"Times, of Course"

That's what all the newsboys say when asked which Barre paper sells the best. There is no doubt about it.

The open season for hunting deer in Vermont begins today. The only advice to hunters is "Be careful."

With Carrie Naron and the Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst of New York after him, John Alexander Dowle undoubtedly wishes he was back in Zion.

Vermont towns seem to be getting their baptism of fire and Plainfield was not to be left out. The destruction of its large school building is a deplorable loss which the neighboring town can ill afford to sustain.

The Springfield, Mass., Republican goes this paper one better by stating that Judge Wendell P. Stafford of St. Johnsbury "is" the man whom Senator Proctor has recommended to the president for appointment as a justice of the supreme court of the District of Columbia. The Republican says of Judge Stafford that he "was appointed to the Vermont bench by Gov. Smith in 1900, after having been for 15 years a prominent member of the Caledonia county bar at St. Johnsbury."

The following Spartan-like way of bringing up a boy is presented by the Augusta, Ga., Chronicle, and there is a good deal of common sense in it: Teach your boy self-reliance. Don't encourage him in the idea that he is ruined if he cuts his finger, or let him become demoralized at the sight of blood, or the twinge of pain. Let him understand that he is going to encounter hard knocks, and he must hit hard in return. Boys who have guns and go hunting with their fellows or go swimming with other boys, are not often shot or drowned than those about whom the greatest safe-guards are thrown, while the latter are apt to lack self-reliance when they come to be men, and no longer have the protecting arms of doting parents guarding them against every menace of danger. Get into your boy's head the fact that he is going to be a man and the sooner he starts the more certain will be the achievements.

George B. McClellan, Tammany's candidate for mayor of New York, is a pitiable object. He is not allowed by the Tammany leaders to deliver a speech extemporaneously for fear that, on account of his youthfulness, he would make a break. All his speeches are written beforehand, and carefully edited by the Tammany chieftains. Then the young candidate is not allowed to make his own selection of a speech. A boss goes about with him in his stumping tour and picks out the speech which is most fitted for the locality in which he is speaking. McClellan is not allowed to answer any questions fired at him from his audience. Instead he is cautioned to overlook all such interrogations and to stick closely to the reading of his manuscript. Lest he swerve from this course a Tammany man is present at his elbow to restrain him if he oversteps the limit set by the organization which is back of him. Such in brief is the picture of a candidate for mayor of New York, hemmed in, confined and fairly muzzled by the power that is back of him. If his candidacy is so under the grip of Tammany how much more would he be in its grip if he should get into office.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Elijah Taylor, who lives near Metcalf pond, East Fairfield, caught a species of wildcat last week Thursday in a trap he had set for a fox.

Col. Fred L. Eaton has been elected president and general manager of the Sioux City Stock Yards Co., Sioux City, Ia. Col. Eaton is a former resident of Montpelier where he was cashier of the First National Bank.

D. A. Loomis, of Burlington, general manager of the Champlain Transportation Co., at a meeting of the board of directors of the company in Troy, N. Y., Tuesday, was elected treasurer of the company to succeed A. C. Spaulding deceased.

Prosper Morris of Bartonville, in the town of Rockingham, according to a record of the younger portion of the Morris family, was 102 years old July 14, 1903, and was one of 13 children, there being two sets of triplets and three pairs of twins. Mr. Morris was one of the sets of triplets and was born in Bertha, Canada. He is believed to be the oldest man in Vermont.

Melvin M. Wadsworth of Bennington, who is now an inmate of the Gill Odd Fellows home, was 90 years old yesterday. He has the distinction of being the oldest member of that fraternity in the state, having been a member in good standing of Stark lodge for over 50 years. Of those who were members when he took the degrees not another one is now living.

The trackage agreement between the Boston & Maine and Rutland railroads whereby all trains ran direct from Burlington to Troy, N. Y., has terminated and now with two exceptions all passengers have to change at Hoosick Junction. The agreement which has been in force about a year, has been a great accommodation to people of western Vermont. The train crews are now changed at White Creek.

Mark Bronson of Coventry, the man who was shot by Edward Raymo last week, was arraigned in Orleans county court at Newport Monday and pleaded guilty to an assault. Judge Stafford reserved the sentence until some future time. The case of the State vs. Raymo has been arranged to be tried at this term and it is expected will be begun this week. This is the case where Raymo shot Bronson in the breast and will be of much interest to the neighbors where the shooting occurred, in the west part of the county.

AN OLD-FASHIONED PARTY.

Including Concert and Dance at K. of P. Hall Tuesday Evening, Oct. 27.

The greatest event of the season will be the old-fashioned concert and cotillion party given by the ladies' degree team of the New England Order of Protection in K. of P. hall, Tuesday evening, Oct. 27, at 8 o'clock. Wilder's orchestra of nine pieces in costume will render a selected programme of music of "ye olden days." The costumes are to be of olden style so far as convenient, but the up-to-date maid and youth need not stay at home for fear of being out of place, as all, both old and young, will be made welcome in whatever costume they wish to appear.

Quaint and original decorations will be used, which will be a source of wonder and pleasure to all. This is an old-fashioned party and dance where both young and old can enjoy a pleasant evening. It is proposed to make this one of the most jovial occasions of the season, and it is hoped that those who danced in days gone by will avail themselves of this grand opportunity. Everybody is welcome.

Don't think because the price is low our apples are poor. See them yourself. H. L. Averill & Co.

EASTERN CRISIS NEAR

Japan and Russia Reported to Have Broken Off Negotiations.

NEWS IS NOT OFFICIAL.

English Foreign Office Discredits Story, but Press Dispatches From Japan Show War Fever to Be High.

London, Oct. 22.—A report was in circulation on the Stock Exchange that the negotiations between Russia and Japan had been broken off, but the foreign office officials here said they had not heard anything confirmatory of the rumor. This statement was made subsequent to a visit paid by Baron Hayashi to Foreign Minister Lansdowne. The officials of the foreign office added that the report was contrary to the general trend of its information.

A press dispatch from Yokohama says that the ministerial conferences, naval preparations and, notably, the appointment of Vice Admiral Toga, known as the "fighting admiral," to command the standing squadron have led to a renewal of the anticipations of trouble. Some decided development in the crisis is expected soon. The steamship and railroad companies are reported to have been notified to be in readiness for emergencies.

Russian Activity Unabated.

A dispatch from Reuter's Telegram company from Tokyo says: "Russian military activity on the Korean frontiers is unabated. The important newspapers take a gloomy view. They are inclined to believe that Russia does not intend to fulfill her repeated promises and declarations, in which case it will be incumbent upon Japan to take decisive steps for the sake of her own existence. The Japanese gunboat Chiokei was to have wintered at Newchwang, but this arrangement has been countermanded."

A dispatch to the Novoe Vremya of St. Petersburg from Vladivostok says: "The Japanese government has notified its consul here that there is no reason why the Japanese should leave Vladivostok. This was in reply to a query of the consul on the subject."

Equal Distribution of Space!

Now Listen to This!

A perfect Shoe should contain not a single particle of space more than necessary, otherwise the Shoe becomes large and ungainly. The Dorothy Dodd Shoe leaves more space for the foot than any other Shoe we know of, yet the Shoe itself is absolutely smaller than the ordinary Shoe. That is because it equally distributes space.
