The Democrats can make no better choice than to select the Hon. Richard D. Bay of Massachusetts for their presidential candidate next year, but will they do so?

The Orange county senatorial canvass is already begun in this part of the county. Braintree has two announced candidates, Guy A. Clough and Geo. W. Flaggs, and still another, Selva H. Thayer, is contemplating a plunge into the political pool.

Why don't you speak for yourself, Lather?

The various members of the state press are beginning to prophesy that Mary Rogers, the convicted murderer of her husband, will never be hanged, and they refer to the many instances in which those convicted of murder have either been declared insane or have had their death sentence commuted, by the legislature, to life imprisonment.

It has been twelve years since the death penalty has been meted out in Vermont, and yet the penalty still rests on the statutes.

The Rutland Florence Marble Co. has filed with the secretary of state notices of a change of the domicile of the company from Rutland to Pittsford.

The business men of Williamstown have organized a board of trade with the following officers: President, C. U. Lathrop; vice-president, L. N. Seaver; treasurer, J. K. Lynde; secretary, W. C. White; directors, the officers and E. B. Watson, M. H. Rowell and T. Hopkins.

When the ground is thickly covered with a carpeting of snow, it is then the frisky urchin seeks the place where coasters go.

When the roads are fit for sleighing, it is then the charming girl is most plainly intimating what she'd like to take a whirl.

When around the home suburban snow is lying inches deep and the wife is declaring that a path she cannot sweep, it is then the wearied hubby, trying hard to hide his wrath, fiercely struggles with the shovel till at last he clears a path.

When it snows the city dweller suffers humbling of his pride as he ventures on a sidewalk where the kids have made a slide. Wildly at the air he clutches, then upon the snow he sprawls, and there's chuckling 'mong the fellows who are seeing fun in falls.

There's a mixture of emotions when there comes a fall of snow. Some are 'n it, finding pleasure; some denounce it in their woe. But there's only one opinion when the snow goes with a rush, for they're all alike disgusted.

An acre in potatoes in Germany yields 200 bushels and in the United States 96.

Yes, and what is left of our Xmas stock is a trifle mixed. Now, before we attempt to clear up we want to clean out every kind of holiday article left in our store.

You know what this means to your pocket-book—a saving of ten, twenty-five and on some things fifty per cent.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Meal Comfort. You may sing if you will of the large, open hearth which the country folk hug in the storm.

Against Her Principles. "Mrs. Allimony contemplates another divorce."

Not Her. Said a girl to a man: "You're a churl; What you say just makes my head whirl."

Mean, Hateful Thing. Carrie-I had two offers of marriage this week.

Grandmother's Remedy. Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast.

Ought to Be Satisfied. "And is this the way you repay all my kindness?"

Cut It Out. If you have an evil thought, Cut it out; If to you some schindler's thought,

LAW POINTS.

A plaintiff must recover on the strength of his own cause, not on the weakness of the defendant's case.

When a check is sent on condition that, if accepted, it shall be in full satisfaction of an unliquidated claim, its acceptance involves the acceptance of the condition offered and bars further recovery.

Statements of an agent to a buyer that the goods sold by the agent are of a certain quality do not bind the principal where there is no custom shown for a selling agent to warrant the quality of his goods or proof that his principal authorized him to warrant the quality.

Now It's Hockey. There is always something doing in the way of lively games.

There's no sprinting round the bases as upon the diamond seen, For instead of that the players rush on skates with edges keen.

There's no slugging as in football when the players fiercely strive, Nor the tackling causing wonder.

And as 'twas in days of baseball, And when football had its run, There are hockey rivals striving for the honors to be won.

And as in the time of baseball, And when football was the game, There are crowds of howling rooters, And they're rooting just the same.
