

BARRE DAILY TIMES

Subscriptions: One year, $3; one month, 25 cts. single copy, 1 cent. Members of the Publishers' Press—The latest photographic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press. Published Every Weekday Afternoon. Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter. Frank E. Langley, Publisher. MONDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1904.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,225

Johnny Harvard went down before the peaceful William Penn on the gridiron Saturday afternoon. It will be the real event of this season's foot ball contests.

Washington is just beginning to appreciate Bethel granite. Wait until the world begins to appreciate this beautiful granite and then watch Bethel grow. Barre will not be in it beside the White River Valley town.—Middlebury Register.

Whew! Neighbor, how you send the cold chills down our spines!

If a stranger were to judge by the reports of deer, bear, wildcats and lesser animals shot in Vermont he might easily believe that Vermont is one vast howling wilderness. Hundreds of deer have been killed in ten days, two bears have been laid low in the last week, wildcats are more or less familiar sport, while small game is quite numerous.

Groton may be one of the towns to wake up and form a board of trade, as some of its citizens are now planning to do that. Northfield has had its board of trade for some time and it has done a good work for that community. Some such vitalizing force would not be amiss in many more communities in Vermont where the dry bones are rattling.

The report of the state tuberculosis commission shows that while there is no decrease in the number of tuberculosis patients in Vermont, there is a smaller mortality rate. This decrease in the latter is due to the more modern methods of dealing with the disease. We are glad to note the awakening in this matter. Now, if the people of the state can be taught to adopt equally up-to-date habits of life we may find a great decrease in the number of patients. Air and sunshine are the great remedial agencies and certainly no location furnishes these remedies in greater and purer abundance than Vermont.

TAXING NON-RESIDENT DEER HUNTERS.

The requirement that non-resident deer hunters take out licenses before they hunt in this state has led to driving out a very large number if one is to judge by the present incomplete records in the state commissioner's office. While there were from five hundred to six hundred out-of-the-state hunters here last season, only about thirty-five have been registered and licensed for the present season. It is altogether probable, however, that this figure does not represent correctly the actual number of non-resident hunters who have taken advantage of the open season in Vermont. Since the law requiring such hunters to take out licenses went into effect only the day before the present season opened, there were undoubtedly a large number of people who hunted deer illegally this fall. They had already gone into the woods long before it could have come to their notice that they were required to pay a license fee. The newspapers which were relied upon largely to spread the information could not have reached the non-resident hunters in time. Therefore it is presumable that very many non-residents of the state hunted deer in Vermont during the ten days just passed, or at least during the first part of the period, who were not registered and who consequently are not included in the state commissioner's list of non-resident hunters. It was unfortunate that the confusion should have arisen just at this time. But outside of the unsatisfactory conditions of the present season, there is no fault to be found with the enactment which requires non-resident hunters of deer in Vermont to take out licenses and pay their fees. It is in line with common sense. One other state, Maine, which has this large game, exacts a tax from those who go into the state to hunt. Why should not Vermont do the same? The present legislature has answered by imposing the tax. Another year we expect to see the new law working successfully and all non-resident deer hunters paying the tax. The number will not be large, however, because Vermont cannot offer the same inducements as Maine.

CURRENT COMMENT.

What the Press of the State and Country Is Talking About.

The Dodsworth line, plying between Tacoma and the East, refuses to carry the United States mails to Japan so long as there is danger of being held up by Russian cruisers. One of its ships, Hallow'een, Oct. 31st.

Here are all the fixings, from hose to Tuxedos, to properly equip him for all social functions—from the "coddillon" to a husking bee. Every detail in the make of our clothing for boys receives the same conscientious care that has made our Men's Garments so satisfactory.

WE CLEAN, PRESS AND REPAIR CLOTHING.

Quinlen Block, - Barre, Vermont.

