CHILE NEEDS MORE AID. Middle Class Suffer Most From Earthquake.

New York, Nov. 1.—A letter received here from George L. Duval, who is treasurer of the Merchants' association, went to Valparaiso, Chile, to distribute among earthquake sufferers the $16,000 raised by the association, contains an urgent plea for additional relief funds. Among the other things Mr. Duval writes: "The earthquake clauses in the insurance policies almost certainly exempt the companies from claims for damages by fire which immediately followed the earthquake. The companies, however, make the announcement that they will not respond for any claims whatever, holding that all the fires were caused by the earthquake. It is expected that they will be obliged, perhaps willingly, to differentiate and pay at least a portion of the loss by fire, which occurred several days after the earthquake and after the original fires were under control. These later fires are variously ascribed to short-circuits, an assuming electric service, smoldering cinders and to incendiaries. It is not the poorer class who have suffered most from the disaster. As they are being provided with shelter, food and clothing for the time they are in a little worse condition than they were before. They have besides, the certainty of work at good wages. The great burden really falls upon the middle class, a vast number of clerks and employees whose savings, invested in their homes, were lost, and the shop-keepers who lost everything.

CONTRACTOR DROPS DEAD. Joseph Morgan of Burlington Stricken While Leaving City Hall.

Burlington, Nov. 1.—Joseph Morgan, the well known contractor and builder of this city, died almost instantly yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Morgan attended a hearing before the street commissioners in the matter of sidewalk assessments on his street, in City hall, and spoke briefly. Leaving the meeting, he had reached the first step leading from the building when he fell backward to the floor and expired almost instantly.

Bystanders hurried to him and Dr. Bingham, who was also attending the hearing, was called, but Mr. Morgan was beyond hope of resuscitation. The body was placed in a nearby room and subsequently taken in charge by Undertaker Corbin.

Mr. Morgan was about 55 years of age and for a generation had been one of our best known builders. A great many buildings of all kinds attest his competency and his conscientious work. He is survived by a wife and four married daughters.

WOMEN FIGHTS NEW YORK CENTRAL ROAD

Claims That Its Charter Has Expired and the Company Has Ceased to Exist.

White Plains, N. Y., Nov. 1.—The New York Central is meeting unexpected opposition from many of the property holders along the line of the proposed electrification of the railroad north of Spuyten Duyvil.

Mrs. Maude Yale Bishop Wilson of Scarborough, owns a strip of land about 200 feet in length and 13 feet wide for which the company brought suit. In fighting this, Mrs. Wilson alleges that the life of the railroad corporation has expired and that it no longer exists. Also that, even if it did exist, the franchise is limited and restrict the road to a three-track line between New York and Albany, and that the company cannot increase it to four or more tracks, as it now desires to do.

She says that the railroad company was incorporated in 1846 for a life of 50 years, and that, as this expired in 1896, all rights, franchises, powers and authority have expired.

Mrs. Wilson also claims that the company's valuation of $500 for the strip is grossly inadequate and that it is worth at least $50,000.

EIGHT MEAT INDICTMENTS

Action by Chittenden County Grand Jury

IN DISEASED BEEF CASE

The Consolidated Rendering Company Is One of the Defendants, and Its Burlington Manager Is the Other.

Burlington, Nov. 1.—The Chittenden county grand jury yesterday returned eight indictments in connection with the sale and exportation of diseased beef and cattle in the state of Vermont. Four of the indictments were against the Consolidated Rendering company and four were against L. E. Brigham, manager of the Burlington Rendering company plant in this city. The local company is controlled by the Consolidated company, which is a Maine corporation.

The indictments against Brigham and against the Consolidated company were identical, and charged:

First—The sale of diseased meat. Second—The sale of a diseased cow. Third—The possession of meat of calf under four weeks of age, for the purpose of shipping it out of the state. Fourth—The possession of the body of a calf to be sold for food purposes.

Each of the indictments contained one hundred counts. Counsel for Brigham secured a continuance of one of the cases against him until the March term of the court and the defendant was recognized in bail of $500. It was arranged that during the afternoon counsel would prepare for the appearance of the defendants at a later date.

Upon the request of Attorney General Clark C. Fitts, Judge Rowell held Carl E. May, William W. Fisher and W. S. Heath in bonds of $500 as witnesses. The three men are employees of the Burlington Rendering company, of which Brigham is manager.

Judge Rowell explained that the fine imposed was not the maximum amount, and that in imposing it he had in mind the fact that there were further means of punishing the offending company. An inquiry among the lawyers interested in the case as to what further punishment might be inflicted, brought out the information that under the laws of Vermont the company can be permanently enjoined from doing business in this state. Judge Rowell, however, did not intimate that such an extreme course would follow. The rendering company paid its fine of $3,000 on the spot.

