

THREE SHOTS AND ALL HIT

Maine Man Killed His Wife, Injured His Brother

AND THEN SHOT HIMSELF

Jesse Searles Was Jealous When He Found His Wife Walking in the Woods With His Brother Edward, and Fled on Them.

Farmington, Me., July 15.—Jesse Searles, a farmer, about 25 years of age, shot and killed his wife and also shot his brother, Edward Searles, when he found the two strolling together in the woods yesterday, a short distance from the village of North Chesterfield, where they lived.

Returning to the village, Searles went to the house of a physician and directed him to the scene of the tragedy, after which he walked up the road for a short distance and then shot himself in the head. He is not expected to recover. Edward Searles has a bullet wound through the jaw. His condition is serious but it is thought that the wound will not prove fatal.

Jealousy is ascribed as the probable reason for the shooting. Since last winter Jesse Searles and his wife have lived apart, but both remained in the village, being employed on different farms. Edward Searles was also employed in the town. The family came to North Chesterfield from Rangely about two years ago. In addition to working as farm hands, both the brothers had served occasionally as guides for sportsmen in the Rangely region and they were well known throughout that district.

The shooting occurred about 5 o'clock in the afternoon. It is supposed that Jesse Searles followed his wife and brother to the woods and that a quarrel took place there. Searles was armed with a .32-caliber revolver. He fired apparently only two shots in his victims, but his marksmanship was excellent, one shot piercing his wife's brain and killed her instantly, probably, while the other struck Edward at one side of his jaw, lodging on his other side.

When Searles appeared at the house of the physician, about a mile from the scene of the shooting, he still carried the revolver and was apparently greatly excited. He was not at first very coherent but made the physician understand that his services were needed for some injured persons.

Following the man's hastily given directions, the physician went to the woods and found the body of Mrs. Searles, who was lying on her back, unconscious and covered with blood from a wound in the face. The injured man was removed to the house of friends not far away and his injury attended to by the physician. Jesse Searles after notifying the doctor, went to a part of the town called "Sib Village," a settlement of a few houses, and there shot himself in the head with the revolver which he had used in his attack upon his wife and brother.

Coroner Fred P. Adams of Farmington, who went to North Chesterfield last night, said that Jesse Searles was apparently in a dazed condition, but was unconscious so that no statement could be obtained from him, and the injury of Edward Searles made it impossible for him to talk.

People of the village say that both the Searles brothers and Mrs. Searles had borne good reputations.

MURDER IN BOSTON.

Livery Man Killed When He Wouldn't Let Out a Team.

Boston, July 15.—Jeremiah Crowley, aged 30 years, married and living at 23 Wapping street, Charlestown, was murdered yesterday at the stable of Dennis O'Connell, 49 North Margin street, where he was employed, by an enraged Italian, who stabbed him in the groin because he was refused a team.

Joseph Maconi, aged 32, of 48 Battery street, when the police have under arrest charged with murder, ran out of the stable after stabbing Crowley, and waving a dagger, fled down Margin street. He was followed by an angry mob, one of whom, John Doherty, closed with Maconi. The dagger was dropped and a fist fight followed. Doherty finally overcame the Italian, but was soon forced to defend himself and the Italian from the mob, who threatened lynching.

The trouble arose over an order but today put into effect, and which Crowley was carrying out, that no one should be allowed to take a team out of the stable belonging to boarders, without an order from the owner. Maconi came to the stable about noon and asked for a team belonging Louis Tammario. He had no written order and was refused the team by Crowley. He left the stable in an angry mood and immediately returned through another door, and rushing upon Crowley plunged a dagger into his groin.

Crowley was taken to the relief station, where he died two hours later.

A SUNDAY MURDER.

William Hall of Hornell, N. Y., Shot at Brewers' Picnic.

Elmira, N. Y., July 15.—William Hall of Hornell was murdered about ten miles from the P. S. and N. Junction last evening by Italians. Several arrests have been made. The murdered man was a foreman of machinists for the Erie railroad. He was attending a picnic of Hornell brewers at Hornell Junction. A number of Italians visited the ground and were ordered off. One of them shot Hall three times. He died in half an hour. Timely arrival of the sheriff of Allegheny county prevented a lynching. Five Italians are in custody.

ATTEMPT TO KILL PRES. FALLIERES

Leon Maillé, Who Is Said to be Suffering from the Mania of Persecution, Fired Two Shots, Neither of Which Hit His Mark.

