

BARRE DAILY TIMES

Subscriptions: One year, $3; one month, 25 cts.; single copy, 1 cent.

Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Published Every Weekday Afternoon.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 11, 1904

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

When you buy cloth, you pay for it by the yard. When you buy sugar, you pay for it by the pound. When you buy advertising, you pay for it by the 1000 circulation.

When you buy advertising space in Barre, you get the lowest rates per 1000 circulation and the best returns from the Daily Times. Its advertising rates per 1000 circulation are but two-thirds what they are elsewhere in Barre.

Are you saving that one-third by advertising in the Times?

A Massachusetts man got four months for a second offense of ringing in a false alarm for fire. The city of Barre is charged $80 or so for every offence.

The great explorer, Stanley, has made the greatest exploration of his life, but he cannot put his travels in words. Death ended a remarkable career yesterday.

There will be a considerable lot of conjecture as to the reason for Clement's giving up his speaking tour this week and the people will probably remain blissfully in the dark.

Already over half a million dollars has been subscribed for the McKinley memorial, and the amount is steadily growing. The memorial will be a fitting tribute from the American people.

If Barre should get the state's attorney and Montpelier one senator, the county sheriff and the judge of probate, where would the other eighteen towns of Washington county come in?

A New York woman declared that the soul could not be developed by eating, so she fasted seven days, as she is just being brought back from the dead, and scientists are awaiting her verdict.

A United States army officer who is now charged with having killed six young ladies at various times, declares that such is the result of having "attained some degree of prominence." The soldier's uniform still constitutes a powerful attraction.

It must be comforting to Stanton to see the enthusiasm for DeLozier right in his home county. Bell is at least backed up by his own county.—Bennington Banner.

AWAITING A DECISION.

To do away with the uncertainty which surrounds the license law, regarding its constitutionality, it is to be hoped that a decision will be rendered by the supreme court before many more days. In cases where the license law is involved, the favorite course is to let action rest pending the decision of the higher court on the constitutionality of the instrument. Innumerable cases are piling up in the lower courts all of which depend upon the decision which supreme court will make. Such being the case it is evident that the need of a decision upon the validity of the law which the legislature adopted two years ago is urgent. Then, there is another important matter to be decided by this court, the meaning of a wholesaler of liquor, and in this Barre is particularly interested as there are two cases from this city pending, whether a license of the fourth class has a right to sell liquor practically the same as the holder of the second class license as is now being done.

TIME TO TAKE A HAND.

It's about time that the state's attorney of Bennington county were taking a hand in this "white cap" business and warning the "white-cappers" if they continue their lawlessness the hand of the law will be on them, respectable people as the press despatches say they are. We scarcely see where their "respectability" has asserted itself in any of their actions in connection with this flogging of one "Jack" Meyers who is not yet proven guilty of the wrongdoing with which he is accused. In fact, there are many in the village of Pownal Center who assert, with him, that he is not guilty of the offense for which he was dragged from home and flogged a week ago. At that time the victim was told to leave town. He has not done so, and the "white caps," emboldened by the inactivity of the officials, have issued another threat to the man that he will receive worse treatment at their hands, if he does not obey. The threatened man has obtained arms, so it is said, and will defend

This is a case where enthusiasm is all right. We know what the best is and we know we have the best—for the price—in Hats, in Shoes, in Clothing.

Now, if this is the grade you want, we want you. By the best we don't mean the highest in price. We mean the best Hat there is in Barre for $3.00, the best Shoes at $3.50 to be found anywhere, and the best Suits at $10.00 up to $35.00 to be found in this country.

himself against further molestation. At this time, it would appear to be the duty of those who are in official positions sworn to guard the peace, to step in and prevent further lawlessness, and possibly a tragedy. A stern band for the repression of the "respectable" people is what is needed. If the man is guilty of wrong doing there is a legal process.

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

John A. Calkens has been appointed postmaster at Morgan Center.

The thirty-second annual convocation of the Grand Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star of Vermont, will meet with Mystic Star Chapter in St. Johnsbury, Tuesday June 7 next and will continue through June 9.

Morrisville is to have a new business block, which will be erected at the lower end of Main street by H. P. Munson, one of the local business men. The building will be a two-story brick structure with a 35-foot front and a depth of 60 feet. The store is to be modern in every particular.

Mrs. Mary Farnham, wife of Prof. George F. Perkins of the University of Vermont, died yesterday of pneumonia. She was a native of Galesburg, Ill., and was 61 years old. She is survived by her husband and a son, Prof. Henry F. Perkins, of the University of Vermont and a sister and brother in the west.

Fifty years ago, May 10, 1854, Charles Williamson Woodhouse entered upon his duties as teller of the Merchants National Bank of Burlington. He is now president of the bank. Mr. Woodhouse in two weeks will go with Mrs. Woodhouse and Miss Hazwell to Italy for two or three months of rest and recreation.

The Woodstock Country Club can point to a good week's work in setting out over 600 pine trees on its grounds. Friday afternoon, April 20, was the date first set for a general planting, but by the men of the club with a lunch to be served by the women, but rain interfered. It rained hard, but the trees, or part of them, arrived from Oscar Harding's Pomfret farm, the local officers of the club got together, and with one or two other volunteers, with hoes, rubber coats and goshawks, hustled 200 trees into the ground under disheartening conditions.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

A College Limerick. A young Chinese gent once, named Sin, Caught hold of a shark by his fin; But the fish, with a snarl, Gave its rear end a jerk, and a jerk, and the county now cares for Sin's kin. —Columbia Jester.

