ARNOLD WHITE WASH FABRICS.

We would not be doing justice to the Arnolds White goods and our customers not to give some idea as to how these beautiful white goods are to be made up.

The cut on the left shows you a garment from Arnold's Silk Muslin, as follows: Princess frock with yoke made of all-over lace trimmed with insertions of German Valenciennes lace. The bodice portion is plaited in tiny box plaits below the yoke, and is gathered into the girdle made of the material trimmed with insertions of Valenciennes lace. The skirt is joined to the girdle with tiny box plaits, and around the lower portion of the skirt is a flounce trimmed with odd shaped motives outlined with Valenciennes insertion. The puff sleeve is plaited at the arm hole with tiny plaits and gathered into a shaped cuff trimmed with the insertion and lace frills.

The cut on the right shows an evening gown of silk-figured white Arnold Jacquard Eolienne, made into a simple evening frock, having a blouse bodice tucked and trimmed above the hem with lace and a triple flounce skirt, each flounce is trimmed above the hem with inserting, put on in design. The upper flounce is tucked around waist to form fullness. The two lower flounces are joined to the foundation slip skirt with haircloth in the circular. The fullness of the puff sleeve is tucked in at elbow—leaving a narrow frill of the material. Under this frill are two frills of Valenciennes lace.

We have a Magazine showing the make-up of all of Arnold's Wash Goods that is yours free for the asking.

A NEW IDEA PAPER PATTERN WILL BE GIVEN FREE FOR THE ASKING ON FRIDAY OR SATURDAY OF THIS WEEK TO ANYONE BUYING MATERIALS AT 25c. A YARD OR OVER
