One of the largest real estate deals that has been consummated in this locality for several years was made the first of the week when Charles E. Davis, who lives just over the line in Vershire sold a tract of seven hundred acres of land which included his home farm to Frank M. Bryan and Alexander Sheppard of Montpelier. The sale was made through the D. A. Perry real estate agency of Barre.

A new scare, not a scare crow but a scare deer, is seen in this section, near one of the farm gardens. A farmer has a platform built about three feet high, on top of which is a dummy seated in a chair with an umbrella spread over his head, taking a peaceful smoke. They say that they have not seen any deer around their gardens this season, while they have seen them every previous year on all parts of the farm. Years before it had been hard to grow anything.

Rev. Dr. George F. Hall, 2140 North Hermitage avenue, is to be the divine who will guide forward on the festive rollers to fasten the matrimonial knot in due and legal style. The bride will be Miss Ida Swanson and the groom will be John Pitt. The couple met two months ago while skating at the roller rink, their courtship was carried forward with skates upon their feet, and they have now determined that their wedding shall be a roller skating affair.

"Certainly, I will officiate," said Dr. Hall last night, "and certainly I will wear roller skates."

"If a couple desire to get married on roller skates I see no reason why a minister should not meet their wishes. There is nothing in the Bible which forbids marrying people on roller skates, although I grant that this kind of a wedding is unique. It is the first time that I will have performed the marriage ceremony while on rollers."

Dr. Hall is anticipating no difficulty in standing up on the skates, in view of the fact that he won a roller skating tournament while a student at Drake university.
