SEVEN PERSONS HURT.

Trolley Car Off the Track Down Near Fitchburg.

Fitchburg, Mass., May 31.—Seven persons were quite badly injured, none, it is believed fatally, and several others sustained painful bruises yesterday by the derailing of an electric car of the Fitchburg and Loomis street trolley line, near the corner of South street.

The accident which was probably due to the spreading of the rails, occurred as the ten-seater car with its full quota of passengers was rounding the curve at the corner of Everett and South streets. The car suddenly left the track and shot diagonally across the street, narrowly missing a telegraph pole, and landed in the gutter with such force that all the passengers were thrown forward and many hurled to the ground. The car was travelling at a moderate rate of speed and fortunately it did not overturn. The car was only slightly damaged.

Physicians were soon on the scene and attended to such of the injured as needed their services, and later they injured were sent to their homes.

Hence State's Attorney Gates notified the people who have been dealing in the beer to spill it. He has thought best not to bring any prosecution whatsoever as the dealers didn't know the percentage of alcohol and thought they were within the law, the beer is made by the Berchart Brewing company.

VETERANS HONORED

Successful Celebration of Memorial Day Yesterday

CONG. HASKINN SPOKE

Large Crowd Saw Line of Soldiers and Escort Went Its Way to Cemetery Where Graves Were Decorated—Banquet to Veterans.

The weather man let go his wintry grasp just enough to allow for a passably comfortable day yesterday and the memorial exercises held under the auspices of R. B. Randall Post, No. 56, G. A. R. and Camp Lawson, United Spanish War Veterans, were most successfully carried out. Not for several years has so large a crowd of people lined the streets to witness the parade as we saw yesterday.

Not being able to have the Montpelier band in the morning the parade did not form until 1:20 o'clock in the afternoon. Under the direction of marshal, Dr. Joe Jackson, and aid, C. M. Willey, the parade was formed at Depot square and proceeded from there to Elmwood cemetery. After the decorating of the graves by the veterans of Randall Post and of Camp Lawson, and the salute to the dead had been given the return march was made to the city building where the address of the day was given by Congressman Kittridge Haskins.

The different organizations in the parade were well represented and were formed in the following order, led by the marshals: Chief of Police David Faulkner and twelve patrolmen and special police, members of fire department; Montpelier Military band; St. Aldemar Commandery, Knights Templar, S. S. Love, eminent commander; Uniform Rank, Knights of Pythias, Charles Bergeron, captain; Texas with flowers; G. A. R. veterans, 31 in line, Emory I. Smith, commander; United Spanish American War veterans, 20 in line, Capt. E. J. Badger in charge; backs carrying the speaker and Mayor, John Robins, board of aldermen and feeble veteran.

The exercises in the hall were very good and were attended by an audience that well filled the auditorium. The stage was prettily decorated with flags and potted plants. Seated on the stage were those who took part in the programme. The order of exercises previous to the address was as follows: Selection by the quartette of the Congregational church, composed of L. G. Griffiths, Mrs. B. W. Braley, Miss Maude E. Harris and William Robertson; reading of the general orders by Adjutant L. H. Thurston; salutes to the dead by Commander E. I. Smith and post; selection by the quartette; tribute to the unknown dead by A. J. Baldwin; reading of President Lincoln's Gettysburg address by Jerome K. Berry of Goddard; selection by quartette; prayer by the Rev. C. E. Freeman; singing of "America," address by Congressman Kittridge Haskins.

Congressman Haskins' Speech. Col. Haskins in his address took up nearly two hours, giving an able discourse that was followed with much interest by his hearers. He said in part: "On this, Memorial day, here as well as in many of the states of the Union the great mass of people turn aside to the shrine of the nation's dead and pay honor to their sacred names. As the people gather and the procession winds its way to the cemetery, and the wreaths of flowers of May are commingled upon the graves of the heroes, some people may ask the question, Why this custom? In answering we may say that the G. A. R. is a body composed of the honorably discharged soldiers and sailors who fought in the great rebellion that stirred the world and whose object was of the greatest importance to humanity.

