Only Twenty-nine of the Pittsburg Team Faced Bill Dineen of the Hub Team.

Boston, Oct. 2.—The Boston Americans evened up their initial defeat by shutting out Pittsburg 3 to 0 today in the second of the games for the world's championship.

Dineen pitched one of the best games of his career. The National team got but three hits and only five men reached first base out of the 29 who faced Dineen.

Leever started in to pitch for Pittsburg. He was hit freely, and Vall replaced him after the first inning. Barring wildness, Vall pitched cleverly, although superb support extricated him from several awkward situations.

A CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

Frank L. Slack of Rutland Arrested Yesterday Morning.

Rutland, Oct. 2.—Frank L. Slack, a well known man, was arrested this morning by Deputy Sheriff Enos C. Fish, on a warrant charging him with embezzlement. The arrest is the result of a complaint made by a local insurance firm, Kinsman and Fletcher, to State's Attorney W. H. Preston.

Slack was given several policies to collect premiums upon. He collected them, but refused to turn over the money to the firm. Slack was, until about four years ago, a prominent citizen of Rutland, and stood high in Masonic circles. At that time he was arrested on the charge of defrauding various insurance companies which he represented, but in some manner he managed to escape paying a penalty for any misdoings.

Slack was arraigned before Justice W. J. M. Ross this morning and gave $100 bail for his appearance next Tuesday.

PORTO RICO'S PUBLIC LAND.

Nearly One Hundred Thousand Acres to Be Thrown Open to Settlers.

The recent proclamation of President Roosevelt designating between 90,000 and 100,000 acres of land in Porto Rico to be set apart as public lands has led to many inquiries, especially in the United States, as to what these lands are worth and how they may be obtained by individuals, writes the San Juan correspondent of the Philadelphia Press.

It is not probable that they will be sold. The legislative assembly, which will meet in January next, will doubtless arrange to lease them for long terms and at a low price, the proceeds under the insular law going to the University of Porto Rico. These leases will be practically equivalent to the best titles and will contain provisions for the full indemnity of lessees who have improved the property if ever it becomes necessary for the insular government to use the land. The lands soon to be thrown open to the public may be classified as follows:

First.—High woody lands, suitable for trees, these lands being also preferred for coffee cultivation.

Second.—Low brushy lands, suitable for fruits and the cultivation of minor products and sometimes utilized for planting sugar cane.

Third.—Level lands, fit for the planting of sugar cane, cotton, rice and rich pasturage.

Fourth.—Argill and clayish lands, adapted for the manufacture of bricks, tiles and other articles of domestic use.

There are also lands on which can be produced as good tobacco as the best obtained in the island of Cuba. It requires only wise and careful manipulation from the moment of seeding to the sowing, drying and curing processes. As a general rule, most of all lands are proper for the cultivation of fruits, especially oranges and limes.

WILL HAVE POWER SOON.

Consolidated Expects to Start New Power Plant First of Week.

The granite manufacturers who depend on the Consolidated Lighting Co. for power and have been obliged to close down a good portion of the time for the past three weeks for a lack of it, will be pleased to know that the Consolidated company expects to have its new power plant in operation the first of next week. A fire was built yesterday to dry the chimney and to get everything warmed up and in readiness.

The drought this fall has been the most severe in years and the electric companies who depend on water power are not the only sufferers. The spring water companies in and around Barre are feeling it severely and those who have sufficient water are helping out others who have been short for weeks.

CASE NOT FINISHED.

Hathaway-Gossett Case is Still on in County Court.

Montpelier, Oct. 2.—County court did not finish the Hathaway Gossett case this week as was expected and it is probable that it will occupy the court's attention until next Tuesday evening. The case has developed disputes over lot lines as well as the amount, kinds, and quality of timber cut by the defendant's workmen.

It is understood that Judge Haselton has changed his views with regard to the length of this term of court. He now thinks there will be too much important business unfinished at the opening of Supreme Court the last week in October to permit a final adjournment then, and that he will return after the session of Supreme Court is done.

INJUNCTION ON SCHOOL HOUSE

City Stopped in Construction of Same

BY A. C. AND C. W. AVERILL

Claim City is Taking Street That is Orators' Property Without Due Process of Law.

A temporary injunction was served on the city this forenoon, stopping the work of construction on the new school building foundations on Elm street. The parties securing the injunction are A. C. Averill, C. W. Averill and Lucy F. Cumings. The papers in the case are lengthy, but briefly stated, the injunction is brought on the ground that the city has commenced the erection of a school building on, and have been and are obstructing a highway.

The orators further assert that they are owners of the land in said highway when its use for highway purposes is discontinued, that in taking the street the city is taking orator's property without due process of law. It is further claimed that the closing of the street is a damage to the Cumings house which faces the street.

The injunction was issued by Judge Haselton at the instance of R. A. Hour, attorney for the orators, and it sets a date for appearance on this matter the first Wednesday in March, 1901.

Earlier in the year the school commissioners of Barre, in looking for a site for the new school house, finally decided that the land located off Elm street, at the foot of Franklin, the most convenient, and proceeded to buy up the lots required for a site. The lots were part of what was originally one piece of land owned by the Averills.

They cut it up and put a street through the center, leading the street to the city. One lot near Jefferson street, but facing on the street laid out by the Averills, contained a dwelling which was purchased by Lucy F. Cumings. This was not required for a school house site, but all the rest of the land in the original piece including the street was.

The commissioners bought the lots on both sides and moved the street to one end, deflecting its course away from the Cumings' house, but not discontinuing that portion of it that was in front of the Cumings property.