The Calchas, was seized in July, on the ground that the American letters contained information of value to Japan. The company has made a protest, but no action upon it has been manifested. International law, which is a pleasant sight, since there is no police to enforce it, might enlighten us as to the rights of neutral nations in the shipments of mail to a country involved in hostilities, but pending an appeal to that august and non-existent tribunal which may one day have permanent headquarters at The Hague, it would seem as if captives of warships were hardly the proper arbiters of questions involving the sanctity of correspondence. It is assumed that most, if not all, of the letters that go to Japan from this country relate to private business. We have taken no part in the war now in progress in the East, and have every wish to keep out of it. We have no plans likely to be of aid or comfort to either side in the struggle and it will hardly be questioned that the missives of friends and business agents involving matters entirely outside of military campaigning should be allowed to reach their destination.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Cheap Bread and Reciprocity.

It is perhaps premature to say that the United States is likely to become a permanent importer of wheat in the early future, but the present trend of conditions is plainly in that direction. Should the home consumption of wheat continue much longer to outstrip relatively the home production of that staple, as has latterly been the case, the fact can hardly fail to impart a tremendous impetus in this country to the demand for a reciprocal-trade treaty with Canada, in which Canadian wheat should be admitted into the United States either absolutely or practically free of duty. A rise in the price of wheat flour, due to the continued maintenance of our present tariff, would result in converting legions of "stand-patters" into ardent advocates of Canadian reciprocity—in other words, of "cheap bread."—New York Commercial.

In Egypt for His Health.

Hon. Perry S. Heath, lately assistant postmaster general and secretary of the Republican national committee, intimate friend of William McKinley and Mark Hanna, has taken up his residence in Egypt "for an indefinite time." His Uncle Edwin is with him. There is a man named Green in Banghamton, N. Y., who formerly sold cancelling machines to the Post Office Department, and who had such a powerful pull that he could sell machines to that department when there was nothing for the machines to do. Green told a friend named Truesdell that in the course of business, in consideration of receiving an order for 300 machines he had transferred to the first assistant postmaster general $20,000 worth of stock in his company, known as the Doremus Company. Truesdell told Bristow. Mr. Heath has denied that he received the stock, but it appears that his Louisville mole, Edwin B. Bacon, "acquired" the stock. When the Government's case against Beavers comes to trial, the testimony of Heath and Bacon will be desired, but it will not be at hand. Mr. Hanna's friend and "Uncle Ned" will be far away in the interior of Egypt, where subpoenas do not follow American tourists. Probably the sources of the Nile will have a powerful attraction for them. Seven years ago Mr. Heath's chance of becoming postmaster general of the United States was many times better than that of Robert J. Wynne. Both were newspaper correspondents in Washington before entering the Post Office Department. Today Mr. Wynne is postmaster general, and Mr. Heath is trying to lose himself in Egypt. It is possible that this Egyptian visit may be a prolonged one.—Hartford Times.

Striking Resemblance.

"Aren't you a minor?" "No, sir. But say, dis ain't de foist time I've been mistook for Jack McDroe."—New York American.

DAMES AND DAUGHTERS.

Mrs. Andrew Caronde is very popular among the cottagers upon the estate of her husband in Scotland.

Mlle de Greville, at one time lady in waiting to Empress Eugenie, is living in poverty and obscurity in New York.

One of the few newspapers printed in Iceland is a semi-monthly, the editor of which is Mrs. Assumson. She established it in 1865, and it has 2,700 readers.

Frau Cosinus Wagner has devoted her entire widowhood to the praise of her husband. She is the daughter and mother of a composer and has been the wife of two.

Mrs. Thayer and daughters on the Batchelder farm, Townsend, Vt., picked the past season 100 quarts of wild strawberries, 10 quarts of wild raspberries and 500 quarts of wild blackberries, making 700 quarts in all.

It is said that Mrs. Langtry never feels comfortable unless she carries a turquoise on which a Persian love letter is engraved. Mrs. Langtry, it is said, fished up this peculiar mascot while diving in the Lido at Venice.

Miss Caroline N. Melvaine, custodian and librarian of the Chicago Historical society, has obtained some very rare books and maps from the collection of the late Hiram W. Beckwith touching the early history of Illinois and the Mississippi valley.

