SPRING--TIRED--MALARIA

"I suffered with chills and fever, and my skin was growing very yellow. The slightest draft would cause me to shiver and a quick chill. We thought it was malaria, but can never yet explain how I contracted it. I always had a druggy feeling, and would get up in the morning feeling dull and tired, and would be tired all day. I was advised by a relative to try Paine's Celery Compound which had helped her considerably, and I had such a good night's rest and woke up so refreshed that I determined to continue it. I do not feel any more lassitude, and I am cheerful all day long. I get through my work with satisfaction and work faster and better. The chills and fever are completely cured. This is just the time when I need to have them worst, and I have not had a single chill. My complexion is better, and I can recommend Paine's Celery Compound as a gradual and thorough cure for malaria."—Miss Edna Arlington, Newcastle, N.H.

"Trace every disease, blood trouble or pain to the TRUE CAUSE. Pain is only the sign or symptom. It is idle to treat the pain itself. The only true cure for blood impurity or suffering is the cure that CURES THE TRUE CAUSE—Weakness of the INNER NERVES."—Prof. Edward E. Phelps, M. D., LL. D., of Dartmouth University—Famous Discoverer of Paine's Celery Compound. The blood and all the organs of the body depend on the INNER NERVES, and Paine's Celery Compound gives the blood and the nerve system the strength to MAKE all the organs work in health and harmony. Russians Claim to Have Drowned Four Thousand Men.

YALU CROSSING FRUSTRATED

While Two Companies of Mikado's Men Have Got Over, It is Asserted in St. Petersburg That the Main Attempt Proved Disastrous.

JAPS REPULSED ON YALU.

St. Petersburg Hears That Attempt to Cross River Was Foiled.

St. Petersburg, April 28.—It is reported here that an attempt of the Japanese to cross the Yalu has been frustrated.

The details of the attempt are known to have been received by the czar, but are being withheld until absolute information as to the result can be announced.

Two companies of the Japanese are known to have crossed the Yalu at Tungkuo, and this move is believed to have been a feint to engage the Russians while the real effort was made farther up the river.

It is this latter effort which is supposed to have ended in a disastrous reverse for the Japanese.

Word has been received that the Russian advance guards had a small gun, and they succeeded in destroying pontoon bridges constructed near Wiju. The wrecked pontoon was carried away by the current, and further Japanese bridging operations ceased, but the Japanese attempted to cross by another pontoon southward of Wiju.

A Japanese column with a battery of artillery approached Turuchen at midnight, but the Russian skirmishers met them with sharp firing, evidently giving them trouble, as they retired with the battery, which made no attempt to answer the Russian fire.

The news of this reverse for the Japanese caused a general rise of prices on the bourse.

Jap Mint Will Take Unseen Gold.

Seoul, Korea, April 28.—The German steamer Amigo has arrived at Chemulpo with bullion from the American mines at Unsan. It is reported that the imperial Japanese mint at Osaka has guaranteed to supply monthly the specie necessary to insure the running of the British mines at Unsan, contracting to take the total bullion output of the mines. The wage payments of the mines amount to about $7,500 per month. The mint will pay, in the value of gold, the difference between the amounts advanced. The uninterrupted operation of both the American mines at Unsan and the British at Unsan is assured while the Japanese are paramount.

NAMED BY THE PEOPLE

Half a century ago, when the late Reverend Father John O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., recommended to his parishioners and friends the prescription that had restored him to health and strength, the people named it Father John's Medicine, and so it became known and was advertised, with his knowledge and approval. The prescription of an eminent specialist, it is pure and wholesome and free from alcohol and poisonous narcotics or nerve-deadening drugs in any form—not a patent medicine. Its power to make strength and build up the body explains why it has been so successful for fifty years in curing colds and all throat and lung troubles.

AN ENTIRELY NEW GROWTH

"My hair was getting very thin. Every morning I would comb out great handfuls of it. Nothing that I used stopped its falling out or helped it until, by the advice of a friend, I tried Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. From the very beginning the tonic was beneficial. Not only has it stopped my hair from falling, but it has produced an entirely new growth. My hair is now soft and glossy, where before it was harsh, brittle and dull. I shall recommend Rexall "93" Hair Tonic to all my friends.—MILDRED SEELEY, 148 East 57th Street, New York City."

NO COCKRAN INQUIRY

Cannon Kills Resolution For Investigating Committee.

LEADER WILLIAMS APPEALS.

Chair Sustained by Partisan Vote—Danzell Had Charged That Tammany Member Spoke For McKinley In 1896 For Hire—A Bitter Debate.

Washington, April 28.—Speaker Cannon ruled that the Cockran resolution for an investigation by a select committee of five members of the house of the Danzell charge that Cockran had campaigned for McKinley for "hire" in 1896 was not a privileged matter for two reasons: First, because the charge made was not a criminal charge, and, second, because the act alleged to have been committed was not committed while Mr. Cockran was a member of the house. Speaker Cannon produced a large number of precedents and rulings on similar points by Democratic speakers, including one very strong one by Speaker Carlisle.

Mr. Williams (Miss.) appealed from the decision of the chair, and Mr. Payne moved to lay the appeal on the table. Upon this the yeas and nays were ordered.

By a party vote—169 to 125—the speaker was sustained in his ruling.

The investigation resolution came as the climax to three hours of spectacular but inconclusive debate between Mr. Danzell and Mr. Cockran. Danzell made the charge again that Cockran was paid money for his McKinley speeches and endeavored to prove what he charged by means of circumstantial evidence based on what he called the "harlequin" career of Cockran in politics and various allegations in newspaper clippings. Cockran was as vociferous and circumstantial and eloquent in his denial that he ever received a cent of money for any of his political speeches as he was when the charge was made Saturday.

The two debaters were supported by their entire party membership. The Republicans sat around Danzell in a solid body and applauded every derogatory reference he made to Cockran and cheered loudly when they thought he made a point. The Democrats were equally loyal. They yelled enthusiastically while Mr. Cockran flayed Danzell. Each side hooted and jeered the other.

CUMMINS FOR CANNON.

Governor of Iowa Wants Speaker to Be Vice President.

Chicago, April 28.—Governor Cummins of Iowa has arrived here from French Lick Springs, Ind., and will remain several days on business. After denying that he desired or would accept the Republican nomination for vice president, Governor Cummins said:

"Joe Cannon of Illinois will be the next vice president if he can be persuaded to accept the nomination. Even if I wanted this place I should give way to Cannon, a representative of the west in more senses than one. The only obstacle is that which faces those called upon to persuade him that it is his duty to accept the nomination. He has not been able to see it yet.

"Cannon has shown himself in every way a man fit to be vice president. He would make that an office rather than be sought for than to be avoided."

Rear Admiral Atkinson-Wilkes, commander in chief of the east Africa squadron, who personally commanded the landing force, says the fighting was at close quarters. The Derivishes defended their stone walls and towers determinedly, but the British blue-jackets and a detachment of the Hampshire regiment stormed their stronghold gallantly and drove them out with heavy loss. It was impossible to use the guns of the ships without danger to the attackers. The British and Italian flags were raised side by side over the barracks, which will be demolished, and Illig will be handed over to a tribe friendly to Italy.
