METEOR SHOOK THE EARTH

Awoke Many From a Sound Sleep Sunday Morning

WHEN IT EXPLODED

The Earth Trembled and the Houses Were Shaken—The Heavens Were as Light as Day for a Few Seconds.

What appeared to be a meteor to those who saw it, passed across the heavens shortly after 3 o'clock yesterday morning, only to be followed in a very few seconds by an explosion that caused the earth to tremble and houses to shake. Many a sound sleeper in Barre was awakened by the shaking of the house and the report of the explosion, which sounded something like a thunder clap. The meteor lighted up the streets as brilliantly as in mid-day. Many have reported seeing it today, but no one could tell in which direction it went. The explosion, or its striking of the earth, as many believe it did, came so close on its appearance, dazed those who saw it, and those awakened from sleep did not know what had happened.

The house occupied by J. T. Cunick on West street was shaken to such an extent it cracked an iron sink in the kitchen. Not only was the flash seen in Barre, but Plainfield people called up Barre to know what it was. It was also seen and felt in Brookfield, Marshfield and other surrounding towns.

In Montpelier the sleeping inhabitants were awakened by an explosion which shook houses, rattled windows and in some instances knocked brick-a-brac and pictures from the walls. The explosion was preceded ten seconds by a brilliant flash of light that illuminated the heavens in a northwesterly direction. Many citizens of that city dressed and went out on the street, thinking a locomotive boiler had exploded, or that burglars were attempting to wreck a bank. People who were awakened at the time say the flash resembled lightning, but as the heavens were clear it could not be attributed to that cause.

Was Seen in Middlebury.

Middlebury, Aug. 19.—The people of this and surrounding towns for a radius of 15 or 20 miles were startled and amazed by a terrific and mysterious explosion at 3:07 o'clock yesterday morning. Houses were shaken perceptibly and their occupants thoroughly alarmed. Extensive inquiry by telephone failed to reveal the landing spot of any meteor or to offer any explanation to the phenomenon.

Dr. Briggs of Bristol was returning from a visit to a patient some miles from the village, when the explosion came. He says that it was preceded by a blinding flash and that his horse was so frightened he stopped, trembling in his tracks.

The operator at the telephone exchange heard the report and the switchboard indicated trouble between Middlebury and Bristol.

INTERRUPTED POKER GAMES.

Liquor as Well as Chips Seized in Rutland Raid.

Rutland, Aug. 19.—The fifth liquor raid made in this city in about a week's time occurred here about one o'clock Sunday morning, when Sheriff E. C. Fish of West Rutland with six deputies raided a grocery store in the heart of the city conducted by E. J. Welch and found a large amount of whiskey, which they seized, and put Welch under arrest.

When the officers first entered the place they found twelve men playing poker at two tables. They seized the tables and other paraphernalia and took the names of those playing poker, although they will probably not be prosecuted.

Welch will be given a hearing today and will be tried on two charges, selling liquor illegally and maintaining a poker resort. He will be prosecuted by State's Attorney Robert A. Lawrence, who is issued the search warrant.

BROKERS' OFFICES FIRST.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Ten million dollars for defense is the goal towards which the striking telegraphers started today. This fund, according to President Small, is to be largely contributed by business men of the country—not those allied with big corporations—but small dealers. A like fund is to be raised by the trades unionists of Europe, and the whole is to be applied to workmen throughout the world, regardless of occupation. High finance is to be fought with its weapons. Small's corporation, when this huge fund is established, will do away with dunes and charity as a basis of a means of supporting labor unionists. The extension of the union among brokers' offices is the first plan for this week. The employers will be given 48 hours for consideration, and it is likely that the brokers will sign union contracts and that no general strike against them will be necessary.

Y., Aug. 19.—President Roosevelt left here this morning on the Mayflower for Provincetown, Mass., where he will deliver an address tomorrow at the laying of the corner stone of the Bismarck monument. CLOSE OF OLD HOME WEEK IN CHELSEA

Interesting Exercises Fill Out The Week and Makes It One of Most Satisfactory Ever Held.

Chester, Aug. 19.—Thursday the third day of the old home week celebration the towns people and visitors assembled in the pine grove on the Glinore farm, about one-half mile south of the village, and enjoyed an old fashioned picnic from 10 o'clock a. m. till 2 o'clock p. m., and at three o'clock p. m. the crowd had mobilized to Mattoon's park to witness the ball game between the Williamstons and Chelsea teams. This game like the one on the previous day was a one-sided game in which the visitors, who had been in the game the whole season won an easy victory over the home team.

