Mr. Diego has been an official of the Cuba government for the past eight years.

While the Cuban legation has no advice indicating the reason for the change, and Charge Pedro Y. WERE IN GRAVE DANGER.

200 People Cut Off From Mainland by Big Storm.

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 18.—For six or eight hours yesterday upwards of 200 men women and children were cut off from the mainland in imminent peril. While cottage, hotel and railroad property were badly damaged by a fierce northeast storm which swept Wrightsville beach. The storm came without warning and hundreds of cottagers at the beach received their first intimation of danger upon awakening yesterday morning to find breakers sweeping clear across the beach to the sound and rolling high up on the mainland, two miles beyond. A trolley car kept at the beach in case of an emergency, took about 25 early risers across the sound on the trolley by which it is reached and four other cars responded from the city to a telephone message and brought others across while the waves swept the trestle. Those left at the beach were afraid to cross the trestle, which gave way immediately after the last car reached the mainland.

The storm increased in fury until noon when the rescue work was begun. Surf boats crossed the channel at great risk, bringing first the women and children, and later the men, the last of the number being brought over at five o'clock yesterday afternoon. Sheriff Frank H. Stedman was among those caught at the beach and at one time in a number of deputies who closed the barrooms and patrolled the beach last night to prevent looting.

FULLER DECLINES.

Will Not Accept Political Office While at Head of Grange.

New York, Sept. 18.—In a letter addressed to Judge Samuel Seabury, chairman of the Independent League, George A. Fuller formally declines the nomination for state treasurer, tendered him by the convention.

After expressing his appreciation of the honor conferred, Mr. Fuller says that it is impossible for him to accept the nomination for two reasons. He adds: "The first is a firm personal belief that I, as master of New York state grange, which is a non-partisan organization, should not undertake duties which might in any respect interfere with my personal duties. The second reason is the fact that the acceptance of the political nomination at the hands of any political party at this time would prevent me from carrying out certain policies and plans for the advancement of the agricultural and rural conditions of our state through the New York state grange."

GETS FOOTBALL STAR.

White of Waltham High School Goes to University of Vermont.

Burlington, Sept. 18.—Manager Waltham of the university of Vermont football team has a football find in Harry White of Waltham, Mass., who is well known in eastern Massachusetts as an all around athlete of marked ability. At the end of the last football season, White was elected as right half on the all interscholastic eleven and was pronounced by the Boston Herald as one of the best backs seen among the preparatory schools of that section for some years. White was popular in his school and was captain of the school eleven. His school position was left half back. He is also a first class line ball player, his position being first base, and he is a fast basket ball guard.

Some of the Boston papers predicted that White would enter Harvard. An effort was also made to get him at Brown. The university of Vermont is therefore fortunate in that he is in this city, ready to enter the college a week from tomorrow.

CENTRAL PORTION VILLAGE BURNED

Holderness, N. H., Suffered Severely by Fire Yesterday Afternoon—Loss Is Placed at $25,000.

Ashland, N. H., Sept. 18.—The entire central portion of Holderness was wiped out by fire yesterday afternoon, destroying seven buildings and entailing a loss estimated at $25,000.

The fire started at 3:30 in the barn owned by J. C. Long, spreading from there to the store and home of Long, burning them to the ground. From the store and house the fire spread to the adjacent store owned by Long, which at the present time is unoccupied. This, too, was entirely destroyed.

The fire spread to the store, house, bowling alleys and poolroom owned by E. F. Gay. Gay and his family lived in the building and his entire household goods were destroyed without insurance. The fire next destroyed the store, barn and house owned and occupied by N. L. Whitten.

The fire department at Ashland was called but with the exception of what little help could be given nothing could be done, as Holderness has no fire protection nor has Ashland a fire engine.

W. E. Lindsey, who runs a picture studio this side of the Whitten store, was another loser, having a large amount of goods stored in the Long building. The three-poor boats owned by Long were destroyed, being hitched to the wharf back of his building. The fire spread so rapidly that they could not be saved. The loss of these will be about $1,500. N. B. Whitten lost about a dozen boats.

The cause of the fire is unknown. It was first discovered when smoke was seen issuing from the Long barn. While fighting the fire E. F. Gay was seriously burned from his shoulder to his hand.

The square bridge which connects the two sides of the town, was at one time on fire, but was saved by a bucket brigade, as was the postoffice, library, residence of Robert Currier and wharf of Aquatic transportation company.

The loss to Long is $25,000, with $1,500 insurance; Whitten $6,500, with $2,000 insurance; Gay $3,000 with no insurance on personal goods. The Ashland savings bank has a security on their investment. W. E. Lindsey's loss on goods stored in Long building was $150. Six horses were saved.

