

GLASGOW GOES TO LIBERALS

Four Liberal Gains to One For the Unionists.

A. BONAR LAW UNSEATED

Returns from the Agricultural Section Show Free Trade Sentiment Strong—Standing Up to Date Largely for Liberalists.

London, Jan. 19.—Election returns from the agricultural districts which continue to come in today show that the free trade sentiment is strong in such localities, and the Liberals are keeping up their victories. The returns coming in show that the Liberals have won fourteen seats. The standing of the parties, up to the present time is:

Liberals, 210. Conservatives, 74. Nationalists, 91. Laborites, 34.

Glasgow has gone strangely liberal, the seven contests there being marked by four liberal and one labor gain, while the only two unionists left in the representation are free traders. Among the well known members of Parliament unseated there are A. Bonar Law, unionist, representing the Black Friars district, who was parliamentary secretary to the board of trade in 1902, and Sir J. Stirling-Maxwell, conservative, representing Glasgow University. John Morley, secretary of state for India, was returned by a good majority for Montrose.

Cambridge University returned two unionist tariff reformers, S. H. Butler and Mr. Rawlinson.

Lancashire county appears to be going as strongly liberal as did Manchester, the three results already announced there recording two liberal and one labor gain. Among those unseated in Lancashire are Lord Stanley, former postmaster-general, by the laborite, W. F. Wilson, with a majority of 3,123, and C. A. Cripps, by H. Nuttall, liberal, and free trader, with a majority of 2,824.

No less than six members of the Belfast ministry have been unseated, namely, William S. John Brodribb, secretary of state for Jamaica; A. Bonar Law, secretary of state for India; George Pretyman, secretary of the admiralty; Lord Stanley, postmaster-general; Charles Scott Dickinson, solicitor-general for Scotland; and Ailwin E. Fellowes, president of the board of agriculture. Henry Chaplin, who was president of the local government board in the Salisbury ministry also is among the defeated, who now include eleven members of the late cabinet.

THINLY VEILED CHARGES.

Unionist Free Trader Reviles His Successful Opponent.

London, Jan. 19.—Thomas Gibson Bowler, the Unionist free trader, who was defeated at Kings Lynn, in Norfolk, by a tariff reformer, provides the sensation of the campaign by the publication of correspondence with Sir Alexander Fuller Acland-Hood, the chief conservative whip. In this correspondence, which was published last night, Mr. Bowler accused the Unionist party of scriffing the seat on the district of Joseph Chamberlain, simply because he is a Unionist free trader.

In it are scathing letters to Sir Alexander containing the thinly veiled personal insults regarding him of deliberate breach of faith and politically dishonorable conduct.

Continuing, Mr. Bowler attacks the revenue from which the conservative party fund came and gives data regarding the incident of some years ago when Ernest Terah Hooley (of unhappy memory) contributed $50,000 to the party fund "in circumstances most discreditable."

This contribution, Mr. Bowler says, was returned and was returned by Lord Salisbury at his instance. Mr. Bowler, insinuating that his successful opponent received support from the party fund, says: "From such a fund I should deem it shameful to receive assistance."

SIXTY PERSONS DROP INTO CHURCH CELLAR

They Were Attending a Turkey Supper at Boylston, Mass.—Organist Struck Up a Tune and Prevented Panic Among Those Who Didn't Fall.

Boylston, Mass., Jan. 19.—The flooring of the vestibule of the Congregational church in Boylston Center collapsed last night under the weight of a crowd of people, who were there to attend a turkey supper, and between sixty and seventy persons were precipitated into the cellar. One man was seriously injured, several others were so badly hurt that they required the attention of physicians, while nearly all suffered from shock and bruises.

