CURRENT COMMENT.

What the Press of the State and Country Is Talking About.

Vermont has no inspector of finance at the present time. The News will back this statement, subject to revival of the courts or attorney general.—Northfield News.

If the Standard oil crowd and the "system" are really as bad a lot, as pictured by Tom W. Lawson in his "Frenzied Finances," Mrs. Chadwick, who is accused of securing a few million dollars by forgeries, is a very small shop lifter in comparison.—Northfield News.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Implacable.

When I was young, with the dense Experimental gauded,
I held a roman candle 'gainst
A boy till it exploded!

'Twas him a moment held against,
But, spite of all persuasion,
He's held it against me for years—
In fact, since that occasion!
—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Reason For Existence.

"I can't see for the life of me,"
Said Mr. William Bendix,
"Why there should be inside of me
A vermiform appendix."
"Because it gives," said Dr. Tate.
"So grand a chance to operate."
—Cincinnati Commercial Appeal.

Look Forward.

"It doesn't pay to talk 'bout yoh troubles," said Uncle Eben. "De mo' yoh boilers 'bout gettin' cheated in a mule trade, de less chance yoh has of workin' de mule off on somebody else."
—Washington Star.

No Reason.

Claude (after a wait)—Do you know I could die waiting?
Maude (out of breath)—Perhaps you could, but that is no reason why you should expect others to die with you.—Collier's Weekly.

The Hero and His Valet.

A hero once said to his valet:
"It's awful how you dilet daret:
You'd not make a cnauffeur—
You're such a great lauffeur."
The hero then laughed at his valet.
—Chicago Tribune.

Political Avowals.

You can't tell how the thing is done.
These statesmen are a fiddle lot.
The man who says he won't, may run;
The man who says he will, may not.
—Washington Star.

Some People.

Mrs. Benham—Some people have eyes and see not and ears and hear not.
Benham—But never tongues and talk not.—St. Louis Republic.

No Hurry.

Clients fume at law's delay,
But able lawyers make it pay.
And that is why, 'tis safe to say,
Things still go on the same old way.
—New York Press.

For Nothing.

Friend—Did you give the bride away?
Relative—Yes; the groom didn't have a cent.—Detroit Free Press.

How It Works.

With some new wealth so disagree,
When raised too soon to higher stations;
They strive to prune their family trees
By cutting off their poor relations.
—Brooklyn Life.

A Pointed Interruption.

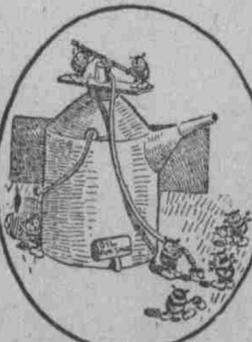

"Generally speaking, a woman is"—
"Generally speaking!"—Boston Herald.

The New Arrival.

"Did I ever look like that, mamma?"
"Yes, dear, very much the same."
"That's funny. How did you know it was me?"—San Francisco Examiner.

Right in It.

Ingenious Bug—Gee! Talk about your get rich quick schemes!—New York Evening Journal.

Big Annual Clearance Sale

Beginning Saturday, January 7th, and Continuing Until Saturday, February 25th, 1905.

Men's, Boys' and Children's Clothing, Boots, Shoes and Rubbers.

The regular Fall and Winter heavy trade on Clothing and Furnishings is near to the end, the holiday trade is over, and, whereas, the season has been exceptionally good with us, we still have a balance of our Winter stock on the counters. Our policy is to clear out our goods season by season in order to have free hands in buying a complete new stock for the next Winter, and to make a large vacancy for our Spring and Summer stock of Clothing and Furnishings, which will be arriving daily after February 1st, 1905. At this time of the year we prefer to sacrifice all our profits, and give the public a chance to buy goods at retail for manufacturers' prices, and so close out all our Winter Clothing and Furnishings, that we can at the opening of the coming season show our customers a full line of the latest styles in Men's, Boys' and Children's Outfitting.

These are the reasons which induced us to open a Great Clearance Sale of the balance of our Fall and Winter stock. This sale will begin January 7th, 1905, and will continue until February 25th, 1905.

We shall endeavor to make this the greatest money saving sale that has ever been held in Barre or Montpelier. Everything in the store has been marked in plain figures and you will find everything just as advertised. As you all know, we do not have a so-called sale every three or four weeks, but only have our Annual Clearance Sale, which is genuine. Don't miss this opportunity to buy first-class 1904 goods at cheap prices. You all know where to find us. Look for the big sign just opposite Depot Square. Remember your money will be refunded if you are not satisfied with any goods you buy of us. The following prices will convince you that it is to your advantage to attend this sale.