At ten o'clock the delegates and members of the order gathered at their hall and marched in a body to mass, which was celebrated by the Rev. W. J. Following mass the delegates marched back to their hall in the Union block, and after a short session adjournment was taken until this afternoon. There were 82 delegates present this morning, from Burlington, Rutland, W. Rutland, Barre, Montpelier, Northfield, Grandville, Richmond, Proctor, Poultney, Pittsford and Ludlow. By the opening this afternoon nearly 100 were enrolled, among them being the Rev. P. J. Barrett of Burlington, who was detained from coming this morning. TEMPEST IN THIS TEA-POT

Montpelier Fire Chief Disbands Hook and Ladder Co.

FOR GOOD OF THE SERVICE

Trouble Has Been Brewing for the Past Two Years—New Company at Once Organized Last Night.

The pot boiled over in the hook and ladder company of the Montpelier fire department last night and Chief John W. Peck, who has once or twice resigned during the past few months without being heard, disbanded the company. He declared that he did "his for the good of the service and to improve the discipline. Nevertheless, he thanked the 25 members of the company for their service and urged them to join either the new company or the line company, which will be enlarged. The officers of the new company will be new men.

The trouble dates back for two years or more, starting perhaps with the desire of the hook's company for club rooms. Chief Peck requested Frank M. Corry, then mayor, to take up the matter in city council. Nothing was done, however, until two months ago, when Mayor Haley's council took up the matter and secured the old laundry building on Elm street for club headquarters. Chief Peck felt aggrieved over what he considered a slight, he not having been consulted regarding the place. He was opposed to the laundry building. A short time later he tendered his resignation, but the council took no action. The company used the new headquarters.

At the regular meeting of the city council a month ago, no quarterly bills were received from the hook and ladder company to pay the rent. When asked the reason why, Foreman E. J. Blanchard said that Chief Peck had refused to O. K. the bill, whereupon Chief Peck made indignant denial of a refusal. On last Friday night, Mayor Haley and the fire committee met Chief Peck, Assistant Engineer C. S. Whittier and Foreman Blanchard, and it was said that no one owned up to being chief of the department so as to approve of the bills.

The hook and ladder company held an indignation meeting Saturday night and were prevented from disbanding then and there by the interference of Alderman Emmons, chairman of the fire committee. Chief Peck was left for Chief Peck to do that duty last night. Immediately after the old company was disbanded, Chief Peck laid plans for the organization of a new company with officers appointed from outside the old membership, as follows: Foreman, A. G. Moore, assistant, Chas. Williamson and D. B. Patten. The trouble in the fire department was the subject of discussion at an evening meeting of the city council yesterday afternoon, but none of the doings is divulged.

The city of Montpelier recently purchased a new hook and ladder truck, and it is expected to arrive within a few days. In view of this acquisition it is said that Chief Peck thought it an opportune time to reorganize the company. The deposed members are quite indignant over their treatment, and say that the last chapter of the story has not been written.

POLICE DRAWN INTO TROUBLE.

Another wrangle developed this morning, when Chief Peck of the fire department addressed a letter to Chief Durkee of the police, telling him to have charge of policing at fires. Hesitating as to who had the authority in the matter, Chief Durkee took the letter to Mayor Haley. The latter promptly told the chief of police to return the letter to Chief Peck, and the fire department, which has been done, Mayor Haley declared Chief Peck's plan to be very impracticable.

600 APPLICANTS FOR 23 POSITIONS

Sergeant-at-Arms Ferrin of Vermont State House Is Embarrassed by the Wealth of Material.

Sergeant-at-Arms C. H. Ferrin of this week putting the finishing touches to the many reports and improvements he has made at the state house at Montpelier since he was appointed January 1st, and the throng of state officials and members of the legislature who will gather there October 3, will find the capitol in splendid shape for their occupancy.

Mr. Ferrin will this week make the 23 appointments to positions at the state house this fall that come under his supervision and jurisdiction. For these 23 places he has about 600 applications, so the disappointed ones are sure to be in the majority. These applications have burdened Mr. Ferrin's desk for the past four months, and they began to come as early as last January. Mr. Ferrin will have a big sight of relief when the thing is closed up and the successful ones are notified.

DISCUSS GRIEVANCES BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

After Letting Its Own Members Present Appeals on Quadrennial Appraisal, Civil Authority Board Goes Into Executive Session.

The board of civil authority cleaned up the appeals on the quadrennial appraisal last night, taking up the grievances of its own members and the fag ends of the remainder. Then the members set about the task of acting on the appeals, after the assessors had made their recommendations for cut-downs. This work will be done in secret session, in spite of the statement of Assessors Page that he would like to have the matter thrashed out "in open parliament."

