GOOD WORK

Done Daily in Barre—Many Citizens Tell of It.

Nearly every reader has heard of Doan's Kidney Pills. Their good work in Barre still continues, and our citizens are constantly adding endorsement by public testimony. No better proof of merit can be had than the experience of friends and neighbors. Read this case:

Mrs. Eliza Mitchell, formerly of 42 Maple Ave., says: "For some time I was annoyed with kidney complaint. There was trouble with the kidney secretions which were irregular and too frequent especially at night when my rest was greatly disturbed. I also had terrible pains just over my hips and these would sometimes extend up through my shoulders. I also had dizzy spells and every cold I caught made me suffer more acutely. My son had used Doan's Kidney Pills with great benefit so I decided to try them. I got a box at E. A. Brown's drug store and had taken out a few doses when I experienced relief, and the use of two boxes improved my condition in every way. The pain in my back lessened, and the secretions were regulated."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

MONTPELIER

The cows belonging to H. D. Hopkins and F. H. Tracy were tested on Tuesday evening and were found to be free from tuberculosis. These cows supply the private families of the owners, those that belong to Mr. Tracy being at the jail.

The board of pension examiners held a meeting in their rooms in the federal building yesterday and examined Oliver Garrow of Waterbury and Edward Atkins of Moretown for increases of pensions. The full board was present. Drs. M. D. Warren of Cabot, J. W. Jackson of Barre and P. E. Steel of Montpelier.

Frank Hutchinson is shipping hay to Massachusetts markets, and is paying $13 a ton delivered on the cars in Montpelier. He has just loaded 80 tons from the Aldrich farm on the Barre road. Mr. Hutchinson finds some of the farmers are holding out for higher prices, but he does not think they will get them, and that when the hay crop begins to move the price will drop. Mr. Hutchinson is now buying hay in Worcester.

Dr. E. A. Bishop left yesterday for Boston, where he will attend the annual meeting of the Principals' association of Methodist ministers. Dr. Bishop is president of the association. The meeting will be held today in the trustees' room of Boston university. In the association are seven present from New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware and New York. They will discuss subjects connected with the offices which they hold in connection with the several preparatory schools.

The power house which the Whitcomb Brothers are erecting for their steam laundry is being rushed along as fast as possible, and the machinery will be installed in a short time. The house is of brick and is attached to the rear of the present building. An engine will be installed, the steam being furnished by the large boiler which now gives the steam used in the laundry. A small dynamo will be connected with the engine and this will be used for light and power and for the entire laundry plant. It is expected this will prove an economical change, as the added cost of fuel will be small, and the power and light will be at a very low cost.

The work on the Brown's Mills crossing is completed and the traffic over the highway in that district now goes through the underpass. This is one of the changes which has been brought about under the new law through the action of the board of railroad commissioners. It will be fully appreciated by the people of Berlin because for years they have traveled over a crossing that was full of danger, travelers by team being unable to bear an approaching train coming through ledges, which hide the view on the approach to the crossing. The bridge near the underpass has been raised two feet, so that it improves the condition for the railroad company.

The marriage of Miss Elvira B. Lottelle of this city to Jeremiah W. Willett of Burlington was celebrated yesterday morning at eight o'clock by Rev. Father Comi at St. Augustine's church. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Rose Lottelle, and the groom by Edward Flynn of Burlington. Miss Florence Cashen presided at the organ. After the ceremony a nuptial mass was celebrated and a breakfast served. They will take a brief trip and will reside in Burlington. Mrs. Willett was employed several months ago by Miss Mary Ann as dressmaker, and has been similarly employed in Burlington for the past two years. Her home is at 20 Franklin street, this city. Mr. Willett is a printer employed in a Burlington company, and will take his place there.

A Poultry Food of Genuine Merit.

The manufacturer of any stock food must be attentive to all the details of its preparation, being certain that only first-class materials enter into its composition. It is claimed for "Page's Perfected Poultry Food" that there doesn't enter into its composition a single particle of the ordinary meat meal which is the basis for so many poultry foods. The nearest approach to it is what is known as tallow scraps or cracklings, and every grandmother who has lived on the farm and taken care of chickens knows that there is nothing better to make hens lay than tallow scraps, and "Page's Perfected Poultry Food" contains a considerable percentage of this ingredient.

Anyone sending his address on a postal card to C. S. Page, Hyde Park, Vt., and mentioning this paper, will receive by mail, free, postpaid, a sample package of "Page's Perfected Poultry Food."

BURLINGTON INVENTOR.

H. C. Loy, Telegraph Operator, Perfects Calling Apparatus of Value.

Burlington, Nov. 7.—Harry C. Loy, employed as operator in the local office of the Western Union Telegraph company, has invented a novel apparatus whereby an operator may call the man at the key in another office automatically. The invention is valuable primarily as a time saver, as the operator may set the machine going after notification is made and it will repeat the call, for a long time without further attention.

Mr. Loy used the frame of an old phonograph for the motive power. He cut away the cogs from several brass wheels for a aim to fasten to the phonograph cylinder. In the rim of these wheels he cut away spaces deep enough to insert a fibre which is non-conductor of the spaces corresponding to dots and dashes of the call desired, making and breaking the circuit automatically. When the apparatus is connected and set going it will register the call perfectly. An ingenious device is also attached that informs the operator at the other end which office is calling.

Mr. Loy has been employed in perfecting his invention for three months.

Changing Lines.

When Ethel's little teeth burst forth in cunning baby frowns, They looked, as ma and pa declared, Like lines of peatly oooooo

She grew to be a beautiful maid, And young men would enthrall About her wondrous matchless teeth An even line of oooooo

At sixty things were somewhat changed; She oftentimes tried to please, By smiling cheerily, but then Her mouth seemed full of oooooo

At length there came a moment when She sallied forth and bonnet wheels for a aim to fasten to the phonograph cylinder. In the rim of these wheels he cut away spaces deep enough to insert a fibre which is non-conductor of the spaces corresponding to dots and dashes of the call desired, making and breaking the circuit automatically. When the apparatus is connected and set going it will register the call perfectly. An ingenious device is also attached that informs the operator at the other end which office is calling.

Mr. Loy has been employed in perfecting his invention for three months.
