

WASHINGTON STEPS IN.

Russell to Aid Settlement in Venezuela.

WILL TRY TO ADJUST.

Starts to See President Castro — An Effort Being Made to Avoid Trouble Over the Cable Case.

Caracas, Oct. 25.—The government at Washington has commissioned the American minister, Mr. Russell, to endeavor to arrange the Franco-Venezuelan diplomatic incidents.

Mr. Russell will go to Los Toques and have an interview with President Castro.

The diplomatic incident which Minister Russell will endeavor to settle arose from the protest lodged September 19 at Caracas by the French charge d'affaires, M. Taigny, against the closing of the Caracas station of the French Cable company and the expulsion from Venezuela of the manager of the company, M. Brum.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Pending the result of Mr. Russell's interview with President Castro, the state department will not discuss its nature. It should be understood, however, that he will confine his efforts to a possible assistance in the solution of the Taigny incident involving President Castro's alleged discourteous treatment of the French minister at Caracas.

The Washington government feels that President Castro made a mistake in this matter. Frequent conferences have been held at the state department, between the secretary and M. Jusserand, the French ambassador, and the secretary and the Venezuelan charge. The charge is lending his efforts towards a diplomatic settlement of the question.

DAN PATCH HIS?

Man Says Flyer Is Really His Arrin, Stolen Years Ago.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 25.—John Thompson of Port Arthur, Ont., on Saturday came 850 miles to see Dan Patch perform here. He has waited on the police authorities, and on Premier Whitney, who is also attorney general of the province, in an effort to get a warrant which would permit him to examine Dan Patch for certain distinguishing marks which he contends will prove Dan Patch is the trotting horse, Arrin, which was stolen from him under sensational circumstances nine years ago.

Thompson has an American Trotting Association register certificate of Arrin, which states Arrin is a brown horse. In the fall of 1896 he placed the trotter in the care of W. E. Ketchum and one MacDonald for training. On New Year's eve the stables were burned. It was said that Arrin was destroyed, but afterward, other articles announced to have been burned were discovered to have been sold. Thompson says he never saw Ketchum again.

Thompson saw Dan Patch pace on Saturday. "If it meant eternity to me," he said, "I could swear Patch is Arrin."

The crown attorney could not issue a search warrant, because of the risk involved in seizing such a valuable horse. To secure a replevin order, he would have to put up $360,000, double the alleged value of the horse. He was told that he must take civil action, and Thompson will do so.

OPERA SINGER WEDS.

Mary Howe Becomes the Wife of E. O. Burton of Lancaster.

Boston, Oct. 25.—Edward O. Burton, a mill manager of Lancaster, and Mary Howe of Brattleboro, Vt., a grand opera singer of international reputation, were married yesterday morning at the Parker House by the Rev. J. C. Duncan of Clinton. The ceremony was very quiet, the only relative of the bride and groom present being Mrs. John C. Howe, a sister of the bride.

Mrs. Howe has toured this country in grand opera, and has also sung in all of the capitals of Europe. This is her second marriage, her first husband being William L. Lavin of Cleveland. Their wedding occurred in December, 1891. She first came into prominence musically as a singer with the Mursurgia Club, but she later received handsome offers from New York and foreign opera impresarios. She is the daughter of C. L. Howe of Brattleboro, a photographer.

Edward O. Burton is the son of Ezra Burton. He is a tall, clean-cut young man, about 33 years of age, of quiet, unpretentious manners. Mr. and Mrs. Burton will live in Lancaster.

Miss Lizzie Edwards, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Edwards, of Newfane, who was so seriously injured by the breaking down of a hammock post three weeks ago, remains in about the same paralyzed state below the shoulders. She has suffered intensely in head and neck, which received weight from a timber ten inches in diameter that from outside appearances, apparently had not decayed enough to make it unsafe. Bernice Edwards, the youngest daughter, who also at first was thought to be seriously hurt, is now about the house. Both girls were reading in the hammock at the time they fell.

JEROME'S HARD CAMPAIGN

In Osborne He Has Formidable Opponent.

LATTER A GOOD STUMPER

No One Ventures to Predict the Result—Shearn Solidly Supported by the Municipal League.

New York, Oct. 25.—The contest for the district attorneyship of New York county is exciting almost as much interest as the mayoralty campaign. Three of the four candidates, Jerome, Osborne and Shearn, are able campaigners, and are not at all shy about indulging in personalities. The fourth candidate, Flammer, of the Republican ticket, is, by common consent, a "dead one," and is almost ignored by his rivals. Jerome is attempting to repeat the "whirlwind canvass" of 1901, and has started off with some success. His first speeches were rather disappointing, but he quickly got his pace, and he is now making Charles F. Murphy as uncomfortable as he made Croker four years ago. Mr. Jerome has developed an unquenchable thirst for information on the subject of where Murphy "got it." And it must be acknowledged that Jerome's question is a fascinating one for his audience. He has promised to answer the question fully before the end of the campaign, and he is a man who always keeps his word.

Is Jerome likely to be elected? The political prophets do not care to answer that question just now. They do not know yet whether the Republicans will give anything like a general support to their county ticket, which includes Flammer. Many prominent Republicans have come out for Jerome, but the organization professes to stand by Flammer. Jerome will need a great many Republican votes in addition to his independent support to be elected. He cannot draw extensively from Tammany, for Tammany has a popular and able candidate who is pretty sure to get the organization vote. The Hearst candidate also will get the full vote of the Municipal Ownership League. It will be seen, therefore, that Jerome has a hard road to travel. Only a great popular upheaval, it appears, can carry him into office, and this upheaval is not apparent yet.

