News was received in the city yesterday of the death at St. Johnsbury of Fred Baril, formerly of this city. He had been ill for some time with consumption.

Aleyn Smith, who counts 92 years himself, calls attention to a little article which he found from the Christian Herald, telling about the "year without a summer." That was 91 years ago, when Mr. Smith wasn't so spry as he is now. In the year 1816 frost was seen in New England every month. Ice formed half an inch thick in May; now fell to the depth of ten inches in Vermont, seven in Maine, three in the interior of New York and also in Massachusetts. In the month of June ice as thick as window glass formed in New England, New York and parts of Pennsylvania. Mr. Smith thinks it must be right, because the Christian Herald published the story.

Manager Hoban of the opera house has signed contracts to play the big city show of the Bennett-Moulton company for the entire week of August 12th. This company is the number one show, and will bring a 60-foot carload of special scenery, electrical effects and a very strong acting company, and an extra list of vaudeville features. The list of plays to be given during the week are as follows: "The Cowboy's Romance," "The Fatal Coin," "Faust," "The Governor's Wife," "When the Bell Tolls," "The Convict's Wedding" and the "Life Savers." This is the company that plays all the larger cities and Manager Hoban has been to a good deal of expense to get the attraction for that week and feels assured that his patrons will appreciate it. Popular prices will prevail, and a change of play and specialties will be made at each performance.