MORE WARLIKE. The Indian Uprising is Spreading Out in Wyoming.

Sheridan, Wyo., Nov. 1.—Danger from the 700 or 800 Cheyenne Indians joining the renegade Ute band has become a reality. Yesterday six companies left Sheridan for Ashland to join forces with the troops from Fort Keogh, expected to arrive there last night. The troops from here cannot hope to make Ashland, 80 miles north, before Thursday evening.

This military force is in command of Colonel Angur of the 12th cavalry, and will be guided by C. C. Roushup, better known as "Jesse James" Roushup. He is familiar with the Indians, and says the Cheyennes are ready to fight, and are the best armed tribe in the West. Roushup's statement explains the hurried change in the plans of the troops under Colonel Angur. They expected to unload yesterday at Arvada, but instead they were brought to Sheridan, and the wagons were sent ahead at once.

The soldiers will proceed up Tongue river to Ashland, reinforced by two companies from Fort MacKenzie. The main band of Utes is still in the vicinity of Moorhead, but several small bands have been detached and the troops now hovering near are unable to keep track of them.

EMMA GOLDMAN JAILED. Arrested at Meeting of Anarchists in New York.

New York, Nov. 1.—Five men and six women, one of them being Emma Goldman, who were arrested by the police in a raid at a meeting of anarchists in East Fourth street Tuesday night, were arraigned in court yesterday and held in $1,000 bail for examination tomorrow as participants in an unlawful assembly for the purpose of overthrowing the government. All were sent to cells.

ROOSEVELTS ON FARM. President and Wife Leave Washington For Visit to Pine Knot.

Washington, Nov. 1.—President and Mrs. Roosevelt left Washington yesterday over the Southern railroad for an outing at Pine Knot, Mrs. Roosevelt's country home in Albemarle county, Va. They will return to Washington Sunday evening.

MARTYR SUFFRAGETTES. British Opinion in Their Favor After Late Indignities.

London, Nov. 1.—Although public opinion favors the suffragettes, a lesson, the action of the authorities in treating as common criminals the women who created a disturbance in the lobby of the House of Commons on Oct. 23 threatens to raise the prisoners to the level of martyrs and to secure them a measure of public support which they would never obtain otherwise. Some of them are of gentle birth and bringing up. One is a daughter of the late Richard Cobden. The harsh treatment of all has aroused an outcry and indignant protest.

When they were sentenced to two months' imprisonment they were stripped naked and searched. They were then provided with only plank beds and the coarse prison diet, and were not allowed to correspond with friends. Some of them are now ill from the rigors of their imprisonment. It is contended that they are really political offenders and are entitled to be treated as first-class misdemeanants, which would give them privileges of comparative comfort, even to the employment of a servant. The government, recognizing the danger in the growth of agitation over the matter, has at length ordered the prisoners to be treated as first-class misdemeanants.

JEROME MOVES IN INSURANCE. He Sends For Solicitor of The Mutual Life.

New York, Nov. 1.—James McKeen, the general solicitor for the Mutual Life Insurance company, went to the Criminal courts building Tuesday afternoon and was closeted with District Attorney Jerome for an hour. Mr. McKeen was sent for by the district attorney, who wanted an answer from the company in regard to the charges that were made in affidavits by Edward O. Sutton and T. Reid Fell, former general agents of the Mutual, that they were forced out when they refused to support the administration ticket in the pending election of trustees of the company. It is understood that one of the things Mr. Jerome questioned Mr. McKeen about was the matter of "advances" to agents by the company. This is the Armstrong law prohibitive.

It is charged by those opposed to the present management of the Mutual and New York Life companies that both are making "advances" to agents to be used in campaigning for the administration tickets. Some of the companies decided that the Armstrong law ruling on this went into effect immediately and discontinued the practice last May. Both the Mutual and New York Life companies contended that the provision regarding "advances" does not become effective until the first of next year. The Mutual was advised in this respect by Mr. McKeen, so stated President Charles A. Peabody when questioned on the matter.

In connection with the question of "advances" Samuel Untermyer, counsel for the international policyholders committee, sent last night to State Superintendent of Insurance Otto Kelsey complaints that both the Mutual and New York Life were sending out these advances to agents for campaigning purposes and called on Mr. Kelsey to take steps to stop it.

NOT TO REPLY. President Won't Take Notice of Hearst's Using Parallel Column.

New York, Nov. 1.—A special despatch from Washington, D. C., to The Tribune says: The President does not believe that the voters of New York state have any doubts about his position and does not see why he should further define his attitude toward the Republican candidate for governor or the platform on which he stands.

