The mere announcement that the people's favorite play "Human Hearts" is coming to our city, is a matter of much import to the theatre goers in our midst. No melodrama of modern times has enjoyed the vogue that has been accorded to W. E. Rankin's solid, substantial success, "Human Hearts". The reason is apparent. The play is interesting from the rise of the curtain on the first act until the final curtain falls. The climaxes are strong and exciting, and the story is one that will appeal to all classes of theatre goers, no matter what their stations in life may be. The situations, lines and incidental business of the play, are of such a nature that they compel the undivided attention of the spectators. A strong vein of comedy runs through the play, but it is so placed that never at any time does it conflict with the more serious scenes. The author has been careful to preserve the dramatic unities. His characters are finely drawn, and as true to nature as possible; in fact he has taken most of his characters from life. "Human Hearts" will be at the opera house tonight.

Prepare the Windows and Doors for the Cold Weather

Don't leave any chance for "Old Boreas" to work his way into your home this winter. See that the doors shut tightly, and that there are no crevices between the windows and sashes. A little pneumatic device that shuts the door quickly but softly costs but little and wards off the cold. Weather strips are also cheap, and they keep the cold out and the heat in.

These and other needs can be supplied here for very small cost.
