"UNIVERSAL" COFFEE PERCOLATOR

Makes better coffee because it does not require boiling water. In other percolators it is boiling water that causes the bitterness, destroys the flavor and brings out the unwholesome properties of the coffee bean.

In less than one minute after heat is applied the automatic valve at the base of the tube forces the water—like warm, not boiling—up the tube on to the coffee in the filter cup, percolating through into the pot beneath.

It is by this method of constantly forcing the water through the coffee, while it gradually increases in temperature, that only the wholesome and nourishing elements of the coffee bean are extracted.

By the time the boiling point is reached the coffee is ready to serve—rich in strength and aroma for they have not been lost in steam—free from bitterness, for it has not been boiled.

Made of pure aluminum, four sizes, $3.50 up; "Elite" enamel ware, colors, light blue and sage green, $2.50 up.

This is a Silk Season!

Everything points to a great season on Silk Materials of all kinds. The price on Raw Silk has advanced so that Silks are costing today from 10 to 25 per cent more in the woven product. What we have to say at this time is that the following Silks were bought early enough to get old prices, and as we never charge a customer one cent more than we are actually obliged to these Silks will be sold as low as ever offered by us.

Table with 3 columns: SILKS. Text describing various silk products and prices, including Cheney Brothers' all pure Finland Silk and Tokyo Silks.
