THEIR PLACES WERE FILLED

Rutland Marble Strike is at An End.

CALLED OFF YESTERDAY

President Fitzgerald Says That Treachery of Some of the Men Is Responsible for the Defeat.

Rutland, Sept. 19.—The striking marble workers returned to their places of employment this morning, but out of 400 strikers on July 11 probably less than 75 found places this morning. This was for several causes. The Vermont Marble company at Proctor had filled the places of nearly all and they will retain the men who filled in. Out of 200 strikers less than a dozen were given work this morning.

Rutland, Sept. 18.—The Marble Workers' strike which has been on since July 11, was officially declared off by the executive committee of the International Association of Marble Workers yesterday, the action having been sanctioned by the local unions.

The companies affected by the strike were the Vermont Marble company with plants at Proctor, Center and West Rutland, the Rutland Florence Marble company at Fowler, the Columbian Marble Quarrying company, Temple Brothers and W. R. Kinsman of this city.

The demands which were made by the unions about the middle of last June included a nine hour day with double pay for overtime, weekly payment, a union wage scale and the abolition of piece work.

The international organization has been very slack about forwarding money for the support of the strikers. None of them has received more than $10 since the strike began and many of them only $5.

Three Bethel Quarrymen Killed By Train Near the Bethel Depot Early Yesterday Morning, Their Bodies Being Cut Into Pieces.

Bethel, Sept. 19.—Dennis Lynch, Jerry Shea and Edward Smith, employees at the Bethel granite quarries, were killed early yesterday morning by a south-bound Boston & Maine freight train. Teddy Carroll, who was with the party, escaped injury. The bodies of the killed were horribly mangled and disfigured. The train men did not know of the accident until they reached South Royalton, seven miles south of Bethel. Then they found scraps of clothing on their engine and a big splash of blood. Smith resided in Barre and the homes of the others were in Bonville, Mass. The bodies were identified by means of their union cards.

THEY FORMERLY WORKED HERE. One of Them, Edward Smith, Was Son of Mrs. John Maiden—Men Were Identified By Means of the Union Cards Found in Their Pockets.

The accident happened near the freight depot and the men had started from Bethel village to the quarries where they lived and were employed. The time of the accident was shortly after midnight. The men carried bundles containing purchases they had just made in the village. The bundles were found near where the men were struck. Smith's body was entirely divested of clothing and was carried about 250 yards from the place of the accident. The other two bodies were found within 12 feet of each other, where they had been thrown. Smith's clothing was torn to fragments. Both of his legs were cut off, also the arms, and there was a deep cut on the head, from which the brain matter oozed. Shea's body was not so badly mangled. One leg was broken and there were two holes in the back of his head, from blows which must have caused instant death.

Lynch's body was cut diagonally across in two places, the upper part being severed. There was a rumor that another was killed, and a party went down the line on a hand-car to investigate. The report was found to be untrue.

The trainmen are not to be blamed for the accident as it was impossible for them to see the men on the track.

Edward Smith, one of the men killed at Bethel, was a son of Mrs. John Maiden of this city. He went to Bethel from this city about three weeks ago to work in the quarries there. The body was brought here on this morning's train and was buried at 11 o'clock in the Wilson cemetery, Rev. F. A. Poole officiating at the grave. He was 24 years old and unmarried. He was a member of the Quarry Workers' Union and in good standing. Previous to going to Bethel he was employed on the Barre quarries.

Dennis Lynch, another victim, was 25 years of age, unmarried and a resident of Bonville, Mass., where his parents reside. He has a sister living in Monson, Mass.

Jerry Shea was 42 years of age and leaves a widow and one daughter who reside in Bonville, Mass. All three were quarrymen employed at the Bethel granite quarry.

All three victims of the accident formerly worked on the Barre quarries.
