Vermont's capital gathered her beauty and her civility last night.

And so Vermont has the unpleasant possibility of another murder mystery to unravel.

The Ottawa baseball team of the Northern league is experiencing that sour taste of the morning after, judging from the suits entered by players for salaries. Well, it takes money to play our national game, and the Canadians have just learned it.

A Rutland girl who has been practicing rifle shooting all summer in anticipation of killing a deer this fall brought down a fine animal even before she got into the woods. The joke-smiths will have to revamp their little stories about how a woman shoots at a barndoor and hits nothing.

DEATH TO BUCKET-SHOPS.

Brokerage firms of a doubtful standing will have difficulty in getting local representatives in Vermont hereafter, for few men will work for $1,000 or so dollars a year and run the risk of paying out $800 of it in a fine for violating the law. This is the result of the efforts of former State Attorney Jackson, who, now that he is a member of the Vermont legislature, is carrying his efforts with a more stringent measure regulating stock brokerage. That his fellow-legislators should lend their aid to the passage of such a measure is a matter permitting of no doubt. The more money turned into legitimate channels of trade, inside the state of Vermont, the greater the degree of prosperity assured us. There is plenty of opportunity to invest money in Vermont. No extravagant returns need be expected, but there is more certainty of revenue than when we re-invest our money to the clutches of stock-dealers. The conclusion of the Phelps bucket-shop case yesterday makes a good start in the right direction.

SHOWING THEIR UNFITNESS.

Women advocates of the right of the ballot for their sex are showing a decided contrast of temperament in Great Britain and in the United States, and, to be more specific, in Vermont. In Great Britain they are making disgraceful scenes before parliament and before the courts and showing themselves unfit for the exercise of that self-control that ought to go with the ballot. In the United States those of the women who are advocating that they be given the right of voting are going about the effort quietly and unostentatiously, making no unnecessary uproar and no disturbance. In this respect, in their recognition of the law, they are showing themselves to be vastly more fitted to accept the responsibility of suffrage than their English cousins. Such holdenish actions as have recently taken place in London are calculated to remove the possibility of the success of the movement in Great Britain to a far distant date and they also constitute a menace to the progress of the idea in the United States. The "suffragettes" should profit by the exemplary attitude of the suffragists in this country.

A FAIR REQUEST.

If there be any weight in petitions, then the people who favor equal rights for man and auto on the thoroughfares of the state should get to work to offset the petitions that have been received by the Vermont legislature asking ing for "drastic" action against the automobile. As a fair request they might see the petition which is now being circulated in Rutland, which reads:

"To the General Assembly of the state of Vermont: We, the undersigned, being residents of Rutland, in the county of Rutland, do hereby petition and ask the General Assembly of the state of Vermont, that any legislation that may be passed by the assembly in relation to the use of highways of the state shall have for its purpose the proper and reasonable use of all the highways of the state at all times by all classes of vehicles, whether propelled by animal or mechanical power; and that any restrictions that may be imposed upon any particular class of vehicles in their use of such highways shall be calculated only to protect other classes of vehicles, not to unreasonably embarrass the owners of any particular class of vehicles in their use of such highways."

There is nothing ill-tempered or unreasonable in the request, and an almost unlimited number of names could be secured for such a document.

MAY BE FATAL.

Gotham Prison Keeper Hit by Trusty, Who May Have Been in Plot. New York, Oct. 26.—Edward Clusky, night keeper in the prison attached to the Harlem police court, was assaulted in the prison early yesterday by Harry Clayton, a trusty, and may die. It is believed that Clayton intended to procure a jail deliver for himself and a friend, Albert Langer, who had been committed for violating his parole from Elmira, where he had met Clayton. Clusky was beaten on the head with a monkey wrench by Clayton, and was rescued by the head keeper, John Ford, who heard his cries and the uproar of the prisoners who had been awakened by the struggle. Ford subdued Clayton at the point of a revolver, and locked him in a cell.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

So many cruel schemes unfolded in man's long journey through the world; We suffer from a thousand ills— Wars, earthquakes, scandal, corns and chills. And, what oft bothers me, in sooth, Is a sore little tooth.

So many evil things designed To rob us of our peace of mind, So many things the spirit roll The while we're at our daily toil, But what concerns me most today Are debts I cannot pay.

The world is full of traps and snares, And very ill a mortal fares, Oh, you'd be just as sad as I, You'd feel as much inclined to sigh, If, though your hopes of winning grew, Your best girl jilted you! —Judge.

