They say that there is no other course left open to the organization now that the operators have given their ultimatum. They report a marked change of sentiment throughout the entire region during the past few days and particularly since the clash between the state constabulary and the mine workers at Mount Carmel on Monday.

WAS MADE SICK BY CLEMENT'S STATEMENT

Said Plaintiff in the Celebrated Slander Suit of Wilson vs. Clement Now Being Tried in Burlington.

Burlington, May 3.--The plaintiff, S. D. Wilson, in the famous slander suit of Wilson vs. Clement, went on the stand yesterday afternoon.

He said he was 19 years old when he came to Vermont and had been in the detective business two years previous to that time in Massachusetts. The witness said he was employed by the state of Vermont and had no connection with the Anti-Saloon League.

When asked why he went down to White River Junction instead of going to South Royalton, he said because he wanted and had a right to, and also had some laundry to get.

"Are you the man who shot Edward Goshea?" was asked.

"I am," was the reply.

"Were you indicted?"

"I was."

"Were you acquitted?"

"I was."

The witness was asked when he first heard about the reference Clement was making to the shooting and he said it was while he was a prisoner in the Woodstock jail awaiting trial on a charge of manslaughter. He said the news affected him mentally, as he was sick, and he realized that he was an innocent man.

When the cross-examination was taken up, Wilson said he did some work in ferreting out violations of the liquor law. He said that in the performance of his duties occasions might arise where it would be necessary for him to take a drink, but he could not remember that such a thing occurred in Woodstock county.

With reference to the trip from Woodstock, the witness said he hired a team and drove to White River Junction. After arriving there he went to Sheriff Spafford's and got his revolver and club. He loaded the revolver and put it in his pocket. He also had another revolver on his person. From the sheriff's house he went to the hotel office, adjacent to the home of Sheriff Spafford.

After eating his supper he paid his bill, he said, and went to the veranda, having in his possession two loaded revolvers. Wilson was asked how Spafford came to have his revolver and he replied that he got it at the time that he, Wilson, was arrested on a charge of exposing an indecent picture. The witness said the matter was brought before the grand jury and that body did not bring a bill against him. After Sheriff Spafford took the revolver, Deputy Sheriff Thomas gave him another because he had heard threats made against Wilson.

After the shooting Sheriff Peck came up and the two went to Deputy Spafford's. Later he was taken to the Woodstock jail. While in jail he was awarded some privileges, among them being that he saw the daily papers in which he saw the accounts of Clement's speech.

Said Reputation Was Bad.

The first witness for the defense was Dr. Rollin J. Ross of Norwich. He was asked what Wilson's general reputation was previous to the speeches made by Clement and he said it was bad. At that time Mr. Ross was practicing in Hartford. When asked in what respect his reputation was bad, the witness said it was to the effect that he was immoral and corrupt and that he was commonly called a spotter and murderer.

This testimony was followed by the reading of a number of depositions which had reference to Wilson's reputation. H. E. Ruggles of Franklin, Mass., said to the effect that he, Ruggles, was a liquor spotter, an insignificant person and what was commonly called a liar. Others who made depositions to the effect that Wilson's reputation was bad were J. B. Fitzgerald of Franklin, Mass.; J. J. McCarthy of Ferrisburgh; George M. Nutter of Ferrisburgh, Mass.

DECLARES MAYOR BURKE OF BURLINGTON WOULD NOT RUN AS TAIL TO CLEMENT'S KITE UNDER ANY CONDITIONS

Burlington, May 3.--Mayor James E. Burke stated that he was not a seeker after the nomination for the governorship by the Democratic party, but that he had been importuned by several prominent in the councils of the party both personally and by letter to head the state ticket this year.

The mayor said he has not yet made a definite answer to those who have sought to forward his candidacy. He said he is a very busy man and did not think he could find the necessary time, but that he might consent to head the ticket if such action should prove to be the wish of the party.

Taking up the question of his running for the lieutenant-governorship on a ticket headed by P. W. Clement, Mayor Burke declared that although such a proposition had been made to him by the Clement forces, he would have nothing to do with a movement of that kind. He will run straight or not at all. He said that when he supported Clement in 1902 it was to further the license measure, that question now being settled there are no issues this year which would warrant his running on anything but a straight Democratic ticket.

FLAMES WERE THREATENING

Village of Washington Was in Danger Last Night

OUTSIDE AID SUMMONED

Bucket Brigades Were Successful in Preventing Destruction of M. O. Calef's Buildings.

The village of Washington, nine miles from this city, was threatened with destruction by fire last night, but the effective work of bucket brigades finally prevented the loss of more than the residence and barn of Myron O. Calef, the loss being estimated at $2,000.

As there was some wind stirring and Washington had no fire fighting apparatus much apprehension was felt. Aid was asked from East Barre and from this city. East Barre has nothing but its hydrant system, but sent up a dozen fire fighters. This city was not in a position to give aid, as the only possible apparatus that could have been used was the old hand tub, which is stored at the city farm. Chief Gladstone drove to Washington at once, however.

The fire broke out at half past six o'clock, possibly from a defective chimney in the Calef house. The efforts of the fire fighters were at once concentrated on moving out the furniture from the house and the tools from the barn, as it was obvious that the buildings could not be saved. So actively did they work that almost everything movable was taken out. Three hogs, a calf and some hens were burned, together with some produce.

