The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

2,930

"Times, of Course"

That's what all the newsboys say when asked which Barre paper sells the best. There is no doubt about it.

There is game in plenty in Vermont as is shown by the record of the first three days of the open season for deer shooting. Although the reports for those few days are not complete it is probable that at least 50 bucks have already been shot. With such a showing it will not take Vermont long to gain a reputation as a sportsman's paradise.

If it were not for the newspaper notoriety accorded him by the New York press, Dowie the Restorer would not have a hundred people at his harangues, outside of his Zion host; yet Dowie berates the newspapers in the vilest of language. Now, however, the New York newspapers are beginning to drop Dowie from prominence, and the result is that the crowds are vastly diminished. Dowie's fad will wear itself out in New York if left alone.

It is stated that the amount of unpaid taxes this year, which must go to the city constable for collection, is smaller than usual, which is certainly encouraging as showing that the business and labor conditions of Rutland are in a decidedly satisfactory shape.—Rutland News.
 And this in spite of the fact that nearly everything in Rutland, according to The News, has been going to the bow wows since license went into operation. The News' statements oftentimes conflicts when it comes to discussion of the license sue.

A business man who travels through two northern counties, Orleans and Essex, informs the St. Johnsbury Caledonian that "nine out of every ten men that he met were in favor of Hon. Zed S. Stanton for governor." If that is the case then the Hon. Zed may as well begin to pack his grip for the executive mansion. Such a preponderance of Stanton sentiment in those two counties would indicate at least a fair strength in the remaining twelve counties. But it is probable that the business man who made the statement had an eye to the effect and indulged in that extravagance which is sometimes noticeable in over-zealous partisans. Then, too, it will be remembered that Orleans and Essex counties, are with the possible exception of Caledonia, the strongest in opposition to the license law, and to the people there it may appear that Mr. Stanton comes the nearest to being a candidate after their own hearts. In that case it becomes evident that despite the efforts to eliminate the liquor question, that is to become the issue about which the next gubernatorial election is to be fought. The Caledonian deals out a sort of left-handed compliment to Mr. Stanton which, perhaps, foretells where its support is to be.

Joy on the Farm.
 The maple begins to shuck its leaves,
 The snow is waxing fat;
 The swallows are nesting under the eaves,
 And Maize has changed her hat.
 The silo throbs with a soothing thump
 Where the farmer lathers corn;
 There's frost on the soap by the old chain pump
 At the dawn of the early morn.
 The tadpole's no longer a tadpole lithe
 In the depth of the brook bog,
 He's changed his form, and his song's more blithe
 In the choral role of the frog.
 The poor gate hinge has lost its shriek;
 The boarder has gone, adieu!
 And Eli will come in the eve to speak
 His love in the same old way.
 The wood shed's piled to the roof again,
 The cellars are full galore,
 We don't care a darn for the wind and rain
 Or the frost and cold no more.
 —New York Press.

Scared Him Off.
 Tess—I told him if he dared to kiss me he'd be sorry for it.
 Jess—And—er—was he?
 Tess—No, but I was; I was sorry I told him.—Philadelphia Press.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.
 B. C. Jennings has been appointed postmaster at South Walden.

H. J. McNally of Burlington has an interesting souvenir in the way of a newspaper printed Saturday, Jan. 4, 1800. The periodical besides giving the congressional news of that time, published an account of the burial of George Washington.

A letter was received at the East Dorset post office a few weeks ago postmarked at Spokane Falls, Wash., and directed to Benjamin Ames or any of his descendants. It proved to be from a man who sixty years ago boarded with Mr. Ames for a time and left without paying his board bill. He said he was now 83 years old and wanted to pay. The bill was sent him and he sent a check for the amount.

Col. H. W. Allen of Burlington who in company with Dr. W. S. Vincent, also of that city, and James A. Wellman of Manchester, N. H., has been abroad for the past seven weeks, returned home Thursday morning. They arrived in New York last Tuesday evening and separated, Doctor Vincent going to Boston and Mr. Wellman going to his home in Manchester. Doctor Vincent will go from Boston to Manchester, where he will remain a few days before returning home.

The Youth's Companion in 1904.

As the years increase the Youth's Companion endeavors to keep pace with them in all that is wise, beautiful and progressive, and not only to retain but to deserve the honorable and exceptionally high place it holds in the confidence and affection of three generations of readers. The greatest living authors in all branches of literature continue to contribute to it.
 Among the important series of articles will be one on the occupation of the farmer in many parts of the world—in England, in Ireland, in India, in Argentina, etc.

The Annual Announcement Number of The Companion, describing the principal features of The Companion's new volume, will be sent to any address, free.
 The new subscriber for 1904 will receive all the issues of The Companion for the remaining weeks of 1903 free from the time of subscription; also the Companion Calendar for 1904, lithographed in twelve colors and gold. The Youth's Companion, 144 Beekley Street, Boston, Mass.

Meeting in the Maine Woods. Law Off on Moose, Oct. 15.

The rush is on! Hundreds are now journeying towards the Maine woods. The sportsman who has tired at blazing at the numerous deer, is now waiting for a shot at the big fellows. The law was off on Moose last Thursday, and this giant of the forest, the King of the Maine woods is crashing through the brush of the celebrated Moosehead, Aroostook, Rangeley and Washington County Regions, pursued by the enthusiastic nimrod.

Get your gun, and enjoy a week or two in Maine's timberlands. Health and sport await you. Send a two cent stamp to the General Passenger Department, Boston & Maine R. R. Boston, for the beautiful illustrated booklet called "Fishing and Hunting." It tells all about the game region of Maine and New Brunswick.

Equal Distribution of Space!

Now Listen to This!

A perfect Shoe should contain not a single particle of space more than necessary, otherwise the Shoe becomes large and ungainly. The Dorothy Dodd Shoe leaves more space for the foot than any other Shoe we know of, yet the Shoe itself is absolutely smaller than the ordinary Shoe. That is because it equally distributes space.