Henry L. Hepburn of 189 Lincoln street, Worcester, superintendent of street lighting, was most seriously hurt. His right foot was crushed, his leg bruised badly and he suffered also from brain concussion. An ambulance took him to the hospital in Worcester. People who had dined went into the vestibule of the building, intending to wait there for the beginning of an entertainment later in the church auditorium, and they were met by the throng of new arrivals from the trolley cars. In the crush on the little vestibule, the flooring sagged and some of the timbers beneath giving way completely, a hole was opened up under the feet of the throng. Through the opening three score or more persons dropped into the cellar, a distance of ten feet. There was a wild scramble to escape, but fortunately cool-headed persons in the crowd prevented a panic and the women and children were first assisted from the mass. A lamp fell with the flooring and broke, but the fire was extinguished before it had caused aid damage.

It is believed that the action of Jasper W. Sawyer, the church organist, assisted materially in preventing a panic and quieting the crowd after the accident. Mr. Sawyer was seated at the organ in the main church auditorium. When the vestibule floor collapsed and the screams of the victims arose, Mr. Sawyer instantly turned to his instrument and began playing. Upon the sixty or seventy people who had gathered in the auditorium awaiting the beginning of the entertainment, the action had a quieting effect.

RESCUERS ARE AT WORK

To Dig Out Men Imprisoned In West Virginia Mine.

18 MEN WERE KILLED

Explosion Yesterday Afternoon, Being Caused by Blast Igniting Dust Accumulated in the Coal Mine.

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 19.—Eighteen men are believed to have been killed in a terrific explosion yesterday afternoon in one of the mines of the Detroit & Kanawha Coal company at Detroit, on Paint Creek, this county, 25 miles from here.

That more men were not in the mine at the time of the accident was due to the fact that almost all of the day men were eating their dinners on the outside. Had it been either before or after the noon hour hundreds of men would have been killed. The force of the explosion was so great that the hills trembled. Tons of wreckage and debris were hurled from the mouth of the mine, blocking the entrance and making the work of rescue difficult.

News of the disaster spread to nearby mines and hundreds of men were soon at the scene, eager to join in the effort to rescue the entombed miners if alive, or recover their bodies if dead. The ventilating fan was blown out of position by the explosion, and it was not until four o'clock that it had been repaired.

As soon as it was set in motion, a fairly good current of air was sent circulating through the entries.

The first rescue party, consisting of 15 men, entered the mine at 5:30 o'clock. The first body reached was that of G. P. Neal, which was discovered 150 yards from the entrance. The mine superintendent says that the other men were working in the main shaft at either side of the main shaft. It is almost certain that they will fall victims to the after damp. Mothers, wives, children and friends of the entombed miners are crowded about the mouth of the pit declaring they will not leave until they know the fate of their loved ones. The explosion is believed to have been caused by a blast igniting the dust which had accumulated in the mine.

PRIZE FIGHTER KILLED BY BLOW OVER HEART

"Kid Goog" Who Is Thought to Have Been Nathan Rosenberg, Victim of Blow Last Night in New York Pugilistic Encounter.

New York, Jan. 19.—Kid Goog, prize fighter, was killed in the second round of a three-round bout last night in a place known as George McFadden's club in Third avenue. The man with whom he was fighting escaped, and the police are looking for him. It is said that Goog's right name is Nathan Rosenberg and that he is a resident of this city.

Goog's opponent was known as "Kid" Sis. Both were boys of 18 years of age. There were about 500 spectators present and when Goog was found to be dying there was much excitement. Four arrests were made of the men alleged to be connected with the affair.

The hall where the fight occurred is a fairly large room in the rear of a saloon.

During the first round there was fast fighting. The second round had only commenced about a minute when the boys clinched. Sis, it is alleged, gave Goog a short arm blow almost over the heart. Goog's knees seemed to weaken and he began to tremble and shake as if about to be knocked out. The men broke and then Goog, staggering, fell to the floor unconscious. His seconds carried him to his corner and gave him stimulants, but he did not avail.

A hurry call was sent in for an ambulance after the crowd began to disperse, and Dr. Bether responded. When he arrived he pronounced Goog dead. He declared that a blow had caused his death.

NEGRO SUSPECT ARRESTED.

Moorestown, N. J., Woman Murdered in Her Stable Last Night.

