MINISTER FOILS SIX BURGLARS.

Bravely Opens Fire on Masked Men and Puts Them to Flight.

Grayson, Ky., Nov. 8.—The Rev. James Willoughby courageously put to flight six bank robbers at an early hour and saved the bank from being pillaged. Many citizens were awakened by a terrific explosion and among them was Mr. Willoughby. With several friends he hurried across from his room to the bank building and saw two men, wearing masks, standing in front of the building and four others running out.

Mr. Willoughby opened fire, shooting in the air, and the robbers escaped in the darkness, after a posse had chased them half an hour.

A report from Elvinton, Ky., says the robbers were surrounded in the woods near Wilder by a second posse and in a pitched battle two of the robbers were mortally shot. One of them gave his name as C. E. Smith of Fium street, Cincinnati, O., and the other as J. W. Wood of Vinomes, Ind.

The safe of the bank was blown open and the front of the building was badly damaged, but while several thousand dollars were exposed to view, none of the money had been touched.

It is believed the robbers recognized Mr. Willoughby, for his shots were not returned. He is very popular in the mountains and is noted for his bravery.

LOCATION OF SANITORIUM

Reported That Proctor Would Like It in Southern Vermont

COMMITTEE STILL WORKING If His Gift Is Placed There the State Commission Will Ask Legislature for Another in Northern Part.

LOCATION OF SANITORIUM

Buildington, Nov. 8.—The location of the sanatorium for the care of patients in the incipient stages of consumption recently presented to the state by Senator Redfield Proctor, is still unsettled. A committee which is working under the direction of Frank C. Partridge of Proctor for Senator Proctor, will have the final decision of the location of the structure. It is said that the Senator would like to have it in some place in the southern part of the state and should this idea be carried out it is likely that the state tuberculosis commission will ask the state legislature next fall to erect another sanatorium in the northern part of the state.

The matter of an appropriation from Vermont for this purpose has been discussed for some years and more often since the appointment three years ago of this special commission to investigate the prevalence of tuberculosis in Vermont and to suggest a remedy. The committee made an exhaustive report a year ago in the matter and strongly urged the legislature to appropriate a sum of money to build a sanatorium. The figures of the number of people afflicted with the Great White Plague in the state were found to be many more than the majority of persons had any idea of. The commission is not through with the matter, however, and will make a strong fight again for an appropriation, believing that one such institution in Vermont is not enough to take care of the patients.

NEW GRANITE QUARRY OPENED AT WESTERLY

Andrew C. Morrison Said to Have a Good Thing in the Land Opened Up Just West of Westerly.

Westerly, R. I., Nov. 8.—Andrew C. Morrison of 48 Morgan street has what promises to be a good thing in a new granite quarry which he opened up Aug. 2 on the Rhodes farm in Anguilla, a mile or more west of Westerly.

Mr. Morrison has been in the granite business all his life and for the past nine years has conducted a stone cutting and monumental works on Morgan street. Some four years ago he discovered what promised to be a good quarry on the Rhodes farm, but at that time only broke into the surface ledge, taking out some good granite. Nothing was done toward developing the property until this summer when Mr. Morrison secured a long term lease of the land where the quarry is located which he began work with a force of men uncovering the ledge where the quarry is now in operation.

The location of the ledge is most advantageous to economical development as it is on a side hill which obviates the expense of lifting the stone from a deep hole. The ledge apparently extends a long distance in both directions and runs back into the hill on nearly a level some five or six feet under the surface. The grade of stone is all that the most fastidious granite man could desire. It is a fine grade of blue granite, free from traces of iron, of uniform fine grain and lays in layers or strata from two to three and a half feet in thickness and increases with the depth. Its breaking qualities are such that one block of granite some ten feet long by a foot square was broken so true that it looked as though it had passed under the stone cutter's chisel. From the upper layers Mr. Morrison broke many pieces of cutting eighteen feet in length. A large part of the cutting recently set on West Broad street was taken from this quarry. The lower layers of granite have been cut into monumental work.

At the quarry Saturday a 25-ton stone had been lifted out which showed not a seam or flaw. This far some 30,000 tons of granite has been taken out by the gang of from fifteen to twenty quarrymen employed.

Mr. Morrison is planning to install steam power with larger derricks and hoisting machinery which will facilitate the handling of the heavier granite blocks.

A SUGGESTION

To the People of Barre.

The articles appearing in some of our leading publications have created a good deal of discussion in Barre in regard to advertised medicines, their reliability and power to cure, and as local druggists we, Rickett & Wells, want to say to the people of Barre that we believe one of the most reliable medicines that we have known in our drug experience, extending over a long period, is Vinol, the cod liver oil preparation, made without oil.

Vinol is not a patent medicine; everything in it is printed on the back label of every bottle, and it actually does contain in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal, curative elements of cod liver oil taken from fresh cods' livers, and without a drop of the system-clogging oil to upset the stomach and retard its work, and this is why it is fast superseding old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions.