Mrs. Wynne, wife of the new postmaster general, is one of the best known hostesses in Washington. She is a remarkably young looking woman to be the mother of ten children, but she was married when barely out of school, and her first long dress was her wedding gown.

SPORTING NOTES.

Young Corbett says he will defeat "Battling" Nelson in six rounds in San Francisco.

George Bodner, the world's champion lightweight wrestler, has become an expert jiu jitsu performer.

William Bradbury of Topeka, Kan., has sold to James Butler, East View farm, New York, the brood mare Cora, 2:25, by Corlander, and two foals, one by Direct and the other by Directum Kelly.

President Taylor of the champion Boston American baseball team will not meet the New York Nationals in the championship series proposed for next spring. He will let his team play now or not at all.

Although Bon Bon, the dam of Bonnie Direct, 2:05 1/2, and Bonsaline, 2:14 1/2, is dead, she will doubtless have another 2:10 performer before long, as her son, Bonnie Steinway, by Steinway, is showing a very high rate of speed at Pleasanton, Cal.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Seven Ages of Women. Says she's sixteen when she's twelve. Says she's eighteen when she's fourteen. Says she's eighteen when she's twenty-one. Says she's eighteen when she's twenty-five. Says she's nineteen when she's thirty. Says she's twenty-one when she's forty-five. Says she's twenty-eight when she's fifty-five.—Yonkers Statesman.

Figures. To "cut a figure in the straits" We deem the height of bliss. The figure, though, that all through life We strive to cut is this— $1,000,000.—Philadelphia Press.

The Course Critic. "Scraps says he always does his best writing on an empty stomach." "H'm!" answered the course critic "It reads more like an empty head."—Buffalo Express.

Asked and Answered. "Why bow so low?" asked Alliance. "Your head doth touch your feet." Said Poverty, "That's just a way I have of making both ends meet."—Boston Globe.

The Heathen Devil. (The empress of China has purchased an automobile.) On the Sacred Central City now a new enchantment lies. And the image of Confucius looks around and blinks its eyes While the golden dragon wags his tail in horror and surprise— "For Tsi An's gone out riding in her auto!" All the "ugly little idols in the Temple of the East, Who have sat serene and quiet since the dynasty began. Now are shuddering and whispering opinions of Tsi An. Who's gone out buggy riding in her auto.

In the courts the stately mandarins with trailing plumes of blue By many a lily maiden with a number zero shoe Sit idly in flirtation—for they've nothing else to do. Since Tsi An's gone out riding in her auto.

No more with past offenders are the royal fishes fed, No more the pale reformer is to execution led. And the my provincial viceroy securely keeps his head. While Tsi An's gone out riding in her auto.

"Great Scott!" remarks the Lord High Fluke, whose indignation grows, "There's a marquis to be poisoned and a princess to depose. Yet no one tends to business when the queen of heaven goes Choo-chooing in that heathen devil auto."

Yet every Chink in gay Peking his lady's skill attests, While corps of pigtailed surgeons are repairing legs and chests. And the Royal Chinese hospital is full of grinning guests. When Tsi An's been out riding in her auto! —Wallace Irwin in New York Globe.

TODAY'S STOCK MARKETS.

Opening and 1:30 Selling Prices on New York Exchange.

Quotations on the New York Stock Exchange as reported by C. H. GIBBON & Co., Carrier Block, this city.

Table with columns for Stock Name, Closing, and 1:30 Price. Includes stocks like Amal. Cop., Sugar, Atch. Com., etc.

Stock Market Gossip.

New York, Oct. 31.—London sent over generally higher prices this morning, and the market here opened up in sympathy from 1/4 to 1/2 points. Prices held firm during the first half hour after which a general selling movement began. Delaware & Hudson broke over 3 points and sugar over 2 points, while Union Pacific, Steel Preferred, N. Y. Central, St. Paul, Missouri Pacific suffered declines of over 1 point each. There appeared no particular news of a disturbing nature and the consensus of opinion in well-informed circles was that a reaction was overdue, and that a decline of substantial proportions just now would put the market on a sounder, technical basis. At 1 o'clock the market was dull and featureless.