Paris, July 15.—The national fête yesterday was marred by an attempt on the life of President Fallières by Leon Maillé, a naval reservist of Havre, who, it is believed, is suffering from the mania of persecution. Maillé fired two shots at the President but did not hit him. He was at once placed under arrest. An account of the activity of the anti-militarists, who tried to organize a demonstration against the army throughout France today, exceptional precautions were taken to safeguard the President. The attempt on his life occurred on Avenue des Champs Elysees, where the President was returning to the palace from Long Champs, where he had reviewed the garrison of Paris in the presence of 250,000 enthusiastic people, Premier Clemenceau and M. Lanes, the President's secretary, were with the President in the limousine, which was escorted by a squadron of cuirassiers. The carriage had safely emerged from the Bois de Boulogne, and the president was descending the broad Champs Elysees amid the acclamations of the crowds thronging the sidewalks, who were shouting "Vive Fallières! Vive L'Armée!"

As by a miracle, no one was hit. President Fallières was cool and collected when the cortege stopped. The diplomat before a magistrate, from the curb at the corner of Lesseur street, fired two shots point blank at the president in quick succession.

As by a miracle, no one was hit. President Fallières was cool and collected when the cortege stopped. The diplomat before a magistrate, from the curb at the corner of Lesseur street, fired two shots point blank at the president in quick succession.

"The revelations I have are so grave and serious that I will only make them known to the president," said the chief of state. It is a matter between the government and me. I am the victim of many villainies." Some of the witnesses of the shooting said that Maillé fired in the air. It is believed that the man participated in the shooting, but that his mind had been unhinged by fancied grievances. It is believed also, that he aided in the revolutionary agitation of the general federation of labor and the anti-militarists. There is no reason to suppose a plot as Maillé only arrived here from Rouen last night.

AMERICANS HAVE CONFIDENCE.

That Some Good Will Result at the Hague Conference.

The Hague, July 15.—Notwithstanding the pessimistic views held in some quarters concerning the peace conference and the uncertainty of the American delegation feel confident that some good result will be reached from the exchanges of opinion among the plenipotentiaries of the countries represented.

It now appears that all the American propositions will be satisfactorily accepted. The question of immunity of private property at sea, although bitterly opposed, will have a considerable majority in the vote this week, and this will be a further step toward the adoption of this principle in another conference. The rules regarding the bombardment of undefended towns, villages, etc., originally presented by America, will be substantially adopted, with the approval of the proposal drawn up by the different views on this subject. The American suggestion regarding the collection of pecuniary reparations on debts with the use of force will be supported by all the great powers, and the proposals concerning the establishment of a permanent court of arbitration and the prohibition of the use of unnecessarily cruel bullets have been favorably received.

Finally in a plenary sitting the United States will present a plan for the permanency of the conference as an institution, the holding of periodic meetings, and the organization of a program. The Dutch peace league is organizing an imposing demonstration on the occasion of the inauguration of Andrew Carnegie's palace of peace. The program will include an allegorical procession representing all the peoples of the world passing before the altar of peace and renouncing their enemies. About 1,500 persons will take part in the procession, and it is expected that 25,000 spectators will be present.

FOR PURE MAPLE SUGAR.

Food Inspectors Particular About Proper Labels.

Washington, July 15.—The proper label for cane and maple sugars is explained in the decision by the board of food and drug inspection. Under the pure food law the terms "maple sugar" and "maple syrup" may only be used on the label as part of the name when these substances are present in substantial quantities as ingredients. They should not appear on the label as part of the name when only a small quantity of these substances is used to give a maple flavor to the product. A cane syrup containing only enough of maple syrup or maple sugar to give a maple flavor is properly labeled as "cane syrup, maple flavor," or "cane syrup flavored with maple."

WAGON FELL ON OCCUPANTS

A Peculiar Accident at Montpelier Yesterday

DRIVER DRAGGED BY HORSE

Mrs. F. A. Standish and Dexter Grover Were Driving and Met Automobile and Stage, Latter Having Led Horse Which Was Frightened.

From the unusual tangle of human beings, horses, wagon and automobiles on lower State street in Montpelier Saturday afternoon, it then appeared that the carriage had safely emerged from the Bois de Boulogne, and the president was descending the broad Champs Elysees amid the acclamations of the crowds thronging the sidewalks, who were shouting "Vive Fallières! Vive L'Armée!"

Mrs. Standish and Mr. Grover were driving a colt belonging to John H. Senner when the Waterbury stage, with a led horse on behind, and the automobile of Lawson C. Cummings came along. The three vehicles met just below the cemetery. The led horse, which is said to be the property of John O'Brien of Waterbury was frightened at the automobile, and the man leading the animal got off to better control him. When he stepped off, the horse, frightened still more, whirled around and backed into the team driven by Mr. Grover and Mrs. Standish.

