

Myers' Make of Gloves For Women!

This name stands for forty years of sustained improvement in the making of better Gloves. Real Glove worth is dependent upon several elements, integrity of the manufacturer and dealer being not the least important. From the selection of the leather stock through each process to the showing of them over the counter, THE BEST possible is the Myers' watchword. The quality, fit, style reputation of Louis Myers & Son is too firmly established for them to produce other than real Glove worth if they would.

Leather has advanced on nearly every Glove we carry. If it has been necessary to advance the price rather than cheapen the quality, we have done so. We are frank to tell you and believe you'll appreciate this when so many are working in cheaper grades to take the place of the old qualities at advanced prices. Our standard of quality must be maintained. OUR FALL LINE IS READY FOR INSPECTION.

Quaker RANGES

Heats Water Quickly
Uses Less Coal

Gentlemen—Have used the Quaker Range two years with water connections. It heats water quickly and bakes thoroughly, and uses any size coal. Uses less coal and gives more heat than any range I have used. Can recommend the Quaker Range and you can use my recommendation at any time.

"The Honeymooners," Geo. M. Cohan's musical farce, which has enjoyed a remarkable all-summer run in New York, will be one of the most important theatrical events of the coming season in this city. "The Honeymooners" is a musical play in three acts, and is written in Mr. Cohan's best style. The action is lively, the dialogue witty and the music tuneful and catchy. It will be presented here by a company of fifty people. The cast is composed of many well known people while the chorus is said to be up to the usual Cohan standard, which means that they can sing and dance. At the opera house tonight.

All special scenery is carried for the production throughout.

NORWICH UNIVERSITY.
J. M. Ryan, class of '95, who is assistant engineer on the Boston elevated railway, visited in town and at the university last week.

Fred C. Davis, class of '95, who has been ill since the first of June with typhoid fever and complications, is so far recovered that he will soon return to his work with the New York Barge Canal company of Albany, N. Y. Mr. Davis' address will be Waterford, N. Y.

Every available hour for the past two weeks has been given to the military department for extra drills, the purpose being to develop the corps to as nearly a perfect condition as possible before going to White River Junction, October 1, 2 and 3, where they appear as one of the attractions of the state fair.

All the men of the freshman class who reported for duty at the opening of the term are now in uniform. During the last few days several new arrivals have increased the number of the entering class to 70 men, the largest since the university was moved to Northfield in 1866. The corps as a whole numbers 104 men.

The first issue of The Revue for the year will be in the hands of the printer today, and ready for distribution the 15th. The editors and management have handled the work most aggressively, and there is every indication that the university will be more credibly represented through this official organ the coming year than ever before.

Lieutenant F. H. Burr, second Lieutenant Third Infantry, United States army, spent a few hours at the university Wednesday, September 25. Lieutenant Burr is a Bellows Falls boy, and was graduated from Norwich in 1902. Soon after graduation he was appointed second lieutenant in the army, successfully passing the examinations. He was assigned at once to the Third Infantry, then stationed in Tennessee. Until recently he has been in Alaska, but is now stationed at Fort Leavenworth, Seattle, Washington.

RANDOLPH.
Mrs. Dennis Green is seriously ill at her home on Randolph avenue.

Miss Hazel Fraser, who has been the guest of Mrs. L. C. Drew for several days, returned to her home in Woodstock on Monday.

Mrs. Alda Slack, the nurse, who has had the care of Deacon Howard, is ill and went to the sanatorium for rest and treatment on Sunday.

The Grange meeting on Saturday evening was postponed on account of the severe rain, and the programme arranged for that time will be given later, in connection with the one arranged for the next meeting.

There was a pleasant little "Flinch" party on Randolph avenue Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. S. C. Clark, in honor of Mrs. Fullam, who is soon to leave town. Light refreshments were served, and a good time reported.

Mrs. Anna Adams, who has suffered from tubercular disease for a long time, died at Randolph sanatorium Friday and the funeral services are Monday, from the home of Mrs. Hastings, where she had rooms. Mrs. Adams was a sister of Mr. T. J. Adams, and came here from Royalton several years ago, to make this her home, and her patience during her illness, as well as her exemplary life have won the respect of all with whom she came in contact.

Randolph is to have a rare treat in the future lecture course entertainments, the first of which occurs on Thursday evening, October 3d. The course consists of four entertainments, as follows: Madam Josephine Jacoly, the eminent contralto of the Conried Metropolitan Grand Opera company, assisted by other noted artists. Owing to her previous engagement, Madam Jacoly limits her New England tour to six concerts, and the people of Randolph are fortunate in securing her. October 12, the Commonwealth Ladies' orchestra of 12 pieces, assisted by Miss Evangeline Heitz, soprano. November 7, a lecture by Judge George D. Alden, the brilliant orator, and December 2 the Honolulu students from the Hawaiian Islands, who appeared last season in New York, Philadelphia and Boston with great success. These entertainments are all to be given in Chandler Music Hall, so recently presented by Col. Albert Chandler to Bethany church.