In the evening a most enjoyable promenade and social hop was held at the town hall. Miss Roberts of Barre furnished the music on her graphophone.

Friday at 2 o'clock an assemblage of fully five hundred people had gathered on the north common to listen to the address of the Rev. Franklin S. Hatch of Brookline, Mass. Mr. Hatch's address was a marvelous production of thought from start to finish and made every person present feel glad that he was or had been a resident of Chelsea, or that he ought to be. He urged the continuance of these old home week gatherings as it would keep up a lively interest in those who had gone away in their old home town and that as a result, if those who remained here wished for improvements in the old home town and put their own shoulder to the wheel, that the old boys and girls who come back occasionally, would back up any project for improvement with substantial aid. Among those who followed Mr. Hatch with complimentary speeches was C. I. Hood of Lowell, Mass.; Ephraim Hatch of San Jose, Cal., who came 3,000 miles to be here upon this occasion; Marsellus Gould of Penacook, N. H.; Rev. William Roberts of Moretown, Rev. A. J. Eastman of Stratford and Marshall D. Gardner of Brookline, N. Y. Hon. Hale K. Darling in his always pleasing manner presided as chairman and called upon the Rev. H. J. Wysocki to open the exercises of the afternoon with prayer and following Mr. Hood's speech Chairman Darling read an interesting letter from William Hebard of San Luis Obispo, Cal., expressing his regret at his inability to be present.

At 6 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Gridley entertainers were greeted by a packed house, every seat being taken and many had to stand. The receipts for the evening was about $150.

During the forenoon Saturday, several family reunions were held and at two o'clock came the automobile parade and picnic. As was expected, those who competed for prizes were beautifully trimmed and decorated and made indeed a gorgeous spectacle. The prizes were awarded as follows: $10 to Dr. G. J. Hilmer of New York city, large touring car trimmed with red and green, with children for occupants, and as many as in white, second, $5 to Charles R. Corwin of Summerville, Mass., large touring car, trimmed with green and pink; third, $4 to Earl E. Parker of Barre city, run-about, trimmed with yellow and green; fourth, $5 to Fred A. Ordway of Chelsea, fifth, $3 to Richard George of Boston, run-about, trimmed with flags and bunting, and Mr. Mr. George decided to represent Uncle Sam. The judges were Sanford H. Goss of Chelsea, Mr. and Mrs. Bart Davis of East Barre, John H. Sprague of Brookfield and Mrs. Helen Mattoon of Chelsea.

At 4 o'clock the crowd had assembled again at Mattoon's park to witness the final sport of the celebration, a ball game between the East Randolph team and the home team. The score stood at the end of the game 10 to 11 in favor of Chelsea.

In addition to the printed program, an impromptu reception and social was held at the opera house Saturday evening in honor of some of the former residents who did not arrive in season for the opening reception, this function was largely attended and all had good time. The old home week celebration closed on Sunday night with services at the two churches conducted by former preachers. At the Methodist Rev. W. W. Allen of Moretown presided, and in the night in the morning and Rev. William Roberts of Moretown in the evening and at the Congregational Rev. H. J. Wysocki presided and all of these Rev. gentlemen gave to the parishioners most excellent discourses, thus the fourth old home week celebration in Chelsea has become a reality of the past, and as such history it is conceded by all to have been the most largely attended by former residents and the most successful in every way of any of the old home week celebrations, and the old home comers have expressed a desire to celebrate the event again in two years.

Addie and Milne's Employees Have a Most Enjoyable Outing.

The employees of Messrs. Addie and Milne with their families and friends had a most enjoyable picnic on Saturday last upon grounds left for that purpose by Barclay Scott. The spot is a ideal one, offering facilities either for mere relaxation or for the pursuit of recreations more athletic. Not the least important of these was "throwing the heavy hammer," James Milne with that weapon performing some hair-raising feats. Fortunately for unfortunately the handle broke thus ensuring for Barclay Scott the premier position.

In the ladies race Mrs. Duncan distinguished herself by coming in first with Mrs. Anderson and Mrs. Wilson second and third respectively. Considerable interest was exhibited with regard to the half-mile race as the prizes in this event were considered unique in their way. The first being held as conducive to the strenuous life and the second as suggestive of the greatest apostle. The fortunate individual was Jim Cruickshank as first with Harry Fleck a good second.

Many other games and contests were entered into by the company with great zest and good humor, the most novel being one entitled "pointing a moral, or adorning a tail." This was taken part in by every lady on the grounds. The more successful of the contestants being Mrs. Milne, Mrs. Flurry and Mrs. Duncan.
