

The Day of the Parasol

The Sunshade of this season is a joy to the eye and, judging by the taste of warm weather that we have been treated to already, it would seem as though the pretty Parasol will have something more serious to do than to be merely ornamental. One can have just the kind of Parasol one likes this year—plain or fancy, gay or sober, with handles that are stout and sturdy or perishable as a cobweb.

We can show you Parasols in white of fine, pretty mercerized and imitation linen, also the fine hand embroidered Irish linen, all washable. Beautiful colorings in rain-proofed silk to match your gown. Styles to suit your taste. Prices to suit your purse.

Just Nice!

The most beautiful line of Muslin Underskirts, Corset Covers, Night Robes and Drawers we have ever shown. Exquisite embroideries, fine materials and extra full sizes. We can't help but enthuse over them. You can't when you see them.

BIG VALUES IN THE GARMENT DEPARTMENT.

Lots of Parasols For the Little Folks.

BAREFOOT SANDALS

The newest and best idea in Barefoot Sandals is the E. C. SHUFFER'S, made on a foot-shape last with heavy welted soles of oak tanned leather, insuring pliability, long wear and freedom from tacks, lumps of wax or thread. The insole is as smooth as china.

They are the best foot covering for boys and girls in the hot weather, being light and cool and protecting the feet from stonebruises, slivers and all the ills the barefoot boy is heir to. The price range is as follows:

2 1-2 to 8 - - - $1.00 11 1-2 to 2 - - - $1.50
8 1-2 to 11 - - - 1.25 2 1-2 to 6 - - - 1.75

Mrs. L. M. Averill and Mrs. H. G. Woodruff went to Burlington this afternoon to attend the Ladies' Missionary union of Congregational churches which meets there this evening and tomorrow.

Nearly all the Barre people who were taken ill last Sunday and Monday as the result of eating hulled corn, are completely recovered or nearly so. None of them will experience any difficulty as the result of their illness.

The graduating class of Montpelier high school plan to leave Montpelier June 15 for their trip to Washington, D. C. They plan to be away until June 22, visiting in Philadelphia on the way. Supt. Brown of the Montpelier schools will be in charge of the party.

It is possible that Ottawa, not Plattsburg, will be the opposing team at the opening of the Northern league at Inter-city park on June 23. Plattsburg still insists that they cannot get their team together before July 2, and they have written President R. B. Bailey of the league to that effect.

The Rev. R. F. Lowe, pastor of the Methodist church of this city, is the new president of the Ministers' Monday club of Barre, Montpelier, and neighboring towns. The Rev. C. C. Conner of Barre is vice president and the Rev. C. P. Wellman of Montpelier is secretary and treasurer.

J. B. Campbell of Chicago of "Campbell's Illustrated Journal" arrived in Barre yesterday, having been called by the illness of his mother, Ester A. Campbell, whose death is announced in today's paper. The "Illustrated Journal" is a large monthly periodical, devoted to literary interests.

Though you have seen the Hadley pictures before, don't miss the new collection to be given here on Friday evening. Mr. Hadley's pictures are selected with rare discrimination and every effort is extended to gratify the various tastes of theatergoers. Comedy is found in abundance, wholesome fun with all semblance of vulgarity eliminated, magic pictures galore, magnificent and interesting travel pictures interspersed with novelties and sensations. Don't miss this, Hadley's greatest program. Tickets now on sale.

Meeting sets that display the various gaits of high-mettled horses are given particular attention in the Barre and Hadley circus performance this season. One horse, the famous "Evergreen," is said to have twenty-nine distinct and separate gaits, each of which is exhibited at the command of the driver, Miss Minnie Johnston, who is credited with showing remarkable cleverness in handling the reins. Among the other manage- ment and drivers with the big show are the Bay Thompson troupe, Minnie Taylor, Rose Huettnermann, Celia Sebastian, Virgil Barrett, Miss Margot Von Stutterheim and Miss M. Fitzgerald. In Montpelier, Saturday, June 9.

Attention, Union Men!

When purchasing goods of any kind demand the Union Label on all your purchases; wherever possible, as that is the only guarantee that the goods have been made by Union labor and in clean factories, and in doing so you are helping others to get a living wage.

When purchasing Cigars, see that the box bears the Cigarettes' Union Label. We do not patronize the following brands of Cigars: Esterbrook's, Cremos, Chicos, Golden Wedding or Golden Wedding, Jr.
