

P. N. CORSETS

Some of the good features of the P. N. Practical Side Corsets. The extra side pieces make the breaking down of the Corset impossible. These side pieces can be removed from the pockets where they are set and reversed from time to time, insuring permanent shapeliness to the Corsets and adding to the lease of service. The cork steel protector used in all P. N. Corsets will keep the front steel from breaking and rusting. We recommend that you try a pair of P. N. Corsets. Prices: 50c, $1.00, $1.25 and $1.50.

THE MOUTHINGS OF DAY.
A College Professor Who Places the Dollar Higher Than the Man.
Chancellor Day of Syracuse university says that workingmen are paid too much for their labor. He also lays against them the charge of "working as little as possible and of getting for it as much as possible." It is too bad the workingman is so much like the rest of humanity! And yet in the face of all this the facts are—and government statistics prove them—that for every dollar the workingman receives he gives the value of $6 in work, and he is so generous that he allows the other $5 to go to make millionaires and to enrich those who tyrannize over him and who utterly corrupt the morals of society and the politics of the country. The fact is that this generosity of the workingman even amounts to a crime—a crime against himself and against his family and against all the mass of his fellow workmen.
Any workingman who lives and brings up a family on $9 to $12 a week, and there are millions of them in the United States, each week of his life solves a problem which would much more than baffle the silly wits of this professor, so called, Day, but whose ideas are born of the night and of the darkness of despair.

THE OPENING WEDGE.
At the annual convention of the West Virginia State Federation of Labor the following resolution was adopted:
Resolved, That the West Virginia State Federation of Labor declares for the immediate establishment of a modern system whereby the voters can instruct their representatives—the advisory initiative and advisory referendum or initiative and referendum provisions—to be followed by their reforms in the governmental system, so that the representatives shall become the electors' agents—namely, that there be established the initiative and referendum, direct nominations, direct election, proportional representation and the right of recall, these changes to apply in city, state and nation.
This covers all the desirable political reforms, and it names the opening wedge. Reread it and observe the far reaching programme.
Courses For Workingmen at Yale.
With the beginning of the next term Yale university purposes to introduce a number of courses for workingmen, comprising twenty exercises of four hours a week, divided into two evenings. The courses will be in practical electricity, mechanical drawing, machine design, steam and steam engine. The scheme as proposed is only tentative and designed to test the willingness of factory and other workers to take advantage of the opportunity offered. The co-operation of both employers and the trade councils will be asked in the plan. The courses will be free or a merely nominal charge.

WHY OUR CREAM BREAD HAS REAL VALUE

Probably every housewife knows how Bread is made in a small way, but we are often asked how Bread is made in large quantities, how we can always have it the same, if we don't have bad luck at any time, etc. Making Bread is our bakers' business. Instead of making a small batch once or twice a week, under varying conditions, we are making it all the time, under scientific principles—even temperature, up-to-date machinery, a large, clean, airy bakery, good workmen and the best of materials.
The cut shows the mixer in which the dough is mixed, and this is the only way to get a perfect mixture and is much more sanitary than the old way of mixing in a box by hand. When the dough is mixed the lever to the left is pulled and the dough dumped into a trough and left to rise. It is then put on a large hardwood table and moulded and put in pans. After baking it is wrapped in wax paper, with real value in every loaf and is always the same.
