

THE YOUNG MYSTERY

Inquest Into Sensational Death of Bookmaker Begun.

NAN RANDOLPH IN COURT

Alleged Fact That Young Actress and Dead Man Had Quarreled to Be Used Against Her—Doctors Discredit Suicide Theory.

New York, June 7.—The inquest into the death of Frank E. Young, known to race horse men as "Caesar" Young, who was shot and killed in a hansom cab Saturday while on his way to sail for Europe with his wife, has been begun before Coroner Brown and a jury...

It now transpires that she and Young had quarreled the night before the shooting. They quarreled in Flannery's cafe, at the corner of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and St. Nicholas avenue...

Woman Threatens a Scene. Young told the woman that they would have to part. He attempted to reconcile her. She threatened to be at the pier the next morning and make trouble if he attempted to sail for Europe with his wife...

Assistant District Attorney Francis P. Garvan, who has been out of the city, has taken charge of the case. A New Witness. The dead man's friends and relatives place much reliance in clearing up the mystery on a new witness, who they say will throw a great deal of light on the case...

Friends of Nan Patterson assert strongly that she never could have killed Young. Nan Randolph Patterson is the great granddaughter of John Randolph of Roanoke. One of her uncles is the cashier of the Fourth National bank of this city...

MINERS MASSACRED

Twelve Nonunion Men Blown to Atoms in Colorado.

WORK OF INFERNAL MACHINE

Heavy Charge of Dynamite Set Off Under Platform on Which Victims Were Waiting for a Train—Troops Rushed to Scene.

Cripple Creek, Colo., June 7.—Twelve miners were instantly killed and eight or ten others badly injured by an explosion at the Independence station of the Florence and Cripple Creek railroad.

The nonunion miners on the night shift at the Shurtleff, Findlay and Lost Dollar mines had just finished work and were about to return to their homes. These men had no warning whatever of their impending fate.

The explosion occurred beneath the platform on which they were waiting for a train, hurling many of them high into the air, destroying the adjoining depot and rending a great hole in the earth. It was found that a large quantity of dynamite had been placed under the platform, and it was believed at first that it had been set off by means of electricity or by the concussion caused by the approaching train.

Later detectives found the machine which sent off the dynamite under the platform. It consists of a revolver and 300 feet of steel wire. The revolver was placed underneath the platform close to the powder. The other end of the wire was fastened to a chair leg, which was used as a lever from the cribbings of the Delmonico property.

One Body Cut in Two.

One man's body, cut in two, was found a hundred yards from the scene of the explosion. Seven bodies were laid out together, and the remnants of others were secured as fast as possible. On account of the terrible nature of their wounds identification was difficult.

Charles Recker of the Shurtleff mine, describing the explosion, said: "There were about fifty or sixty of us waiting for our train, which was coming up the track a few hundred feet distant. A number of miners who had not yet reached the depot were running toward it with their dinner buckets in hand. The train approached the depot at a moderate rate, and the crowd on the platform began to move around to secure points of vantage in getting aboard as soon as the train stopped. At this moment a great explosion occurred right under our feet. The impact shook the buildings in the town, and everything became absolutely dark."

A few moments later the groans of the injured were heard, and people came running from residences and stores to the scene. I was uninjured. The depot, platform and the surrounding objects were rent into splinters. The work of rescue was begun at once. Six badly wounded miners were picked up at different points near the scene and were quickly carried to the train and sent to Victor.

The scene about the depot was sickening. Portions of human bodies were scattered over the right of way, and in the twenty foot hole made by the explosion were found several skulls, arms, legs and hands. Every object within a radius of fifty feet from the hole is bespattered with blood.

When news of the disaster reached Victor, Mayor Esanklin ordered out Company L, Colorado national guard, and the soldiers are now on guard at the scene.

Searching for the Perpetrators. Independence is about six miles from this city by rail. A special train carrying physicians was dispatched to the scene of the explosion, and the injured were taken to the Victor hospital. Sheriff Robertson, with deputies and police officers of both Cripple Creek and Victor, went to Independence on the special train and immediately began a careful search for clues to the perpetrators of the outrage.

Although the strike of union miners in the Cripple Creek district, which began Aug. 10, 1903, and which led to the declaration of martial law in Telluride county by Governor Peabody, is still in effect, good order has been maintained for the last six months, and military rule has been suspended and all troops withdrawn.

The mine owners, with the exception of the Portland company, claim to have as many men working as they need, and they requested all miners to renounce allegiance to the Western Federation of Miners before giving them employment. A committee appointed by the federation now in session at Denver to investigate the situation in the district visited the camp last week. Charles H. Meyer, president of the federation, is in jail at Telluride, which is under martial law, being held as a military prisoner by Governor Peabody, who charged him with inciting insurrection and rebellion. Telluride is in southwestern Colorado and is about 400 miles from Cripple Creek. The strikers in the metalliferous mines of Colorado were ordered out by the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners for the purpose of cutting off the ore supply of mills and smelters, at which an eight hour day was refused to the employees.