The collision caused the carriage of the latter to be upset. The vehicle went completely over, pinning both the occupants underneath. Mrs. F. A. Standish, who was sitting in the front seat, was thrown, which released the box from the wheels. The frightened horse started to run, and Mr. Grover, caught by one foot, was dragged along the road for considerable distance until released by a chance circumstance. The stage people drove along their way, and the automobile, in the matter, apparently considering their part of the incident closed.

MADE DOUBLE SURE THAT HE WOULD DIE

Freeman M. Crosby, Proprietor of School Street Restaurant in Boston Ended His Life Yesterday.

Hyannis, Mass., July 15.—The body of Freeman M. Crosby, the well known proprietor of restaurant on School street, Boston, and a sumner resident of the village of Waterbury, was found yesterday in Lake Wauquoquet, while his boat was anchored near the spot.

The body which was found lying on the sandy bottom of the lake, was fully dressed with the exception of the coat, which had been rolled up and placed in the bottom of the boat. Beside the coat were a cup and empty bottle. Whether or not the bottle contained poison is a question that has not yet been determined.

That Freeman M. Crosby deliberately committed suicide was evidenced by the finding of a rope tied to the body, one end of which was fastened to the boat, which in turn was anchored, presumably that there should be no difficulty in finding the body.

State's Attorney Hill prosecuted them before Justice Meador of Walden and Woods pleaded guilty to furnishing liquor to George Rogers of Walden. A fine of $300 was imposed, which was paid by Mrs. J. COULDN'T SWIM AND DROWNED

John Clarihew Lost Life in Abandoned Quarry

WHILE HE WAS IN BATHING

Body Recovered in Fifteen Minutes From Bottom of Deep Pool. Had Recently Come From His Home in Canada.

One of those treacherous pools in the abandoned granite quarries claimed a victim yesterday afternoon, when John Clarihew, a young man who couldn't swim, lost his life. The drowning occurred in the old Stillman White quarry, near the E. L. Smith & Co quarry. The body was recovered within a quarter of an hour.

With several boys, young Clarihew went in bathing in the pool, among the number being John Webster, Archie McDonald and two Turney boys, Ernest and Emory. Knowing that Clarihew couldn't swim his companions warned him that it wasn't safe to go into the deep pool. Not heeding the warning the young man went in and soon got beyond the depth of the surface after going down the first time.

They gave the alarm, and assistance soon arrived. The rescuers tried to dive for the body, but were unsuccessful in locating it. They then dragged the bottom and Norman McDonald located the body at the bottom of the pool, bringing it to the surface by means of a hook. These unused quarry holes are quite deep, and the water in some places reaches a depth of ten to thirty feet. The pools are caused by the collection of rain water and drainage.

The deceased was 20 years of age and was living with the sister, Mrs. Herman Bulla, having come from his home in Canada about a year ago. His parents reside in Canada. The young man was employed as quarryman at the E. L. Smith & Co quarry. He was formerly in the employ of Milne, Boutwell and Varnum.

ELDERLY WOMAN WAS KNOCKED DOWN

Mrs. Betsy LaJoy of Hartford, Conn., Hurt in Burlington Last Night When Struck By a Team.

Burlington, July 15.—Mrs. Betsy LaJoy of Hartford, Conn., was the victim of a painful accident last evening, when she was knocked down by a span of horses from Joseph Agel's livery stable. Mrs. LaJoy with her sister and little niece had been out for a ride and in getting off the electric car in front of the City hall the party became separated. As Mrs. LaJoy with the little girl was hurrying across the street to join her sister, she was struck by the horses and knocked down breaking a finger of her left hand and spraining her right and wrenching her back. Fortunately the child was not hurt beyond a few bruises.

The case is a very pathetic one. Mrs. LaJoy was called to this city a few weeks ago by the sickness of her sister, Mrs. Edward Leroe, of 87 South Battery street. She had hoped to earn money for the return trip by washing, but as a result of this accident she will probably be unable to work for several weeks.

ANNUAL WAR DANCE BY THE RED MEN

No Scalp Taken at Caledonia Park Saturday Afternoon, But the Indians Had a Truly Good Day of It.

The Barre Red Men went to Caledonia park Saturday afternoon for their annual outing with their families. Altogether there were about 150 people gathered there. Some danced, some just picnicked, some played ball, and all enjoyed themselves. Early in the afternoon two ball teams were picked by their captains, Russell and Nicholson, but after three exciting innings the game, which promised so well, ended in a dispute. One very interesting feature of the game was the new departure from the old custom of having nine players; that number was not thought to be enough, so 10 men were chosen for each side.