Inasmuch as Vinol is therefore the latest scientific improvement of an old and standard remedy, it is the greatest strength creator in the world for old people, weak, sickly women and children, nursing mothers and after a severe sickness. It cures hacking coughs, chronic colds and all pulmonary troubles. We positively guarantee to return money if it fails. Rickett & Wells, Druggists.

ROOT IS HARD AT WORK.

Secretary Labors to Master All Details in Office.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—Secretary Root has gone to work with a thoroughness that is without precedent in his office. He has insisted upon informing himself of the entire history of everything likely to come before him.

Every afternoon, as early as possible, the secretary cuts short the business of the day, denies himself to visitors, orders that no cards be sent him, leaves his office and locks himself in the diplomatic room, where he buries himself in the records of cases. A force of messengers and clerks is kept busy bringing documents to him. Meanwhile swarms of visitors, some of high degree, try vainly to induce the messengers to take their cards in.

Secretary Root stays here till 6 or 7 o'clock every evening, working hard. Among the matters the secretary is taking up are our relations with Venezuela, our trade relations with Germany, and the Moroccan situation.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 8.—Midshipman James H. Branch, son of James B. Branch of the Hanover Bank of New York, and secretary of the American Bankers' Association, who was injured in a fict fight with another midshipman, died yesterday.

The midshipman was operated on Monday, his skull being opened and a clot of blood removed, and there was hope of his recovery.

THINGS THEATRICAL.

"The College Widow" is solidly established in its run at the Tremont theater, Boston.

Some of the scenes in "Eight Bells" are very funny, particularly that with the wild white horse and trick carriage.

"The Hair to the Hoar" is drawing up large audiences to the Hollis Street theater, Boston, as it ever did in New York.

The new play for Lottie Williams is a spectacular sensational comedy drama by Charles E. Biensy, entitled "My Tomboy Girl."

Otis Skinner goes back to the days of Charles II. for a hero in "His Grace de Grammont," by Clyde Fitch, in which he is now playing.

The energetic and decidedly viraculous Eva Tanguay has completely captivated the big audiences on tour that have been to see "The Sambo Girl."

"Edmund Burke," by Theodore Burt Sagre, the new play in which Chatterbox O'Leary is appearing, is a very pretty Irish comedy and deals with life in the Green Isle in 1740.

"Faith Mather" is an exceedingly fascinating picture of Boston life, and the trials through which the heroine passes in the new play keep the audiences constantly interested.

Odd Rent. The English delight in odd rents, but the odddest is a tenancy at Brookhouse, in Yorkshire, where the rental is one snowball in June and a red rose in December. The rose is easily arranged and the snowball is now made of shaved ice.

Roman Lamps. Roman lamps were of gold, silver, bronze, iron, copper, lead and earthenware.

Guatemala's Mountains. The mountains of Guatemala (meaning full of trees) are covered with magnificent forests, and the country takes its name from them. One of its principal products is gutta serena. The woods and other tropical trees abound.

Taste and Smell. Man has been proved by M. Vaschide to be more sensitive than was thought to a salt taste and in less degree to a bitter taste, while the two sexes are about equally sensitive to acid and sweet tastes. With a better developed olfactory sense, however, woman is better able to distinguish flavors.

CONFERENCE ON BEEF CASES

Moody Calls His Attorney to Washington.

CONSULAR IMPROVEMENT The Reform Begins in Government Printing—Committee Considers the Budget of Carnegie's Institution.

CONFERENCE ON BEEF CASES

Washington, Nov. 8.—Attorney General Moody has sent for United States District Attorney C. B. Morrison and Assistant Attorney General Oliver E. Pugin of Chicago to come to Washington in regard to the "beef trust" prosecution. The plea of the packers declaring that Commissioner Garfield of the bureau of corporations, who previously investigated the beef industry, had promised the packers immunity from prosecution has taken such an aspect that the attorney general is said to wish joint interview with the commissioner and Messrs. Morrison and Pugin.

Move for Better Consular Service.

E. Allan Frost, the general counsel, and Austin A. Burnham, the general secretary of the National Business League of Chicago, had an extended conference with Secretary Root Monday, during which plans for the permanent improvement of the consular service were discussed. It is said Mr. Root expressed himself as in perfect accord with the efforts of the league to secure the reorganization of the service, including the payment of all consular fees into the treasury and the substitution of salaries as compensation for consuls; classification of consular agents and clerks with promotion based on proven efficiency; requiring of them a knowledge of French, German, Spanish or Chinese language, and comprehensive knowledge of the resources of the United States and the elimination of politics.

Carnegie Committee Meets.