Speaking of Kissing. Ted—She said she'd scream if I kissed her. Ned—That shouldn't have prevented you. If you kiss a girl properly she can't scream.—Town Topics.

One Old Friend. Now comes the eager fisherman Who down the streams will plod; He'll reel his fish in by the tooth, His line off by the rod. —Indianapolis Sun.

Geology. His Little Son—Pa, what is a geologist? Mr. Pursepound—A geologist, my son, is a person who is interested in the wrong kind of rocks.

No. of Louree Not.

Father (from upstairs)—Mary, do I hear that young man hugging you? Mary—Why, no, father. He is not making a sound.—Chicago American.

WORLD'S FAIR HOTEL ACCOMMODATIONS.

St. Louis Hoteliers Prepared to Handle Vast Throngs—Prices Not to Be Increased—Hotel Inside of the Exposition Grounds With a Capacity For 6,000 Guests.

Ample hotel accommodations have been provided for the World's Fair visitors at St. Louis both within and outside of the Exposition grounds. The Exposition management has organized a free information service. A pamphlet has been issued for gratuitous circulation explaining many of the conveniences that have been provided. A list of all the hotels, with rates, is contained in this pamphlet. The entire city has been canvassed, and many thousands of private householders have arranged to receive visitors. These houses are in every section of the city, and the rates at which guests will be received is a matter of record on the books of the bureau.

The inside inn, a hotel on the Exposition grounds, has a capacity for 6,000 guests. The Exposition management has fixed the rates, which have been fixed at from $1.50 to $3.50 per day, European plan, including admission to the grounds. On the American plan the rates range from $3 to $5 per day. The hotel is 400 by 800 feet and is three stories high.

There are more than 150 established hotels in St. Louis, and a signed agreement has been made between many of their managers with the Exposition officials that rates shall not be raised during the Exposition period. Many new hotels have been built on sites adjacent to the Exposition grounds, and the published fixed rates warrant the assertion that no one need pay exorbitant rates for accommodations either at hotels or private houses.

Among the new hotels may be mentioned the Hotel Napoleon Bonaparte, which stands at Clayton avenue and Skinker road, overlooking the Exposition grounds. This hostelry will accommodate 5,000 persons. The rates, European plan, are from $1 to $5 per day. The Grand View hotel, south of the Exposition, on Oakland avenue, has a capacity for 5,000 guests, and the rates are $1 to $1.50 per day, European, and $2 to $2.50 per day on the American plan. The Kenilworth, on West Park boulevard and Billon avenue, has a capacity of 1,500 guests, with a rate of $1.50 per day.

The above mentioned are a few of the new hotels that have been erected near the Exposition grounds for the accommodation of World's Fair visitors. All told there are about two score. All are within easy walking distance, and all are situated on high ground, with comprehensive views of the grounds. All of the structures are well built, and in some of them the most luxurious quarters are obtainable. The rates are established and will not be increased during the Exposition.

NEW MUSIC FOR WORLD'S FAIR

Three Compositions by Famous People. Band Tournament.

Musical people and all who appreciate good music may thank the World's Fair for three notable compositions, written upon the invitation of the Exposition management. These are the "Hymn of the West," by the most distinguished living American poet, Edmund Clarence Stedman, the music for which was written by Professor John K. Paine, who is at the head of the music department of Harvard university; "Louisiana," a march by Frank Vanderstucken, leader of the Cincinnati Orchestra; a waltz, "Along the Plaza," by Henry K. Hadley of New York, who has won his laurels long before this as writer of operatic and other musical compositions. This music will be heard publicly for the first time upon the opening of the Exposition on Saturday, April 30, and frequently thereafter in the musical programmes of the greatest of world's fairs. These are the only official compositions.

Thirty thousand dollars will be given in prizes for the best bands at a tournament to be held during the Exposition. All through the World's Fair the musical feature will be prominent. The most famous bands of the world are under contract to participate during considerable periods. Among these are Le Garde Republicaine band of France, the Royal Grenadier band of England, the American National band, Sousa's band and others.

WRITERS AND PAINTERS.

Edwin A. Abbey is hard at work on his painting of the coronation. The king is said to be giving him several sittings a week.

Thomas Browne, a well known English painter, was once apprenticed to a Nottingham lacemaker. Later, on a tour of Spain, unable to speak the language, he pictured his wants.

Tolstol has finished a novel entitled "After the Ball," but says it shall not be published during his lifetime. "Nothing I write hereafter shall see the light while I do," he told a recent visitor.

John Morley, M. P., the distinguished litterateur and biographer of Gladstone, is the great-grandson of Duncan McAllum, a Methodist preacher, and the grandnephew of Dr. Daniel McAllum, also a Methodist preacher.

Our National Game.

Again the umpire shouts, "Play ball!" Again the bleachers fill, Again the rooting roster roars His being teary uphill, Again the umpire calls, "Strike one!" Again the pitcher smiles, Again the batsman swats the ball And drives it seven miles.

Again the catcher draws a pass And ambles down to first, Again the umpire hears the wail, "Well, isn't that the worst?" Again the shortstop leaps aloft And nails a scorching drive, Again the raucous catcher shouts: "Get away, there! Look alive!"

Again the scorers duck their heads To dodge a stinging foul, Again the umpire gets a crack And hears the bleachers howl, Again McCarthy steals for home And slides in on his ear— And all these indications prove The baseball season's here.