Miss Roosevelt Goes Home. St. Louis, June 7.—Miss Alice Roosevelt, who has been the guest of St. Louis friends for some days, has left here for Washington over the Pennsylvania railroad.

BOOING JUDGE GRAY.

Delaware Man Said to Be Choice of Parker's Opponents.

Philadelphia, June 7.—Walter Wellman in a dispatch from Washington to the Press says: "Judge George Gray of Delaware, and not Mayor George B. McCallan of New York, is the man whom the Democratic opponents of Judge Parker hope to nominate for president at the St. Louis convention, which is to meet a month from tomorrow."

The hope is a faint one, however. The Parker boom has made so much headway there is now but little confidence that it can be stopped. I am told on good authority that even Senator Gorman, who for some time has been maneuvering around in an effort to find a winning combination of which he could make himself the center instead of being compelled to play second fiddle to David B. Hill and August Belmont, has returned from New York quite hopeless as to the outlook.

It is believed here that Messrs. Gorman, Guffey of Pennsylvania and Smith of New Jersey are all playing for positions—that is to say, trying to hold aloof from the Parker movement with a view to making a more favorable arrangement with the managers of the New Yorker's interests before they give over their opposition and come into camp. If Senator Gorman, ex-Senator Smith, Colonel Guffey and John R. McLean of Ohio were to join the Parker forces at once the nomination would be a foregone conclusion and there would be nothing left to trade upon. The only way to make terms with the Parker people is to organize an opposition which may have something to sell that the other people want and may possibly need in their business.

THE PAGE MURDER.

Large Number of Witnesses Appear Before Grand Jury.

Cambridge, Mass., June 7.—Interest in the murder of Miss Mabel Page in her home at Weston on March 31 has been revived by the appearance of a large number of witnesses before the grand jury. District Attorney Sanderson has been busy in conjunction with the district police for more than a week in preparing the evidence against Charles L. Tucker of Auburn, the young man who has been held for the grand jury, charged with stabbing Miss Page to death.

Among the witnesses summoned are members of Tucker's own family, members of the Page household, Professor Wood of Harvard college, who has made a chemical examination of Tucker's clothing, and a large number of officers and neighbors of the two families. Miss Mabel Walker of Damariscotta, Me., who, it is said, was with Tucker part of the time on the afternoon of the murder, will not give evidence.

District Attorney Sanderson said the Tucker case would be the first one to be taken up by the grand jury, but that he did not expect any report to be made on any case before Friday or Saturday.

Peabody Suspends Martial Law.

Denver, June 7.—An order has been issued by Governor Peabody making effective the suspension of martial law in Las Animas county, where a strike of coal miners, members of the United Mine Workers of America, has been on for several months. Major Hill will remain in Trinidad, however, for an indefinite time in command of certain troops, who will act only in case the civil authorities find them necessary. The governor says in his order that peace and good order in Las Animas county are being rapidly if not wholly restored and that it has been shown to him that the civil authorities are able ready and willing to control the situation.

Refuses to Be a Bishop.

Birmingham, Ala., June 7.—In a telegram to the editor of the Birmingham News the Rev. John G. Murray, rector of St. Michaels and All Angels' Episcopal church of Baltimore and formerly rector of the Church of the Advent of Birmingham, says that he has declined the bishopric of Kentucky, to which he was elected by the diocesan council of that state in convention at Hopkinsville May 17. Mr. Murray says that he is convinced that his present paramount duty is in Baltimore.

Cook Coming With His Ants.

Washington, June 7.—The department of agriculture has been advised that Dr. Cook, who has discovered in Guatemala an ant that is a fierce enemy of the boll weevil, has started by the overland route from Guatemala for the cotton fields, carrying colonies of ants with which experiments will be made in the weevil ravaged sections. If these experiments prove successful as is expected by the department, the ant colonies will be imported in a wholesale manner.

For Great Lakes Naval Station.

Washington, June 7.—The president has appointed Captain William H. Reeder of the navy, William M. Bradley of Portland, Me., and Henry M. Waite of Lexington, Ky., a grandson of the late Chief Justice Waite of the supreme court, a board to select the most available site for a naval training station on the great lakes.

Fourth Class Postmasters.

Washington, June 7.—The following fourth class postmasters have been appointed: New Jersey—Bellemead, John R. Sanson. Pennsylvania—Cedar Lodge, Lynn S. Ballard. Maryland—Rhodesdale, John R. Wainwright.

Pale. Thin. Doctors call it "anemia." They recommend Ayer's Sarsaparilla. They know why it cures.

ACCUSED BY FIANCEE.

Dying Man Declares His Sweetheart Shot Him.