The Regular Occurrence.

The stars drop falling out of sight. The bursts and diadems, And thus it is that Actress Night Contrives to lose her gems. —Judge.

BARRE OPERA HOUSE

Saturday, Nov. 5

FRANK W. NASON Presents the Greatest of All Scenic Productions,

WHEN WOMEN LOVE

By Wm. W. Lapoint.

Presented by an Excellent Company.

The Big City Show, Replete with Sensation and Pathos, a Play True to Life. Graphic Story of Life in New York.

Prices, - 25c, 35c, 50c and 75c

BULK PICKLES

We have a large line of Bulk Pickles, just arrived.

- Heinz's Sweet Mixed, per pound... 15c
Heinz's Sweet Gherkins, per pound... 15c
Heinz's Chow Chow, per quart... 15c
Heinz's Pickled Onions, per pound... 15c
Heinz's Plain Sour, per lb. 15c, three for .25c

Meaker Bros,

North Main St., - Barre, Vt.

Winter Apples!

From Champlain Valley.

A car of hand-picked Rhode Island Greenings and Baldwins at Central Vt. depot. Now is your opportunity. $1.10 at car.

H. L. Averill & Co.

THE VAUGHAN STORE

Ladies', Misses' and Children's, Underwear, Ladies' and Children's Flannelette Goods, Ladies Dress and Walking Skirts, Shirt Waists, etc., ON SECOND FLOOR. This is one of the very successful departments of our business.

Because We sell excellent qualities, honest, sensible stuff at reasonable prices. There is no other reason.

To be reliable commands attention in merchandising. By the way, this applies to advertising. We do not sell low-grade, showy goods that catch the eye and consequently your money at the same time. Whenever you call at our store for advertised goods we wish you to come knowing that the article advertised will look as well in your home as it does in the paper. This week the SPECIAL OCCASION will be the offering of a case of Fancy Waisting Flannel.

One case of Fancy Waisting Flannel in stripes and tweed effects—light blue, black, pink, navy, tan, black and polka dot. They come in short lengths and are good value at 15 cents per yard. For this week the price is only 10 cents per yard.

Blankets and Comfortables.

- $.75 Blankets for... $.59
$.80 Blankets for... .69
1.25 Blankets for... .98
1.50 Fancy Blankets for... 1.19
See the Comfortables we sell for... $1.00, $1.25 and 2.00

THE VAUGHAN STORE,

(Telephone 12-12)

44 North Main Street, Telephone 12-12. Barre, Vermont.

Coats! Coats!

New Coats are coming every day, which keeps our assortment well up. We have some especially attractive numbers in Half Fitted Coats in 24-inch and 36-inch lengths at $12.50, $16.50 and $19.50. Also the many other styles which Fashion says we have got to have.

Babies' Bonnets!

Our assortment of Winter Bonnets is complete, in silk and velvet. Prices, 25c to $2.50. If you want something to keep the youngsters warm and make them look well ours will help you out.

The Perley E. Pope Co.,

(TAPLIN'S OLD STORE)

Cor. Main and State Sts., Montpelier. PERLEY E. POPE, Manager.

TO THE PUBLIC.

Having sold my entire stock of Groceries to Eastman Brothers, I shall retire from the business after today, October 29th. My reason is that I may devote my entire time to the milling business at No. 23 South Main street. My stock will be moved to Eastman Brothers' store, No. 184 North Main street, and my clerks will be pleased to call as usual from that store.

I wish at this time to thank all my patrons for their liberal patronage in the past and would esteem it a favor to have you give your trade to Eastman Brothers, as I feel sure they will give you prompt service, satisfactory prices and first quality goods. Very respectfully, LINLY A. AVERILL.

Advertisement for 'Save Your $$$' featuring an illustration of a box labeled 'Savings Dept. Peoples Nat'l Bk.' and text about saving money.

Advertisement for Peoples Nat'l Bank, featuring text about saving money and a call to action.