Moorestown, N. J., Jan. 19.—Miss Florence W. Allison, about 35 years old, living in the farm house on the country seat of Mrs. E. R. Steadwick near here, was found dead in the stable yesterday with a strap fastened about her throat and her skull crushed. Beside the body lay a club with which she had been killed.

The only other occupant of the house at the time was Jessie Walker, a child six years of age, from whom it was learned that a tall negro had called at the house a few minutes after Miss Allison had gone to the stable. The negro followed and, after assaulting Miss Allison, killed her and made his escape. The body was found by a tradesman and the alarm was given, men being set out in all directions to hunt for the murderer.

Mrs. Steadwick has offered a reward of $500 for the arrest of the murderer. The township committee also offered a similar reward.

A negro who gave the name of W. M. Smith was arrested on suspicion last night.

SOLDIERS OWNED LIQUOR.

And Fifteen Cases of Beer Goes Back to Them, Says Justice.

Winooski, Jan. 19.—The 15 cases of beer seized at Frank Gonyea's place last Sunday was ordered by Justice Graves yesterday afternoon, it being proved that the stuff was the property of Quartermaster Sergeant Theodore Sinzig of Fort Ethan Allen and fourteen others of the post.

Mr. Gonyea testified that he had leased that part of the building which was formerly used as a chicken house to three non-commissioned officers and that he had placed in there 24 lockers each one numbered, besides several pieces of furniture. He said he had no connection with the beer with the exception that a duplicate of which was held by Sergeant Sinzig who had charge of the beer. When any member wished for any beer he would notify Sergeant Sinzig, giving his order and the Sergeant would place the desired number of bottles in the locker and charge it to the man. At the end of the month each man paid his bill to Sergeant Sinzig, the beer being sold at the rate of 50c per dozen, the price at which it is purchased.

PLUNGE INTO RIVER WAS SEEN BY TWO

But Nothing Has Been Found to Confirm Report That a Short Man Committed Suicide in the Winooski.

Winooski, Jan. 19.—The authorities are investigating a rumored suicide yesterday afternoon. Two persons have reported that they saw a man mount the rail of the bridge spanning the Winooski river and dive into an open space in the ice. One of the informants is a young boy, named Polke, who in spite of threats of whippings, maintains his first story. The other is Mrs. Harry Deavitt, an employee in the woolen mills. She says that she stopped work and looked out of the window, and was horrified to see the body of a man dropping from the bridge. Eugene Belange contributes the information that he saw a short, middle-aged man standing on the bridge and a minute later the man had disappeared.

The river is practically closed in with ice, with the exception of a few open places, which are caused by the strong current from the mills at either side. The water at the point where the body is not more than five feet deep, but a body or any object would be carried away as soon as it struck the water.

About ten o'clock Mr. Vail was called to pitch forward in his chair, he rallied for a moment, and then fell against the arm of Edgar N. Miller, who at once saw that he was seriously ill. A physician, who was in the room, was summoned, but Mr. Vail died within a few minutes, the probable cause being heart trouble. He was 58 years of age and is survived by a wife and one son, Chauncey, who resides at home. The funeral will be held from his late home on Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and will be a Masonic funeral.

GET GRAFT IN MILEAGE

Officers in Large Towns Are Accused Of It By Supt. Morgan

IN TESTIMONY TODAY

Says the Police Bring Minor Offenders to House of Correction Because of That Graft—Investigation Closed for the Present.

Rutland, Jan. 19.—The investigating committee finished work for the present at the house of correction this morning. They will return in a few weeks to get more details of the conditions. The witness today was superintendent, D. L. Morgan, directors who with A. E. Cudworth of South Londonderry, F. B. Pier of Jamaica, discussed the crowded condition. It was thought to be largely due to officers in the larger towns bringing prisoners for minor offences because of the graft mileage. Morgan thought that if it was stopped, the average number of prisoners would be 150. It is now 230. It was recommended that a man be appointed at a state salary to get after batches of prisoners, having his headquarters in Rutland. It was found that the women prisoners had no chance for exercise, which is injurious to health.