Chicago, June 7.—When Mrs. Rebecca Bailey called at the Wesley hospital to see her father, Louis Miller, who had been taken to the institution fatally wounded by a bullet, she was arrested on a charge of shooting him. At the time of her arrival the man was making an unintermittent statement accusing her, and the police were searching for her. With Mrs. Bailey was Miss Sophia Grabner, who was held on a witness of the shooting. Mrs. Bailey and Miller were to have been married within a week.

The shooting took place in Mrs. Bailey's apartments, and it was four hours later before the police were informed. The man was found by Mrs. C. J. Snyder, who declares he said that he had shot himself. Mrs. Bailey had fled from the house. The police found the apartments deserted. Mrs. Bailey and Miss Grabner could not be found. It was learned that the woman had rented the apartments a few days before and that she gave the name of Mrs. Miller.

TESTING THE FULTON.

Submarine Torpedo Boat Given an Endurance Trial.

Newport, R. I., June 7.—The tests of the submarine torpedo boat Fulton were resumed here when she began a twenty-four hours' endurance trial. The Fulton went to Point Judith, having on board Naval Constructor J. J. Woodward and Lieutenant Charles D. Nelson, commanding officer of the submarine torpedo boat Porpoise. Other members of the trial board were on the United States steamer Hiss.

The plan provided that the Fulton should run submerged for ten miles, then attack imaginary warships anchored 300 feet apart. She was then to run around for about three miles backward and forward and come to the surface and find and attack targets set for the purpose and fire torpedoes. The Fulton will sink to the bottom in some position between Point Judith and Narragansett pier and remain for twelve hours. One or two special tests including a run on the surface at full speed will practically complete the trials of the Fulton.

Italian Pavilion Dedicated.

St. Louis, June 7.—The national pavilion of Italy at the world's fair was formally dedicated and opened with a reception attended by hundreds of guests, who were received by the Italian ambassador, Count Macchi di Celere, Commissioner General Branelli, Consul General Tosti of New York and Consul General Koszardowski of Chicago. The ceremonies consisted simply in the reception of the invited guests, music in the large reception room and refreshments served in the gardens.

FOUR FREE TRIPS TO WORLD'S FAIR

Daily Times Will Send Popular Persons to Exposition—Ten Days' Trip and Expenses Paid.

The Louisiana Purchase Exposition, or World's Fair, at St. Louis this year, will be in all respects the greatest enterprise of the kind ever undertaken. In point of floor space in the exhibit palaces it will be more than ten times as large as the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo in 1901, twice as large as the World's Columbian Exposition at Chicago in 1893, and three times as large as the last Paris Exposition.

Indications point to an enormous attendance from all parts of the country. Everybody wants to see the greatest World's Fair ever held.

The Barre Daily Times invites four of its most popular readers (to be determined by vote) to attend the St. Louis Exposition as the guests of this newspaper.

- The candidates for these free trips to St. Louis will be classified thus: Class 1—The most popular resident of Barre city. Class 2—The most popular resident of Barre town. Class 3—The most popular resident of Orange county. Class 4—The most popular resident of Washington county, outside of Barre city and town. These persons will be selected by the readers of the Times. The balloting will open immediately and will continue until midnight of Friday, July 1. The winners will be announced in the issue of Tuesday, July 5.

British Ship Going to Tangier.

Washington, June 7.—Rear Admiral Chadwick in a cablegram to the navy department said that the British minister at Morocco had requested the English government to send a battleship to Tangier, and gave the information that the sultan of Morocco was expected to arrive at Tangier. The admiral advised the department further that the general opinion in Tangier is that the naval forces in the harbor should not yet be reduced.

The Liberty Bell in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Minn., June 7.—All the schools in St. Paul had a half holiday in honor of the Liberty bell which had arrived here on its special car, and thousands thronged the Union station to view this relic of revolutionary days. A feature of the day was the distribution to each pupil of the public and Roman Catholic schools of free street car tickets good for a ride to and from the place of exhibition, by the Twin City Rapid Transit company.

Valentine's Freedom Brief.

Trenton, N. J., June 7.—George M. Valentine, the Middlesex county bank wrecker, who has just completed six year sentence in the state prison, was arrested immediately after his release and taken back to New Brunswick, where he will be tried on other indictments growing out of his irregularities.

A $60,000 Fire.

New York, June 7.—The burning of the factory of the Manhattan Photo Case company at Cresskill, N. J., caused a loss of over $60,000. The loss was partly covered by insurance. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin. Besides the main building, several smaller buildings were burned.

SMITH'S BUCHU LITHIA PILLS. "Completely Cured Me."

Brookton, Mass. "It gives me great pleasure to inform you that one box of Smith's Buchu Lithia Pills completely cured me of bed-wetting. I am now 34 years old and never was troubled that way since I was a lad of ten, until last fall. I tried two different kinds of kidney pills since and they did not help me much. So one of your books was left at the house a short time ago, and I saw that your pills were a specific for this trouble and I resolved to try them, and was so glad to say they cured me."
