A Few of the Joneses.
Sixty-two years ago a man named Jones moved from Kentucky to Lincoln county, Mo., taking with him his family of ten children, says the New York Tribune. At a reunion recently held at Everton 1,019 of his descendants were present, and there are a few who were unable to attend. Almost all his descendants have married and settled in the same neighborhood in southwestern Missouri.

GIRLS OUTDISTANCE STAGE.

Pennsylvania Teachers Find Primitive Mode of Travel Too Slow.
The old way of traveling by stage, which still exists in the western part of Monroe county, Pa., is becoming too slow for some of the pretty school-teachers of that section, says a Stroudsburg dispatch. The "schoolmarmas" are firm believers in exercise, and a ten mile tramp over the roads is but a "constitutional" to them on a nice, crisp day.

Recently two young women teachers, Miss Mary Shafer and Miss Ella Mills, the latter an instructor in the Brodheadsville primary school, were in Stroudsburg shopping. They started home on the stagecoach, but at Sciota decided to walk to their homes, as the day was cold and riding slow. Brodheadsville and Sciota are six miles apart.

The stage halted, and the two alighted. Setting off at a brisk pace, they soon left the wagon in the rear. They made up their minds to beat the outfit into Brodheadsville, doubled their efforts and reached the village several minutes ahead of the coach.

Council Chamber a Bedroom.
When the members of the town council of Hanover, Pa., entered the council chamber the other night to hold an adjourned meeting they were surprised to find that their former meeting place had been converted into a bedroom, says the Philadelphia Press. The fire company at the last meeting had suggested the council chamber as the most convenient place for the drivers to sleep and, receiving no answer, refurbished the room.