ABUSE CLAIMED BY PRISONER.

A feature of yesterday's session of the investigating commission at the House of Correction was the testimony of Frank Herbert of Albany, who says he had a sentence of 115 days, from April to August, 1905. He is a one-sided man and he told several things about his treatment while serving his sentence. He said he was made to stand at a rubbing bed and polish marble for 10 hours every day with his one arm, the other prisoners having, of course, a chance to rest one arm by using the other. He said he weighed 145 pounds when he entered the place and when he came out he had lost eight pounds. He thought he could not have weighed over 130 pounds at one time. The meat, some times served, he said, was in its expiration rotten, and unfit for any person to eat. He had fresh vegetables not more than once or twice while incarcerated.

WAS BADLY BURNED.

George E. Vincent Got in Way of Flames From Fire-box.

Burlington, Jan. 19.—When he started to indulge his favorite habit of smoking cigarettes George E. Vincent was badly burned yesterday afternoon in the fire room of the Champlain Manufacturing company. He got in the draft of the fire-box, and his clothes, saturated with oil, caught fire. Immediately he became a mass of flames. Other workmen seized him and rolled him in the snow until the flames were extinguished. Then they turned their attentions toward putting out the fire which had been communicated to the rafters of the building. Dr. F. E. Clark, who attended him, says that the burns are not deep, except about the nose and mouth, and that his chances for recovery are good. The manager of the Champlain company declares that the accident was the man's own fault, because he was violating a rule in entering the fire room.

RESEMBLED FOOT BALL

The Basketball Game Between Y. M. C. and Goddard.

VICTORY FOR THE FORMER

The Two Clubs of the School Team Put Up Good Exhibition, While Smith, Reid and Reid Were Stars for the Winners.

In a fast but rough game of basket ball in the Goddard gymnasium last evening the Young Men's club defeated Goddard seminary by the score of 26 to 8. It was the first regular game of the season for both teams, and that doubtless accounts for the many fouls called on members of each team. The gymnasium was crowded to its limit with members of the school and their friends, as well as friends of the city boys.

Goddard and the Y. M. C. were very evenly matched as to weight and size, but the members of the young men's team were all old players and were quicker on their feet and as a whole passed better than the seminary boys. The first three minutes of play was decidedly mixed up, greatly resembling a game of foot ball, but after the first basket by Smith the men on both sides settled down to business better. All through the game Goddard was good at guarding and weak at passing, with the exception of Merle and Lin Clark, who played a good all around game from start to finish.

LOCKWOOD WAS A LOSER.

Shells Out to Court As Well As at Burlington Resort.

Burlington, Jan. 19.—Besides dropping as he says, the sum of $70 while in the company of Mamie Knott McFall, Arthur Lockwood was yesterday assessed $20.44 by the city court for being drunk. Lockwood demurred and took an appeal. The McFall woman and another, named Emma McNulty were arrested on the charge of open and gross lewdness.

The complaint against the resort where Mamie and Lockwood were found was made by Peter and Charles Delpy and they were taken before Justice Webster. The fact that the raid had been successful was more than Peter, who was the elder, could stand and when he started for court his legs wiggled sideways as well as back and forth and he soon found a resting place in jail. Charles was in good form but he was not used as a witness.

POISONED BY SAUSAGE.

Nearly Twenty People at Hardwick Were Made Sick.

Hardwick, Jan. 19.—Nearly a score of the Italian residents of the village have during the past two weeks been suffering from the effects of what is believed to be ptomaine poisoning. While none have been seriously ill the services of a physician has in almost all cases been necessary. It seems that along about the first of January one of their countrymen made a quantity of sausage and distributed the same to the different families in the village, and to this is traced the poisoning. Since then at intervals different persons who have eaten of that sausage have become sick and shown symptoms of poisoning. A few persons are still under the care of doctors. Some of the meat has been sent to the state laboratory at Burlington for analysis, but no returns have been received.