The executive committee of the Carnegie institution met Monday to consider the annual budget and will meet occasionally until December 12 to select applicants for aid in researches and prepare recommendations to the board of trustees. It is practically certain that next year the institution will devote itself to two undertakings of immense value to science. One of these will be an expedition into West and East Turkestan and Mongolia. The other enterprise will be to continue the magnetic survey of the North Pacific ocean. The institution's ship, the Galathea, will go to the Aleutian Islands, Japanese waters, the coast of China and the South Sea Islands.

Reform in Government Printing.

The talk of reform in the matter of printing public documents has struck terror to the hearts of the employees of the government printing office, and the fact that Monday fifty printers were furloughed indefinitely has added to the fear that a cataclysm is impending. The reason assigned for the laying off of employees is that the various members of the cabinet have observed that the printing of reports and annuals is less necessary to put on men as early as usual. The acting public printer, in fact, is finding it a hard task to provide work enough to keep his big force occupied. Mr. Eickert, the acting public printer, last week submitted his estimate for the next fiscal year, and begged off $900,000 from the usual figures.

Daily Meetings of Canal Board.

The last meeting of the sub-committee of the board of consulting engineers of the Isthmian canal commission was held Monday. Yesterday the board met, and from now on the meetings will be held probably every other day until the final decision is reached. The board will make no decision about the details, or work out any plans. These will have to be made after it has been decided what kind of canal will be built, and will take considerable time, probably more than a year.

Shot Full of Holes.

"I am 65 years old, and have been a great sufferer from headache all my life. One of Dr. Miles' circulars was left at my door, and what it contained about headache interested me, so that I determined to invest a dollar in their make of shot, and go gunning for that headache. The first charge brought it down, but I continued to shoot until the thing was shot so full of holes that I believe it will never come to life again. I consider it the work of a 'good Samaritan,' to spread the knowledge of what Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills will do." I. F. MOORE, 1352 Fairfax Ave., Bridgeport, Conn.

SPiritualist Funk Says Bible Supports Theory

He Eliminates More Than 90 Per Cent of What Passes as Psychic Phenomena.

New York, Nov. 8.—Before the Presbyterian Ministers' Association Monday, Jesse K. Funk read a paper on "Psychic Phenomena," in which he said: "The Bible certainly teaches us that spirits do communicate with men. After much careful investigation, covering a number of years, I think I am within bounds in saying that nine-tenths of what passes as psychic phenomena is fraudulent. Of the remaining one-tenth coincidence would explain some and telepathy and clairvoyance would explain some. It is the remainder of this one-tenth that deserves the deepest thought."

NO NEW CHADWICK TRIAL.

Court at Cincinnati Denies Application.

Cincinnati, Nov. 8.—In the United States Circuit Court of appeals here yesterday, the petition of Mrs. Cassie L. Chadwick for a new trial was refused. On March 11, 1903, Mrs. Chadwick was indicted by the United States grand jury at a special session on seven separate charges, each relating to her connection with the failure of the Citizens' National Bank of Oberlin, of which the late C. T. Beckwith was president and A. B. Spear cashier. Both the president and cashier were jointly indicted with the woman, who borrowed thousands of dollars of the bank's money. She was convicted under the indictment in which she was charged with conspiracy with Beckwith and Spear to certify her checks when she had no money in the bank. This is a transaction prohibited by the Government for the protection of the depositors and stockholders of a national bank. On March 27 Judge Robert W. Taylor in the United States District Court at Cleveland sentenced Mrs. Chadwick to ten years in the State penitentiary. An appeal for a new trial was made and this has now been refused.

HILL WILL CONTROL.

Adding M. K. & T. and C. P. R. to His Railroad Holdings. Chicago, Ill., Nov. 8.—James J. Hill will add the Canadian Pacific and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railroads to his list of railroad properties. It is learned that the Hill purchases for the control of the "Katy" have been successful, and that Mr. Hill has gone to Europe to take over control of that line and the Canadian Pacific also. This will give the Hill interests control over nearly all the wheat producing territory in the Northwest, in the United States and Canada, with an outlet to the gulf by way of Kansas City. The Hill interests will control the largest railway system under one management in the world.

Not Thought Possible.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 8.—In railroad circles, and more especially in Canadian Pacific railroad circles, it is not believed to be possible for J. J. Hill or any other American interest to get control of the Canadian Pacific railroad. Moreover, such a rumor would appear to be contradicted by reported extensions of J. J. Hill's lines into Manitoba and British Columbia, where they would, to some extent, be parallel of competing lines of the Canadian Pacific railroad.

WIDOW TO CONTEST.

If James C. King Has Left Money to Found Home for Old Men.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 8.—A home for old men and a possible contest by the widow are dependent on the will of the late James C. King, a millionaire, who died last Wednesday. The will is to be filed for probate today. Mr. King, who was 75 years old at his death, said once: "Some one ought to provide a home for the old men who have struggled all their lives without being able to make adequate provision for their old age." He left an estate of about $2,000,000. Mrs. King is said to have received $300,000 from her elderly husband during the three years of their married life. It is said she will contest the will if it gives the bulk of the estate for an old men's home.