Meanwhile the flames were threatening to envelop neighboring buildings. These were kept wet down by the bucket brigades and one of them caught fire. The Calef buildings, including house, barn and sheds, were burned to the ground, being all down at half past nine o'clock. The insurance carried amounted to $1,600, on the following property, house $550, barn $300, furniture $300, stock $75, carriage $75.

The inmates of the house were cared for at the residence of Ira C. Calef. The first reports of the fire which reached this city stated that the latter's house had been destroyed. The burned house was a two-story building with an ell.

Randolph, May 3.--There was a large attendance at the village meeting held in the high school building last Tuesday evening. The Hon. J. D. Denison was elected moderator and the Hon. V. I. Spear, clerk. The reports of the various village officers were accepted and adopted, and then the following officers were elected for the coming year: Trustees, W. C. Emerson, A. E. Bass, Allen Chadwick, A. H. Peedle and Harry M. Totman; treasurer, Hon. William H. DuBois; collector, A. M. Hubbard; chief engineer, Ned C. Buck; first assistant, John Fisk; second assistant, Fred Dunn; fire wardens, H. T. Holman, C. S. Booth, and W. W. Morton; water commissioner for five years, W. B. Viall. The village voted that $233 be added to the $405 rental for fire hydrants, making the sum of $638 to be used for the building and repairing of sidewalks.

The article in the warranting in regard to the establishment of a sewer system was handled by a resolution presented by Dr. J. P. Gifford, which was in effect that the village trustees submit plans of the system to two or more reliable contractors for bids for the construction of the system and then call a special village meeting at the earliest possible date for consideration of the bids and to appropriate money to carry out the proposition. The property near the Hobart bridge on Central street owned by Mrs. Ledia A. E. Hutchins was admitted into the village and it was voted to change the boundary line so as to take in this property. A village tax of 17 cents on the dollar was voted. The account of Eugene S. MERCHANTS TO PROTEST CITY'S SIDEWALK ORDER

Appoint Committee to Confer With the City Council Next Monday Night--Think Walks Need Washing.

At a largely attended meeting of the Barre Merchants' association, held in the office of the secretary, G. H. Anker, yesterday afternoon, a committee was chosen to meet the city council next Monday evening to consider the prohibition of the use of water on sidewalks. The members of the committee are D. M. Miles, George N. Tilden and the secretary, Mr. Anker.

The merchants felt that the order, recently made, that they should not use hose in washing off the sidewalks imposes an unjust restriction and one that will work to the detriment of the city. They declared that if the leaders were kept from congregating nights and decorating the sidewalks with tobacco there would not be so much need of using the hose in the morning. But as it is now, they say, the sidewalks are so filthy that they feel the hose must be used. One or two merchants reported that they had been warned not to allow the water to run onto the sidewalks while they were washing their windows, which they declared to be practically impossible.

The association thinks that the piles of their members should be arrested prior to the conference between the committee and the city council, that the council would stand back of them with financial support.

The association thinks that the piles of dirt should not be allowed to remain on Main street to be blown about by the wind. This may be brought up at the conference with the council next Monday night, but the merchants say that they feel certain a satisfactory agreement can be reached.

FORMALLY INSTALLED

Rev. W. C. MacIntyre Now Leads Presbyterians

RECEIVED LAST EVENING

Is a Graduate of Queen's University, Kingston, Ontario, and Comes to Barre from Woodlands, Ontario.

The Rev. William C. MacIntyre was formally installed as pastor of the Presbyterian church of this city last evening, the installation service being in charge of the Rev. W. S. Wallace of South Ryegate as a representative of the Boston Presbytery. There was a large attendance of the people of the society, the church being well filled. The service was opened with prayer by the Rev. E. F. Lowe, pastor of the Healing Methodist church of Barre, followed by scripture reading by the Rev. Mr. Wallace. After a selection by the choir the Rev. Mr. Wallace asked the formal installation questions, which were answered by the new pastor and the people of the church.

The installation sermon was then delivered by the Rev. E. J. Many of Manchester, N. H. Mr. Many took for his subject, "St. Andrew, the Man and the Follower of Christ." He told of the life of this saint, who had grown up with the knowledge of the love of God and who had devoted his time and work to the saving of men. In closing his sermon he commended to the new pastor the life of St. Andrew, "who brought his brother to the salvation which was in Christ himself."

A vocal solo was beautifully sung by Miss Emma Phillips and the charge to the pastor was then given by the Rev. Samuel F. French of West Derry, N. H., which was followed with a forceful and solemn charge to the people by the Rev. Mr. Many. A message of encouragement and cheer was read in the name of the Boston Presbytery from the former pastor, the Rev. Thomas H. Mitchell of Toronto, Ont., sent to have read at this occasion. The Rev. P. A. Poole, pastor of the Barre Congregational church, in a few hearty and well chosen words extended the welcome of the pastors of the city to the new minister and bespoke the best of success for the new pastor and the church. Mayor Barley was expected to have been present to speak, but he was unavoidably detained. He sent a few lines in a letter which were read by J. S. Milne. The Rev. Mr. Wallace in the name of the Boston Presbytery pronounced the new minister and members of the church joined in the spiritual bond and charged them to work faithfully and harmoniously together for the spiritual welfare of the church and community.

After the benediction was pronounced by the Rev. Mr. MacIntyre, the people went forward to the front of the church to meet the new pastor, and from there down of