"In 1867 the 30th day of May was set apart as a day in which to commemorate the memory of those who fell in this strife. Gen. John A. Logan, the first commander of the G. A. R., asked that the graves of the dead comrades be kept green and that the memory of their death on the battle fields, in hospitals and in the prison pens, and every day since the close of the war the great roll of our patriotic dead has been swelling. Memorial halls, bronze monuments and beautiful cemeteries that have been constructed are all fitting tributes to keep green the memory of the dead. We should honor the dead soldiers so that the motive for which they fought shall be remembered to the end of time."

The speaker said that the rebellion has been erroneously called by many public speakers and by writers as being a war between the north and the south. Such a statement, he said, is grossly misleading and historically untrue. The north did not make war; it ever remained true to the articles of the constitution. The federal union accepted war and fired the first gun on Fort Sumter, defying the laws of the Union. He declared it was no sectional war, but a war between that southern seceding against the national government, testing whether the power or sovereignty of the nation was greater than that of the states. This question he declared had been discussed for years and was at the bottom of the cause of the Civil War, and was settled by the war.

It was to establish a perfect form of government and an indissoluble union of states that the patriots went into the battle and preserved for the nation a government of the people, by the people and for the people. He vigorously upheld the United States in the war with Spain and the work it was now doing to enlighten and educate the Philippine Islanders. This country has a wonderful life, he said, and is now one of the foremost

VETERANS BANQUETED.

Large Number Gathered for the Annual Feast by Ladies of the G. A. R.

On account of the parade not being until afternoon the annual dinner given to the veterans by the Ladies of the G. A. R., was the first thing on the day's programme. The dinner was served at 11:30 o'clock in the vestry of the Congregational church. The ladies served an excellent dinner to a large number of G. A. R. and Spanish War veterans and invited guests.

Following the dinner an enjoyable hour was spent listening to speeches from different ones called on by Commander E. L. Smith, Congressman Haskins who was first to be called upon. He said that he was glad of the opportunity to meet the comrades of Barre and also other citizens as he had had use for them in the past and might want more of them in the future, considering that they had a number here, who, he said, was after his old shoes, but failed to get them last year, though possibly he may sometime. He spoke at considerable length in regard to the work that is being done in pensioning old soldiers and attributed the trouble that is causing many times in getting a pension to faults in the applications and affidavits sent into the pension department.

Others who were called upon and responded in an interesting manner were Dr. J. Henry Jackson, Mrs. Hannah Bateholder, who spoke in behalf of the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Rev. Henry Crocker, a comrade who is visiting in the city and preaching at the Baptist church, W. A. Boyce, the Rev. E. O. Thayer, the Rev. C. E. Freeman, Commander L. H. Thurston, the Rev. F. A. Poole and Capt. E. J. Badger of the Spanish American War veterans.

With the members of the local council there were more than 250 crowded into the hall during the degree work. State Deputy Frank O'Connell of Brattleboro conferred the degree assisted by District Deputy Dr. Duffy of Keene and the degree teams of both Vermont and New Hampshire. Three hundred Knights sat down to the five long tables arranged in the hall before the hall and were served an excellent repast, consisting of cold meats, salads, mashed potatoes, rolls, coffee, cake and ice cream. The tables were laid in a very attractive manner and the banquet was thoroughly enjoyed by the large crowd that gathered for the banquet was J. B. Sanguinetti.

When the cigars had been passed an enjoyable hour was spent in listening to songs and stories told by different ones called upon by Dr. J. E. McSweeney as toastmaster. Those who responded with verses were Dr. Duffy of Keene, N. H., Dr. Frank O'Connell of Brattleboro, who also sang a song, E. Gray, F. E. McCarthy, and Dr. P. S. Duffy of Barre, M. D. McMahon of Burlington, Mr. Galvin of Brattleboro, Mr. Healy of St. Johnsbury, John O'Leary of Burlington, D. T. Donnelly of Montpelier, and Ed.