THEY FIND IN URIC-O A PERMANENT CURE

Rheumatic Sufferers Rejoice in Receiving Such Splendid Results From Uric-O.

If a convention could be held of all the Rheumatic sufferers who have been cured completely by the use of Uric-O, there would be such a rejoicing as to convince every skeptic that there has at last been found the true "Fountain of Health" and yet this would be a decided error, for Uric-O is not a "cure-all," but simply a cure for Rheumatism and Rheumatism only. Every sufferer from Rheumatism who wants to be rid of the sleepless nights, the unending, maddening twinges of pain, should buy a bottle of Uric-O and start rejoicing on his way to health. It matters little how long one has suffered from the trouble nor how intense the suffering, Uric-O will cure it. Cures it completely, cures it permanently and cures it today. Muscular, Articular and Inflammatory Rheumatism yield at once to this mighty healing agent. Druggists and physicians everywhere are gladly recommending Uric-O for Rheumatism because they know its wonderful curative properties cannot be exaggerated. Uric-O acts directly upon the blood, dissolves uric acid, and drives it from the blood. The Red Cross Pharmacy is the "Home of Uric-O" in Barre and they sell it and guarantee it for 75c and $1.00 a bottle. We know you can be cured by Uric-O and you will only try one bottle if you will thank us from the bottom of your heart for having made you acquainted with this marvelous remedy. Don't delay, don't put it off. Try it and try it today. Ask them about it and learn from them the many cures Uric-O has effected right here in your own town. If you desire, you can send us your free of charge by sending your name and address to the Smith Drug Co., Syracuse, N. Y., and asking for a sample free.

FEDERAL BUILDING.

Interior Work to Be Completed This Winter, Cornice Next Summer.

Burlington, Oct. 26.—Workmen will be sent here next week by Richardson, Burgess & Co., of Washington to resume operations on the new federal building. The work will be confined to the interior of the building which it is hoped to complete this winter. The bids for the marble cornice submitted some time ago were too large and the contract will not be let until the work is resubmitted for bids. The contract will be let during the winter, with a view to begin operations as soon as weather permits in the spring. The steam heating plant was put in a year ago, its completion, however, awaiting some work at the machine shops in Winooski. The plastering, flooring and interior wood finish will occupy the workmen this winter.

50TH ANNIVERSARY.

Middlebury Chapter, Delta Upsilon Half a Century Old.

ness session of the 72nd annual convention of the Delta Upsilon fraternity was held in the old Baptist church on Thursday morning at nine, with first vice-president, Thomas H. Noonan of Buffalo, in the chair.

Last evening the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Middlebury chapter was publicly celebrated at the Baptist church. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Henry Lincoln Bailey of Springfield, Mass., and a poem read by Prof. Prentiss C. Hoyt of Worcester, Mass. The oration was given by the Rev. Carlisle R. Myers of Brooklyn, the celebrated Baptist divine.

Following these public exercises there was a reception hall at the town hall with music by Doring's band of Troy, of nine pieces. The town hall was elaborately decorated by Metzger of Rutland, with the fraternal seals and the gold and blue which are the Delta Upsilon colors. Pictures of Hughes and Bruce and Jerome are everywhere in evidence and so many Hughes and Bruce buttons are in sight that the crowd looked like delegates to a New York republican convention. About 200 visitors have already arrived.

IF THE SHOE FITS

Put it on. But if it doesn't fit, take it off pretty quickly. There's a lot of difference between the human foot and a dummy foot of exactly the same size. The human foot spreads as you set it down and has tender spots. The only safe way to buy Shoes is to come here and be fitted by an experienced fitter. We guarantee correct fitting—not only for the well-formed, but for tender, misshapen feet. Makes of Shoes vary largely. Mail-order measurements with no personal trying on or fitting cannot be expected to bring a perfect fitting Shoe.

SLAVES TO HOUSEWORK.

Short Cut to Woman's Emancipation From Household Drudgery.

Housekeepers have reason to complain that although man's work is from sun to sun, woman's work is never done. At least, such is the case with those housekeepers who do not read the household department of the Boston Daily Globe. One of the popular features of that department is a practical instruction in the art of saving yourself while doing housework. Every woman owes it to herself to take advantage of the Globe's household department, where they can have the best possible advice on housework, written by New England housekeepers who have had years of experience. Order the Boston-Globe delivered regularly at your home.