The appeals heard last night were: Mrs. Cordelia Smith, represented by A. E. Campbell, residence 276 North Main street, raised from $5,000 to $6,000; old figure high enough, building restriction within twenty feet of West street, roofs leak "like a sieve." A. E. Campbell for himself, house at 585 North Main street, raised from $1,800 to $2,000; old appraisal enough.

L. H. Thurston, also member of board, house at 147 and 149 North Seminary street, raised from $1,900 to $2,600, was once a barn. House at 5 Thurston place, taxed at $500; would sell building above sills for $50. House at 153 North Seminary street; reduced from $2,900 to $1,800, still too high compared with neighbors.

F. H. Burke, member of board, house at 94 North Seminary street, raised from $80 to $900, cost him $800. Newton street house, rated at $800, should be $700, compared with Lavery's, Margaret Pirie, represented by Assessors Page, wanted old appraisal of $950 on South Main street house, now at $1,000. Alexander Milne, member of board, home place corner of Nichols and Boyce street, raised from $1,000 to $1,500; half a dozen houses just like it listed for $1,200. Mrs. Kate Eastman, through Clerk Mackay, asked for a reduction to $2,000, house on Wellington street; now assessed at $2,300.

John A. Marlinton, member of the board, house 16 Perrin street, wouldn't object to $1,100; had been raised from $1,000 to $1,200; house, 71 Beekley street, should be at old appraisal of $600 instead of $800, to compare with neighbors.

Frank G. Howland, member of board, block North Main street, raised $1,000 from $5,000, is that amount too high compared with E. A. Drown's appraisal of $10,000; rents for $100.50 per month. Mr. Howland, representing William Jack, house on Keith avenue, raised from $2,600 to $5,500; too high in proportion, declared Mr. Jack by letter.

E. L. Smith (by letter), house, 17 Laurel street, raised from $2,700 to $3,000; should be back to old figure; home place on West street, ought to be put back to $1,000—is now $4,100; addition of water system to be taxed to Martha P. Smith.

A. G. Fay, member of board, house on C street, raised from $850 to $950; listers had recommended old figure; residence on Academy street, raised from $2,600 to $3,100; compared it with Assessor F. L. Page's house nearby, which was assessed for $1,500 and for which Mr. Page had refused $2,000.

H. E. Cutler, member of board, home place, Jefferson street, raised from $1,000 to $4,300; too much. House, Jefferson street, raised from $2,700 to $2,800, too high; house, same street, cost him $1,500, is now assessed for $2,300, having been raised from $2,000. Clinton Cutler's house on Jefferson street, was raised from $2,100 to $2,400; had cost him $1,500.

Alex. Milne spoke in favor of a reduction to Mrs. Margaret Fraser, house on Murray street, raised from $1,000 to $1,400.

RESOLUTION VOTED DOWN

City Council Will Not Repair Poor Farm House

BY VOTE, FOUR TO THREE

Cemetery Commissioners Add to the Discussion by Requesting City to Vocate That Part of Hope Cemetery Occupied by Buildings.

A special meeting of the city council was held at 6 o'clock last evening to further consider the repairing of the poor farm buildings. The resolution presented at the last meeting was taken from the table, after a communication from the cemetery commissioners had been read and discussed, and a motion that the resolution authorizing repairs on the poor farm buildings at an expense not exceeding $2,000 be adopted, was lost on a yeas and nays vote, as follows: Voting for the resolution, Milne, Albisetti and Mayor Barclay; voting against, Cutler, Burke, Thurston and Campbell.

The meeting opened with the reading of the following communication from the cemetery commissioners: "The question you ask us is: Shall we need the land in Hope cemetery on which the buildings now stand for cemetery purposes in the next ten or fifteen years? We have conferred with Mr. E. L. Smith, and in reply to your inquiry to the buildings in Hope cemetery that we do not feel justified in stating that we should not need that land for the next ten or fifteen years for cemetery purposes."

There is another way to look at this matter. You very well know the state law in regard to the distance for burying from a dwelling. Although we might not want the land the buildings set on for burial purposes, but with the buildings there we have no chance to set out shrubbery and trees, which should be done to beautify the grounds.

"Furthermore, the cemetery commissioners have no means by which they can enter the cemetery from the highway only at the extreme upper end. We are now obliged, with the exception of this entrance, to pass across the city land to enter the cemetery.

"We deem it advisable at this time to ask the honorable city council to transfer all lands on the northwesterly side of the highway bought for cemetery purposes to the cemetery commissioners, and that we should like the buildings that are now thereon removed at as early a date as the city council could deem it prudent
