

Fitts' White Sale!

This morning began the most important selling event of the whole season—FITTS' MAY WHITE SALE.

It has come to be understood, if it is something nice in Undermuslins, "Go to Fitts". From the standpoint of beautiful Underwear and large assortments this is the largest sale we have ever held.

A whole page "ad" would not be sufficient space for a fair description of the various lines. One line at a time, then, will be more satisfactory. This time we feature NIGHT GOWNS.

Beautiful Night Gowns!

There are scores of styles of Night Gowns with high neck and long sleeves in this White Sale, of course. That's taken for granted. But it might be a trifle unexpected, because so unusual, to find so many specially designed and exquisite Night Gowns—not only made of the thinnest, coolest cottons, but cut with low neck and short sleeves and gracefully trimmed, just as so many discriminating women want them during the Summer season.

The laces and embroideries used in the trimming have all been carefully selected. Another pleasing feature is the ample fulness in the cutting of the Gowns. They hang gracefully over the shoulders and across the front. Nothing is stinted or skimped. There are no shortcomings anywhere.

Our window will be full of them. The Underwear Department will show them galore. The prices—well, you'll be surprised, they show so little advance compared with other lines of goods. From 50c to 4.00. NEXT WILL BE SKIRTS.

SOMETHING NEW

Through the courtesy of Armour & Co., Chicago, we will this week serve free to our patrons a dainty luncheon. It's fine, especially the Beef Tea made from ARMOUR'S EXTRACT OF BEEF. The lady in charge will teach you all the latest fads and fancies in domestic science. None of these goods for sale.

GOWN GOSSIP.

The skirt that is killed all around in two inch plaits is the most favored style, and, although it is not new, it seems never old or out of style.

Walking skirts are short, shorter even than the original rainy day skirt, scarcely reaching to the ankles, a fashion which is sure to provoke a rage for pretty footwear.

The overdress—we are not prepared yet awhile to call it over-skirt—is noticeable in many of the best designs, and it will be utilized even more extensively, strange as it seems, on the dresses of thin materials.

The circular skirt faced up around the bottom or else having a deep un-stitched tuck, either of which gives the appearance of being in two separate skirts, is very attractive and equally adaptable for cotton, silk, wool and linen materials.

Very few plain skirts, even in walking lengths, are noticed, and the majority of them are quite loaded down with decoration, always keeping, however, to the simple, graceful lines which the styles of the season demand. —New York Post.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL.

Professor Howard Crosby Butler of Princeton is delivering a course of lectures on "Archaeology" to the juniors. R. M. Anderson, who has just been appointed full professor of history and political science at the Springfield (Mo.) Normal school, is not yet twenty-one years of age.
