Albert O. Smith of Port Jefferson, N. Y., son of Charles A. Smith of this city, is now engaged in plotting an automobile speedway for the Long Island Motor Parkway, Inc., to be used exclusively for the Vanderbilt cup races. It will be remembered that at the last races for the cup which were held on the public highway, so many were either killed or maimed that W. K. Vanderbilt said that there would be no more races for the cup except on a special track. It is this special track which Mr. Smith is selecting from three proposals. The course has to be 60 miles long and three rods wide, with curves and steep pitches preferred. There will be no grade crossings, however. Associated with Mr. Smith is another representative of the company, who is buying up the right of way. The farmers are said to be anxious to get the course, some of them going so far as to offer a right of way free, in order to get the patronage which they expect will follow.

German military authorities are experimenting with a device by which the location of troops using smokeless powder may be easily discovered. By this device it is proposed to survey the landscape through pale red glasses. The flash of smokeless powder appears strong in red light, while ordinary objects are dimmed. By furnishing field glasses with the device in question, which is provided with screens of the proper tint, the position of concealed marksmen can be detected.

As a weaver, nature produces fine work. Certain tree bark and leaves furnish excellent cloth, as, for instance, the famous tapa cloth used in the South Sea islands. Nature is a glassmaker, too, according to the Indian Review. By discharging her lightning into beds of quartz sand she forms exquisite little pipes of glass. She makes valuable ropes of various kinds in the shape of tropical vines and creepers, and she is even a lace maker, as witness and lace trees of the West Indies.