To the efforts of Mr. Hearst's managers to prove by placard and parallel columns that the speeches of the President and the Democratic candidates are similar in character, no attention whatever can be given. The mere expression of lofty sentiments by Mr. Hearst no more proves him worthy of the governorship than they would of the presidency and the coupling of certain sentences has no effect with those spoken by the President when taken out of the context of speeches in which they were contained will not convince any right-minded person that there is anything whatever in common between the two men.

The President does not believe that this campaign thunder is of sufficient consequence to be dignified by his notice. This statement may be accepted as giving President Roosevelt's final decision on the appeals to him to speak in the New York campaign. Those who have hoped that the President would "take a hand" in the fight may derive some comfort, however, from the fact that Secretary Root will speak at Utica as the representative of the President.

NEW YORK CAMPAIGN. Hughes Asks Hearst as to Corporations.

Fulton, N. Y., Nov. 1.—Charles E. Hughes spoke at the opera house here yesterday to an audience that filled the structure. It was snowing hard when his special train pulled in. In the course of his speech he said: "In respect to corporations, the vice lies not in the organization, but in the abuse of evasions of law of which men in charge of these enterprises frequently are guilty. And therefore it was that as a test of political sincerity, I asked my opponent whether in his corporations he obeyed the law. I asked him whether in those matters that were under his control, where he was the complete master of the situation and could do just as he pleased, he was the apostle of corporate reform. I asked whether in his own great business of publishing and selling newspapers he rendered a loyal obedience to the state of New York and to the city government of the city which protected him. It has been proved by the records of the departments in New York that my opponent, despite his constant abuse and his reckless denials, mingling good and bad alike in an indiscriminate condemnation with reference to corporate matters, failed to pay the share that was due to the city of New York for their protection."

BIG FINANCIAL MELON. Pullman Company in Quandary Over $26,000,000 Surplus Division.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—To cut or not to cut is the question that confronts officials of the Pullman company. They have on their hands a large melon, red ripe on the inside and with well developed black seeds. There is a meeting of the shareholders next month, and before that time the directors must figure out a way to dispose of something like $26,000,000 to cause the least possible attention from government authorities and the traveling public, and still satisfy the stock-owners.

Eight years ago the last melon in the Pullman stock was cut. At that time the capital was $36,000,000, and a stock dividend of 50 per cent was declared, in addition to a cash distribution of 20 per cent.

NO BAD CUBAN RISING

Trouble at Cienfuegos Was Unimportant

DEBT OF THE REPUBLIC

Totals $48,051,000—Palma Will Not Issue Proposed Manifesto—Change Is Credited to Influence of Governor Magoon.

Havana, Nov. 1.—Major Theodore P. Kane, commander of marines at Cienfuegos, has reported that on October 27 he was informed that a serious uprising was on foot. He at once posted strong guards at the entrance to the city, with orders not to permit armed persons to pass in or out. He then went to reconnoitering and in the town of Caunao, four miles to the northeast, he found Colonel Toledo at the head of a mounted and unarmed body of one hundred ex-insurgents. Toledo said he had organized for the purpose of resisting a threatened attack by the Moderates. Major Kane explained that these fears were unfounded and advised Colonel Toledo to disband his men and send them back to their homes. This advice was followed. A similar gathering near Sancti Spirit was also dispersed. From Matanzas come further complaints of the threatening attitude of bands of armed negroes in that vicinity, but no overt acts have been committed.

Bonded Debt $48,051,000. Major Eugene F. Ladd, one of the commissioners to audit the accounts of the Cuban treasury, reports that the bonded liabilities of the republic amount to $48,051,000, consisting of $35,000,000 for an exterior loan to pay the army of liberation, $10,000,000 for an interior loan for the same purpose, and $2,151,000 of the bonds of 1905. The amount paid the soldiers of the revolution of 1895 was $56,000,000, which will probably be increased if the Howe bill providing for the appointment of a new claims commission to sit for five years should eventually become law. The Liberals made an attempt to pass this bill at the last session. Referring to the many stories of insecurity and theft in the country, the Discussion contrasts the present condition with that of 1899, when in spite of the fact that Cuba had been at war for several years the people settled down at once. It explains this by saying that the revolution of 1905 was the result of the ideal of the people. It claims that the recent trouble was not the result of any ideal.

Palma Will Not Issue Statement. Ex-President Palma says that he will issue no statement in regard to the events that led to intervention. His silence is attributed to the influence exerted by Governor Magoon when Senator Palma's son came from Matanzas to the palace and conferred with Mr. Magoon and Consul General Steinhardt. Governor Magoon has issued a decree which discharges all employees of the Senate and House of Representatives, with the exception of ten men for each House. This move will effect a saving of $100,000 a year.

Governor Magoon has appointed Chas. Hernandez to be director of posts and telegraphs. Senator Hernandez occupied this position during the first period of American intervention.
