, requires a stimulant. Alcoholic stimulants lift but let you fall. PAW PAW LIFTS AND HOLDS YOU.

I want every weak and debilitated person to give Paw Paw a trial.

I want every doctor carefully to test this remedy and then honestly tell the public the results.

I want every clergyman, when he feels exhausted, to take Paw Paw and then tell his friends what he thinks of it.

I want every mother to introduce Paw Paw into her home. It will prove a ready agent in curing and warding off many diseases.

I want every tired woman, after a hard day's work or an afternoon's shopping, to take a tablespoonful of Paw Paw, and see how quickly it will refresh and invigorate her.

I urge upon brain workers particularly the use of Paw Paw. It will immediately give tone and energy to the whole nervous system.

If the toiler who feels the need of a stimulant will step into the nearest drug store and ask for Paw Paw he will have no further use for whiskey, beer or other stimulants.

I believe that when the public becomes thoroughly familiar with the virtues of Paw-Paw it will not only be used in every home, but will be adopted into the United States Army and Navy, and used in every hospital throughout the civilized world.

that some intruder was about and called the attention of the employees to what he had seen.

When a stir was made at the cottage to investigate the matter the light disappeared and was evidently extinguished by the person in order that his identity might not be discovered. The incident was not considered important until after the shooting, when it was recalled.

The offer of the reward of $5,000 by the Dexter family will stimulate local officers in the search for the murderer, but the detection of the guilty party will be surrounded with great difficulties. If the act was committed by a resident of the neighborhood his friends will be likely to at least sympathize with him and will conceal from, rather than reveal to, the officers any facts which they may possess.

New York, Sept. 22.—An offer of $5,000 reward has been made by Henry Dexter, the aged father of Orlando P. Dexter, who was shot from ambush in the Adirondacks near Malone, N. Y., for the arrest and conviction of his son's murderer, and under this incentive searching parties have set out in quest of the murderer and are beating the woods in the vicinity of Santa Clara and Malone.

Mr. Dexter has instructed J. P. Badger, who accompanied the body of his son to New York, to make the anouncement of the $5,000 reward public. It has been published throughout all that part of the Adirondacks.

"I have no doubt unlimited sums will be spent to run this cowardly assassin to earth," said Mr. Badger. "Mr. Dexter was deliberately murdered. His assassin planned the crime skillfully and has so far carefully covered up his tracks, but there are some clues, of which I cannot speak just now, which I have hope will put us on the right track."

"The motive for the crime was revenge for some real or fancied wrong suffered by somebody who may have believed he was doing a righteous thing for the benefit of the community at large."

Dexter Had Many Enemies.
"Mr. Dexter had many enemies because of his relentless warfare against game poachers, timber cutters and trespassers. He had much litigation, and many of the woodsmen felt bitter against him, as they do against other wealthy gentlemen who have established game preserves in the North woods and who are held to be infringing on the rights of the original settlers.

"Some of these men had made threats against Mr. Dexter's life, and naturally they are under suspicion."

Though Mr. Badger was averse to discussing the hostility among the woodsmen toward the New York millionaire who have been cutting the North woods up into game preserves, a dispatch from Santa Clara says that the county authorities have long been anticipating such a crime as the assassination of Mr. Dexter. The surprising statement is made that William Rockefeller and not Mr. Dexter was the man the authorities feared would be the first victim of the Adirondack woodmen.

One of Dexter's Lawsuits.

Utica, N. Y., Sept. 23.—There was filed in the United States court in this city final record in one of the numerous suits to which Orlando P. Dexter, who was murdered near Malone, was a party. It was the return of an execution for $35 costs against Mr. Dexter, the last chapter in litigation which started after Mr. Dexter had destroyed a dam upon his estate in the mountains.

The Story of Father John's

An Interesting History of Fifty Years.

In 1848 Rev. Father John O'Brien, a noble man, came to Lowell, Mass., to do the Master's work in St. Patrick's Parish. In 1854 Father John, as he was fondly known to his people, was attacked with a serious cold which, developing into a stubborn cough and affliction of the lungs, caused the greatest alarm for the health of the beloved clergyman.

Medical skill seemed unable to stay the progress of the disease. Finally an eminent specialist was consulted, who gave Father John a prescription to cure the cold and remove the lung trouble, as well as to build up and strengthen the body. The clergyman took the prescription to the old drug store of Carleton & Hovey, Lowell, Mass., the firm by whom Father John's Medicine is prepared. The cough soon disappeared and his people rejoiced when he declared that he had been made as well and strong as ever.

Father John recommended the medicine to his parishioners and friends, and thousands were made well and strong by taking it. In getting this prescription they always called for "Father John's Medicine," and so it was named by the people, and advertised—all with the approval and sanction of Reverend Father O'Brien, because he knew of its merit and desired that all who were ailing might benefit by its power to cure.

This old-fashioned wholesome remedy is unequalled as a body-builder and tonic. It restores health and strength to all run-down systems. Its gentle laxative effect strengthens the stomach and corrects the digestion. It drives out all impurities. It is a food medicine and contains only pure nourishment. It is not a patent medicine, and it is free from opium, morphine or poisonous drugs in any form, which are found in the majority of patent preparations.

While it is not a "cough syrup" or "balsam," nothing equals this prescription for coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, consumption and all throat and lung troubles. It has a most soothing and healing effect and at the same time builds up the body and makes strength.

We have permission to refer to the Sisters Superior at the following Homes and Hospitals where Father John's Medicine is in use: Sisters of Charity, St. John's Hospital, Lowell, Mass.; Notre Dame de Lourdes Hospital, Manchester, N. H.; Sisters of Mercy, St. Patrick's Orphanage, Manchester, N. H.; and many others, the names of which we shall be pleased to furnish upon application. When you ask your druggist for Father John's Medicine, remember that the $1 bottles contain three times the quantity of the 50-cent size.