The game was not resumed and the ball players scattered to the refreshment booth and to the dancing pavilion, where quadrilles, two steps, and waltzes were served by a three piece orchestra. Dancing, however, proved too tame for the men so two football teams were organized on the spot by Deane and Maczall, twenty minutes of exciting play followed, in which the kicking ability of several men was noticeable. Deane's team was too fast for the Indians who opposed them and the score ended (3 to 1) in favor of the former.

After this heated argument, the other games were pulled off; the girls race (12 years and under) 1st, Rosie Levine, 2nd, Minnie Ironsides, 3rd, Dorothy Wilkins. Then the boys under 12 were called out, their race resulted as follows: 1st, Harry Levine, 2nd, Alex. Ironsides, Jr., 3rd, Arthur Cole. The ladies picnic kick was participated in by a large number and the distances ranged from 300 up. Mrs. Murie won by about 10 feet. Mrs. Smith second, and Mrs. Milton third.

This ended the programme of sports and the happy picnickers, with their lunch boxes emptied, started for home. Much credit is due to the committee, A. J. Schneider, George Cornack, Ira Wright, A. W. Ross, and W. W. Russell, for the success of the outing, which was one of the most enjoyable they ever had.

BODY SUSPENDED FROM A LIVE WIRE

Ernest Miner, a St. Albans Electrician Who Was Thought at First to Be Dead is on Road to Recovery.

St. Albans, July 15.—Ernest Miner, employed as lineman for the Franklin County Telephone company, was nearly electrocuted Saturday afternoon, by coming in contact with a live wire, while working on a pole in front of the St. Albans house. When he started to come down he touched the live wire carrying the electric light current and fell across a cross-arm like a dead man. Chief of Police Mahoney saw the accident and telephoned the power house to shut off power, which was immediately done. A rope was then placed around the unfortunate man's body and he was lowered to the ground. He was taken to the hotel where four doctors gave him heroic treatment for 15 minutes, when the nearly dead man began to show signs of life. He was horribly burned as the wires carried a voltage of 2,400. The under side of his right arm was blackened and the flesh burned off to the bone about eight inches. His left shoulder is also burnt to the bone and his right leg near the knee. The physicians hold out hope that he will recover. Miner is unfortunate, having only just recovered from a severe shock by a live wire about a week ago. He was taken to the St. Albans hospital, where he will be confined for several weeks.

STREET BROIL LAST NIGHT

One Man Got a Cut Over One Eye

FOUR OTHERS ARRESTED

Encounter on Blackwell Street in Which "Beauty Marks" Were Freely Exchanged. One Man, an Italian, Needs Services of Doctor.

The police force were kept on the move Saturday evening and Sunday evening pulling in drunks, breaking up fights and arresting the participants. As a result of the round-up eight men were arraigned in the city court this morning, two of them on intoxication charges and the rest all charged with breach of the peace.

Between seven and eight o'clock last evening Chief Faulkner and Officer Gembel were called to Blackwell street by telephone to quell a fight there. When the officers arrived those who are said to have been the cause of the trouble had skipped, but the officers were able to find out their names and had warrants made out by the grand juror for their arrests. After over two hours search the officers finally located their men in a house on Second street and they arrested as the alleged leaders of the fight, Victor Stacy, (Thomas) Louis Stacy, and Alex. Blair. The officers also had a warrant for a fourth one, Fred Langevin, but they were not able to catch him until this morning. When arraigned this morning all four entered pleas of not guilty and their cases were continued until Thursday morning. Each one furnished bail of $50.

The four are said to have started a fight with some Italians on Blackwell street, and one Italian whose name has not yet been learned, was the cause of the blow of some implement, a wound on his head which required several stitches by a physician to close up. When Blair appeared in court this morning he had one eye badly blacked, and one side of Victor Stacy's face looked as though it had come in contact with a barbed wire fence. The officers found the house on Second street, where the men were hiding, surrounded by a crowd of Italians seeking vengeance.

Two other men, Harry Lawrence of Elmre and James Brooks of Berlin, were arraigned this morning by Chief Faulkner and Officer Gembel. Melvin who found them indulging in a fight between themselves. The two pleaded guilty to breach of the peace and were each fined $5 with costs of $7.00 which they said they could pay.

William Grant was arrested Saturday night by Officer Hamel for intoxication to which charge Wright said he was guilty and went to county jail for 20 days. Officer Gembel arrested Eugene Fournier Saturday night for intoxication. He pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $5 with costs of $5.00. Davis testified in regard to the case without possibly incriminating himself as he had been arrested in connection with the case; but the charge against him had been not pressed on account of lack of evidence. Grant and Wright were prosecuted the case and McKinnis was defended by Scott and Carver and E. A. Hoar.