Jerome daily is gaining, however. Men are constantly coming to his headquarters with assurances of their support and contributions to his campaign fund. Moreover, nearly all the organizations of women have declared in his favor and are working effectively for him. Women have lately become a factor to be considered in New York's municipal elections; not the professional woman suffragists, but women who take an intelligent interest in local conditions and take part in campaigns to improve those conditions.

Osborne, the Tammany candidate, is almost as good a stumper as Jerome. He served for twelve years at an assistant district attorney and was until recently Jerome's chief of staff. He has one great advantage, a certificate of character given to him publicly by Jerome when he retired from the district attorney's office. Whenever Jerome makes any unpleasant remarks about Osborne these days, the latter makes the most effective kind of an answer by producing this certificate. If Tammany had nominated a man of doubtful character or ability for district attorney, Jerome might have had a walkover, but he has a formidable opponent in Osborne.

FROTHINGHAM FOR MAYOR.

Boston Republicans Will Have House Speaker for Candidate.

Boston, Oct. 25.—The Hon. Louis A. Frothingham has accepted the offer conveyed in the petition given him Monday from some 150 citizens, irrespective of party, to be a candidate for mayor with the Republican nomination and the Good Government Association indorsement.

Mr. Frothingham went to the State House yesterday morning and obtained a blank, on which he will write his withdrawal as a candidate for the House from ward 11, which he filed yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Frothingham's acceptance is in the following form: Boston, Oct. 24, 1905. Thomas L. Livermore, Charles T. Gallagher, John K. Berry, Louis D. Brandeis and Others—Sirs: I have received your request to become a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor of the city of Boston, and, after careful consideration of the reasons urged upon me, regard it as my duty to allow my name to go before the citizens of Boston at the primaries. Very truly yours, LOUIS A. FROTHINGHAM.

Alderman Edward J. Bromberg said yesterday morning that he was still a candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor and would not withdraw.

EDMUNDS SCORES MACHINE.

Former Senator from Vermont Rakes Corruption of the Philadelphia "Gang."

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—A stinging rebuke to the McNichol-Durham political combination is contained in a letter received by the city party managers from George F. Edmunds, long United States senator from Vermont and a leader in the councils of the Republican party. In his letter of Oct. 23, Mr. Edmunds says:

I am departing for the Pacific coast on Monday. I should not go before the election were I legally entitled to vote. I have paid my taxes and voted the Republican ticket during all the time—now several years—since I have been a citizen, and had my residence in Philadelphia, but having sold my house and having no other residence in the country, I am advised that I cannot lawfully vote, though I have paid all taxes for this year. I have been an earnest and loyal member of the Republican party since its birth, and it is because of my Republicanism and my regard for the honor and the welfare of my party that I would, if I legally could, feel it to be my duty to vote against the candidates of the organization, no matter how worthy personally these candidates may be. The corruption both against the franchise and the honest carrying on of public business here—not only tolerated, but, I believe, produced by the men who have controlled the organization—compel me to feel that I should do otherwise than to vote against them and all their candidates and works.

ASKS AN INJUNCTION.

Important Test on Suspension from the Royal Arcanum.

New York, Oct. 25.—Fresh impetus was given Monday to the fight against the new rates established by the Royal Arcanum by an application by James Lawrence Mook for a permanent injunction to prevent his suspension for failure to pay the increased dues put in force. The application was made in the supreme court in Brooklyn, and after a short argument the hearing was adjourned to next Monday.

The plaintiff is a member of Berkeley council, 1954. The decision in this case will affect more the 300,000 members of the order.

CREW IS GIVEN $2,000.

Harriman Won It From Goelet on Siberia's Record Trip.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 25.—Two thousand dollars was awarded the crew of the Pacific Mail liner Siberia for bringing the vessel into port from Yokohama in record-breaking time. E. H. Harriman, the railroad magnate, who was a passenger on the steamer, was the donor. He won the money from Robert Goelet, the New York millionaire, on a wager regarding the time that the steamer would make from Yokohama to this port.

Harriman bet that the Siberia would break the recent record established by the Korea. He won by 37 minutes.

ABOUT THE STATE.

The first meeting of the creditors of Allen L. Graves, bankrupt, was held Friday at Manchester Center, before United States Judge H. H. Wheeler and W. B. Sheldon, referee in bankruptcy. R. A. Lawrence appeared for the City National Bank of Rutland, the largest unsecured creditor, and Edward H. Holden appeared for Percival W. Clement, of Rutland, whose claim is about $20,000, partially secured.

The number of books drawn from the Rutland free library last month, compared with the total for the same period last year, shows an increase of 362, the number for September this year being 4,202, and for last year, 3,804. The average daily circulation for last month was 168 and for the same month last year 153½. The circulation of Bodley Club books, same month, was this year 309; last year, 248. Books drawn by teachers, 1,019; last year, 1,112. Another record now kept, but not kept last year, is of juvenile books. During September there were 614 of these drawn.

Frank Beaudry of St. Albans was arrested Friday and lodged in Franklin county jail on a charge of misappropriating funds which he held in a fiduciary capacity. Beaudry had been in the employ of Charles Chagnon as driver of an ice team, and, taking advantage of his knowledge of the latter's business, it is alleged that he collected bills said to amount to from $60 to $90 and failed to turn over the collections. Beaudry is alleged to have signed his employer's name to the receipts given. It is thought that the most of the collections were made after Beaudry learned that Chagnon had sold his ice business to J. J. Hunt. Beaudry will probably be tried Monday.
